MUCH ORATORY OPPOSED.

Congressmen Want No Lawyers At Inquiry.

CONGRESSMEN WANT TO SAVE TIME.

Yet Conference Agree Pinchot And Associates Have Right To Employ Counsel.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The question whether witnesses in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation shall be permitted to be represented by counsel and, if so, what limitation shall be placed upon their activities, is proving a serious problem to the conferees of the Senate and House who met today.

It was practically decided that, when a witness found himself accused of wrongdoing, he could not be denied an attorney. It follows, therefore, that ex-Forestor Pinchot would be entitled to have his lawyer present throughout the Congressional investigation. Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, likewise, will be entitled to have his attorney present at all times.

Whether ex-Assistant Forester Price, ex-Law Officer Shaw and ex-Field Agent Glavis will be allowed counsel has not been decided. Some members of the conference are of the opinion that one lawyer might be named to look after the interests of all the dismissed Government employes, but no agreement was reached.

An effort is being made by the committee to prevent a forensic gathering that would be likely to prolong the case. Many members of Congress have no sympathy with the inquiry, as it will delay legislation to conserve natural resources. They say that, if lawyers are admitted, the trial will drag. They are advocates of the Senate plan, which was to shut out all lawyers and leave the interests of principals to the controversy to be looked after by members of the investigation committees.

It is said that the House will win on its provision that the inquiry shall be confined to the present session of Congress, with a report before adjournment. This is taken to mean that, after the inquiry has been concluded, President Taft's conservation programme will be pressed and legislation enacted at this session. The conferees will conclude their deliberations probably in time to report to the Senate on Monday.

The News will be glad to supply a copy of the paper free, regularly, to any one who will supply items of news weekly from any and all of the surrounding neighborhoods. Some one in every neighborhood should be willing to take up this work for the interests of themselves and neighbors.

FARMERS MAY ROLL GRAIN

Measure Suggested by Eastern Men to Save Replanting After the Cold Weather

Eugene, Ore., Jan. 15.—In view of the disastrous results to fall grain from the recent cold, it has been suggested by some of those who have come here from the East that the fall wheat fields be rolled with a heavy roller. It is thought that where the grain has lifted badly after the thaw rolling would press the roots back into the soil and that much of the fall wheat now considered a loss might be made to produce a fair crop without replanting. It is probable that several farmers will try the plan, as the same process has been successful in Eastern and Middle states.

Cow Taken To B. Shod.

Winsted, Conn., Jan. 9.—"My lad, I've been in the business nigh onto 15 years, but I never shod a cow nor did I ever hear of one being shod," ejaculated Marshall Case, the village blacksmith, in Barkhamsted, when Rupert Stevens, 10-year-old son of Fred Stevens, of Hartland, led Ruth, a pretty 4-year-old cow, into his smithy after unitching the animal. He told the smith he wanted shoes with calks put on all Ruth's feet.

Ruth was buckled to a frame and shod on all fours. "She isn't half as bad to shoe as an ox is," commented Case, when the job was over.

Then Rupert hitched Ruth into the cutter again and drove back home. The boy was five hours making the round trip, a distance of 16 miles, and getting the shoeing done. The boy's mother said to day that Rupert began breaking the cow when she was a calf, and that he had teased his father for two years to have her shod because she slipped badly when the roads were icy.

Ruth is thoroughly broken, can be driven attached to carriage, sulky, sleigh or sled, and is gentle as a kitten.

WALSH DENIED REHEARING.

He Receives The News Like a Stomach-Telephones Wife.

NEW TRIAL IS AGAIN SOUGHT

Attorneys Renew Fight On The Grounds That One Juror Was Coerced.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Fate struck John R. Walsh her final crushing blow to day when the Supreme Court of the United States declined to entertain his plea for a writ of certiorari, and by that act doomed him to serve five years in the Government Prison at Fort Leavenworth for misapplying the funds of the Chicago National Bank.

Standing amid the ruins of what he had planned to be a great career, stripped of his once great fortune, the gray old man of 72, this financial master-builder, who had molded a penniless newsboy into one of the great money kings of his age, turned to receive the blow a face that was impassive and unflinching as that of fate herself.

New Road Supervisors.

Relative to the appointment of road supervisors, the Albany Democrat has the following:

An interesting thing for the county court and others is the appointment of road supervisors, just completed by the court. This year there were many contests, of different kinds, resulting as follows, with the post office address of the supervisor.

