Season and Campers Tickets on sale at the bank, Riley Shelton, Secretary.

Tuesday morning Chas. Wesely and R. E. Peery, went up to the Crown mines, near Gates.

The fall crop has about all been threshed over in the Albany prairie. Scio is fully one week later.

Dean Morris has cut from two acres, six tons of oat hay, which is said to be the best yield in this locality.

The C & E train was loaded with Albany people last Friday morning, bound for points above Detroit for an outing.

New arrivals this week at Wesely's Grocery. Egg noodles, Wheat Berries, and Quaker Corn Flakes. Try them; they are fine.

On Wednesday last, a daughter was born to Mrs. Mike Kelley. Dr. Prill attended the case and reports mother and child doing well.

Frank Shores and his mother-in-law Mrs. Vsetecka, started for their old home in Iowa on a visit, last Saturday. Mr. Shores will return about Sept. 20th.

Mrs. Adam Miller and son, Carl, of Mountain Home, Idaho, are visiting relatives in Scio and vicinity. Mrs. Miller is a niece of N. Young of this city.

Threshermen on the Albany prairie report threshing some very good crops and that the general average of the yield of wheat is about 20 bushels per acre.

Mrs. J. R. Gill and Mrs. Cantrell, her sister, Mrs. Walter Bilyeu and Mrs. J. H. Holland and little son, returned from a short visit to Yaquina bay, Tuesday morning.

Commissioner Butler and his bridge crew is now erecting the Brownsville steel bridge, which will require two or three weeks time. He will then come to the Scio bridge.

The NEWS acknowledges a call during the absence of the editor, from Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Garland of Portland. Mr. Garland is one of Portland's live and energetic real estate agents and is doing an excellent business.

On Monday of this week, the Scio Condensery shipped a full car load of condensed milk to Seattle, Washington. This will be gratifying news to all those who are interested in the welfare of our local institution. The sale is due to the creditable efforts of Mr. E. C. Peery.

Grasshoppers are unusually abundant this year, probably due to the exceptional dryness of the early summer. In some localities they have almost reached the proportion of a plague. It is reported that they are so numerous on the Morris place that they have practically ruined the pasture.

R. T. Hendricks, editor of the Salem Statesman, has been appointed to the position of superintendent of census for this congressional district. Mr. Hendricks enjoys a reputation for honesty and ability. No better man could have been appointed to the office and it is safe to say the department will be more than pleased with his administration.

Roll Morris, Loyd Luckenbach and Chris Bilyeu have returned from their fishing and hunting trip. They report an exceptionally good time and great success. Among the excitements of the trip was the killing of two deer with a twenty-two caliber rifle, one of the animals being a four-point buck. A large number of trout, ranging all the way from a quarter of a pound to three pounds were caught. The scene of their enjoyment was at a point on the Deschutes river, about 100 miles from Klamath Falls. The scenery is described as being very beautiful.

Mrs. F. B. West started for a month's stay over at Newport, Wednesday evening.

A. L. Powell now carries his right hand in a sling, because of a severe cut from an ax.

When our friends on the farm have more money than their pocketbooks will hold, this fall, we remind them that the SANTIAM NEWS office is a good place to leave a part of it, either for a new subscription or to settle up the old score. We need you and we hope you need the NEWS.

Wells at Fair Grounds a Failure

During the past ten days a well boring outfit has attempted to bore some wells at the Fair grounds. At the depth of 15 to 18 feet, a small supply of water was obtained, but which was considered an insufficient supply. The boring was continued to the depth of 40 feet without finding a water supply. The last 20 feet was through rock most of the way. So it was concluded that well boring at the Fair ground, so far as obtaining a sufficient supply of water, is a failure.

The well machine is now sinking wells at other points about town.

Were Scared Out

During this warm weather, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, have erected a tent in the yard of the family home and occupy the same as a bed chamber.

Last Tuesday night, for some reason, they vacated the tent. Now as it is understood that Fred has or is about to, close the sale of his timber claim, his neighbors wonder if the disturbance about the tent, was the work of robbers or something else. Fred says the tent had become infested by yellow jackets, which made it untenable. In lieu of something better, we will have to accept the yellow jacket story, yet his neighbors still wonder.

A Convenient Bath

Is almost a household necessity, and by the use of the "Allen Portable," any one can take a thorough bath in any room in from five to ten minutes, hot, cold tepid water, and have everything cleared out of the way. No need of tubs, wash cloths or sponges. The total expense for an outfit is from five to seven dollars. A. H. Carman is agent for this vicinity and has used and can recommend them. Any one desiring to examine one or desiring to order, can be accommodated by calling at the parsonage. A number have already ordered, and many others will as soon as they realize the value.

