Our new bridge is "a thing of beauty" and will be "a joy forever" to the people of Scio.

Albert Shelton, formerly of Arlington, but now of Portland, paid the home folks a visit during the Fair.

It is said that considerable lumber will be shipped during the next few weeks. The Trappist Fathers will ship, it is said, 16 car loads.

A new line of Royal Worchester corsets. Price $1 to $3 each at Wesely & Cain. Orders taken for the Bon Ton corset, price $3 to $20.

Grandma King, a yearly exhibitor at the Fair, was on hand with a bed quilt which made many younger women jealous, because of its excellence.

LOST—On South Main street during the Fair, a black rubber ladies belt, with gilt buckle. Finder please leave same at the SANTIAM NEWS office.

Little Gladys Jones was the winner of the sewing machine at the Fair. She is now eleven years of age, but the premium work was done over one year ago.

Misses Alda and Reta Powell and Mrs Nellie Gunsauls went to the hop fields near Independence, Monday morning. Jas Abbott was serving as jehu.

Wm. Brenner is now the owner of as handsome a span of mules as there are in the valley. He left this morning for the State Fair grounds, where he has a horse entered for the races next week.

Wrs. A. W. Hagey and daughter, Coline, returned from a visit to Seattle just in time for the Linn County Fair. The Seattle proposition was not in it a little bit when compared with our home Fair.

The only accident of any moment which occurred during the Fair, was occasioned by one of the race horses running away and dumping his rider. The young man was able to ride a race the next day.

LOST OR STOLEN—A ladies watch, Elgin, 7 jewels, No. 9,301,103, solid gold hunting case. Any information concerning same will de gladly received and suitably rewarded by Mrs. Lulu Leffler, Scio, Oregon.

Geo Humphrey, who served 15 years as deputy and sheriff of Linn county, now an official in the U. S. court, at Portland, came over Wednesday to see NEWS editor and take in our fair, over which he is most enthusiastic.

Little Gerth Cole was a little too familiar with a monkey at the Fair and as a result, the animal set his teeth into Gerth's wrist to the bone. Dr. Prill dressed the wound, which will, probably, cause but temporary lameness.

Wednesday evening at the close of the Fair, Lee Bilyeu and Wm. Brenner started for the Roseburg fair. Mr. Brenner has bought a span of mules and hack at Roseburg, which they will drive back, stopping at the Eugene fair next week.

Look Here! I can tell you what your house or barn will cost you. I have the material to build either, from the ground to and including the roof. Cement, doors, windows, nails, locks and hinges, shingles, rubber-sanded roofing, etc. Call and get prices before or after getting prices elsewhere. Scio Planing Mills, N. I. Morrison, Prop.

New arrivals this week at Weselys Grocery. Egg noodles, Wheat Berries, and Quaker Corn Flakes. Try them; they are fine.

Henry Miller, whose mill was burned a short time ago, has leased another portable mill, with which to complete his tie contracts. He will commence sawing next week.

Wm. Flemming, in order to make his dog more comfortable, thought he would shear off the heavy coat of hair, last Sunday. Well, he did; but he now carries his arm in a sling, because the dog did not like to be considered a sheep.

Albany contributed a large number of visitors at the Fair on Albany day. Booster Struble and Judge Stewart saw that every one of them were properly tagged. They even lassoed a number of Scioans and placed the Albany brand on them.

Quite a number of our citizens are rusticating in the hop yards. Newt Crabtree and family and a number of Bohemian families whose names we did not learn, going last Saturday and Ot Bilyeu and family and A. I. Arnold and family on Sunday.

The Albany Commercial Club is fitting up the most attractive club rooms in the Willamette valley outside of Portland. The club wishes to have every manufacturing industry in the valley represented. "Country Club" milk should have a place.

Of course our Jeff came to his old home during the Fair. We mean Hon. Jefferson Myers. He paid the Fair management a very flattering compliment upon the showing made and predicted that the community would reap great benefit therefrom.

While attending the Fair last week, Miss Nellie Morrow was notified that her millinery establishment at Woodburn had deen destroyed by fire. It is not known how the fire started, but there are suspicions. The stock was valued at $2500, with $800 insurance.

Harriman, the greatest railroad king the world has ever produced, is said to to be at death's door. Well the world will move along just the same, whether he lives or dies. In fact, the man who takes his place may be a better friend to Oregon than Mr. Harriman has been.

D. H. Looney, J. C. Simpson and Worth Huston, were the judges on the race course. Their work was very satisfactory. They compelled every race to be conducted fairly. Mr. Looney is an old time race starter, and knows the game thoroughly. He would not permit any fumy business.

Cook and Peary will now keep the public's attention as to whom belongs the honor of discovering the North Pole. As the Pole is said to be located on a floating chunk of ice, it might have drifted down to a more congenial climate to be discovered. But Peary says he has nailed the United States flag to the aforesaid Pole and if the authority of the flag follows its various positions, it will not be a great while until the dominion will be extended to cover the entire Artic region.

A dispatch to the Sunday Oreconian states that R. B. Miller fell from a step ladder, on Sunday, at his home in Jefferson, and was severely injured. He was unconscious for nearly one hour and was badly bruised about the head. It is feared that he was injured internally. Later—Mr. Miller is now all right and able to gather peaches.

Erecting the Bridge

On Thursday of last week, Commissioner Butler with his bunch of bridge builders, commenced the erection of the steel bridge. Owing to the fact that the bridge was not just what the specifications called for, additional cement work had to be done in the way of raising the piers higher. When completed, Scio will have a bridge which will be alike creditable to the builder, the county and the town.

One On Us

In our last issue the NEWS spoke of exchanges failing to give credit for items clipped from its columns. A typographical error made us say "Albany Democrat" instead of saying "Albany Herald." The NEWS, therefore, apologizes to the Democrat for the error. The Democrat is careful to give credit to his neighbors for items, as all respectable newspapers do. The Harald is the fellow who stole the possum.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the eight hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance for advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write to them for full details.