The Arnold Show at the Fair

Acting in conjunction with the Scio Fair Association of this city, the Arnold Combined Shows under the management of Mr. E. J. Arnold will entertain the multitudes that will attend. Mr. Arnold who is well and favorably known through the Northwest as one of the leading carnival men in the show business, promises some interesting and sensational features. The features that will make the midway, have been selected with great care. No unclean shows will be tolerated. The attractions are of a high class and moral, refined and appealing to every one from an educational standpoint. The news has passed along the line that the Arnold's Combined Shows have outshone their own past records. The shows that they had last year was considered well nigh perfect but now they come forth with one vastly superior.

Amusement seekers have been held spell bound at the sensational free acts of which they have more and better than ever. Educated dogs, monkeys, goats and ponies that work with almost human intelligence; the greatest acts ever known; is longer than ever before, with scarcely a specimen lacking that is interesting to the study of animals.

A big feature, new in this country, is the balloon racing, a free act that is enjoyed by all. Mammoth tented pavilions that protect the public from all kinds of weather. Not a lot of worn-out attractions, but every thing is new and novel. The big steam riding gallery for ladies and children. The public in general should appreciate the efforts of the committee in seeing as much clean and moral entertainments as the Arnold Combined Shows which has pleased thousands and offended none.

For years their idea has been to expand and improve, ever aiming at perfection and achieving it when possible.

Attention Poultry Fanciers

The management of the Linn County Fair have gone to considerable expense in preparing coops for the poultry. They have also gone to the expense of engaging Judge E. Dixon, of Oregon City, to place the awards. In view of all this and for the betterment of good poultry, we ask all breeders to make an exhibit that will be a credit to the county. There are good premiums, no entry fee or transportation charges and good coops free. Oregon never held a show on such liberal terms. Now breeders, are you going to let Judge Dixon come up to judge two or three coops and convince him that Linn county and Scio does not raise good fowls or are you going to show him that Linn county leads the way and others follow in the breeding of pure bred fowls? If the Linn county Fair is to be a success the only way is for you to cooperate and swell the entries. Let us all meet at Scio on the 30th.

G. G. BELLS, Supt. Poultry

Fire Sale

Never before have such bargains been given to the public as are now secured at the $45,000 salvage sale of fire goods at the Blain Clothing Co's. Store. The stock saved was so large, and the inability of the sales force inadequate to wait on the trade, that many of the best goods are still unsold. One can do fully as well if no better than when the sale was first opened.

As a rule the goods which are practically uninjured, are marked down to one-half of the original selling price.

The sales force will be increased Saturday, and the opportunity for bargains is without a parallel. Values not considered. Cash is what talks.

Jersey Cows and Heifers For Sale

I will offer my entire herd of Jersey cows and heifers for sale on the Fair Grounds of the Linn County Fair Association, on September 1, the last day of the Fair, the whole herd being on exhibition during the entire continuance of the Fair.

The herd is composed of 12 cows which have been registered, 5 which are full blood but not registered and the balance are all high grades. The cows range in age from 4 to 8 years and the entire herd is either fawn or steel gray in color. In milk test they range from 4 to 5.3 per cent. 6 two-year-old heifers are now giving milk and cows and heifers have been bred to J. G. Holt's premium Jersey bull "Landseer's Koffee" No. 79370, and will calve from August 15 to October 15. Also 10 yearling cattle and 5 spring calves, all daughters of "Rebakah's June Boy" and are very promising.

I am selling because I contemplate quitting the dairy business and, besides, the herd is too large for my small farm.

TERMS OF SALE—Cash for all sums of $25 and under; over $25, notes with approved security, due in 12 months and bearing 8 per cent. interest from date. 3 per cent. discount for cash on time accounts.

J. N. JONES Thomas Ore.

Splendid Premiums for Boys and Girls

Arnold, the amusement man, has offered a fine cabinet of first-class carpenter tools for the best specimen of word work exhibited at the Fair, by a boy 14 years of age and under, and a sewing machine to the girl of like age who exhibits the best specimen of needle work. Boys and girls, these premiums are worth at least $25 each and are well worth striving for.

A little son of Mrs. Ben McDonald, of Jordan, fell from a bridge near the family home, on Wednesday, resulting in the breaking of his right wrist. Mrs. McDonald brought him to Scio, the same evening and placed him under the care of Dr. Prill.