1. W. J. Fisher, R. D. 3, Albany, succeeding W. C. Stellmacher.
2. Heike Ohling, R. D. 3, Albany, a supervisor for many years.
3. C. A. Pugh, Shed, reappointed.
4. J. W. Miller, Halsey, reappointed.
5. Ed. Nixon, Harrisburg, new.
6. Grant Cunningham, Harrisburg, old and efficient.
7. T. C. Isom, former county commissioner, Brownsville, new, with three competitors.
8. F. M. Johnston, Shedd, residing near Plainview, one of the best in the county. W. E. Anderson was also a candidate.
9. Mart Forster, Tangent, supervisor for seventeen years, the man who set the pace.
10. G. A. Asche, R. D. 2, Albany, reappointed.
11. R. E. Houston, R. D. 6, Albany, reappointed.
12. Thos. Reddy, Tallman, reappointed.
13. M. B. Miller, Shelburn, a new man.
14. H. Shope, Scio, not a candidate. Two candidates both got left.
15. T. M. Holt, Thomas, reappointed.
16. Albert G. Myer, Crabtree, a new man, with two other contestants.
17. H. E. Parrish, Lebanon, with two others in the field.
18. W. H. Ingram, Lebanon, near Sedaville, reappointed.
19. D. F. Robnett, Crawfordville, a new man.
20. J. H. Reinhart, Foster, reappointed.
21. E. L. Gilbert, Berlin, with a contest.
22. W. W. Sanders, Lacombe.
23. Miles D. Marshall, Scio, a new man.
24. F. M. Mitchell, R. D. 1, Albany, reappointed after a contest with H. C. Marshall.
25. L. W. Shepherd, Mill City, a contest, new man.
26. H. S. Heyne, Waterloo, re-elected.
27. John Santner, Scio, new man.

Show Window Fell Out.

Monday night at about 11 p. m. the south show window of J. F. Wesely's grocery store crashed to the pavement and was broken into thousands of pieces.

The strange feature about it is, how enough wind could accumulate on the inside, with all other doors and windows closed tight, to blow the heavy plate glass out. Not a particle of glass fell on the inside.

Some of the hotel people heard the racket, and informed Mr. Wesely of the fact. Boards were secured and the window was closed up in a short time.

A. M. SANDERS PASSES AWAY

Illness of Only One Week With Pneumonia Fatal to Popular and Efficient Educator

Albany, Or., Jan. 15.—A. M. Sanders superintendent of the Albany public schools, and one of the most prominent educators in Oregon, died last night at his home in this city. He had been ill only a week with pneumonia.

Professor Sanders' sudden and unexpected death has called forth universal regret today, for he was popular here both as an educator and as a man. He was one of the most efficient superintendents the local schools ever had and his church and lodge associations were many.

Professor Sanders was born on a farm near Amity, Yamhill County, March 31, 1863. He attended McMinnville college soon after it was founded and was the second graduate from that institution. For a number of years after his graduation he was engaged in the hardware business in McMinnville and then took up teaching.

He taught first in Rickerall Academy, then Dallas College, at Dallas, for a number of years, and then served as principal of the public schools of Independence. He then served as superintendent of the public schools of Roseburg for several years. After teaching a year in the Southern Oregon State Normal school at Ashland, he came to this city early in 1908.

Professor Sanders was an active member of the First Baptist church of this city and was a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Woodmen of the World, Royal Arcanum and United Artisans. He was also prominent in musical circles. He is survived by his wife and two children, Gale Sanders of this city and Wendell Sanders of Dallas. The remains will be taken to Roseburg.

RAILROAD WORK

East And West Bridge Piers About Completed.

Work on the Southern Pacific cutoff between this city and Crabtree is progressing as satisfactorily as could be expected considering the weather conditions. The track is laid from the present terminus to Franklin street, and in a few days the piler which is now on a flat car at the depot, will be taken to Franklin street, where a small trestle will be constructed over the slough at that point.

About 900 feet of piling has been driven between the slaughter house and the river, which is about one-half of the work of this nature on this side of the river.

The work on the pier on the West side of the river will be completed today, when the force that has been at work on the pier will commence capping the piling, when the work of laying the track will proceed.

As soon as suitable gravel can be obtained work will be commenced ballasting the track that has already been laid.

Grading on the east side of the river has been entirely abandoned for the present on account of the bad weather, and about the only work that is being done by Hayden Brothers' camp is in the cut just east of the river. A "continuous performance" is on at this point, there being a day and night shift employed. About 400 feet of the grade in this cut is completed, this being the heaviest of the work, but there still remains about 800 feet more to be done; but most of the latter will be a light cut, ranging from 5 to 8 feet.—Lebanon Express.

New Irrigation Book Free

"Well Irrigation for Small Farms" is a publication just issued by the General Passenger Department, of the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Co., and Southern Pacific—Lines in Oregon. This booklet sets forth in a practical concise way the possibilities for profit of inexpensive irrigation, and should be in the hands of every farmer in Oregon.

Copies may be obtained free on application to Wm. McMurray, General Passenger Agent, O. R. & N., and S. P. Lines in Oregon, Portland, Ore.

IS CALIFORNIA ENTRANCE TO LIFE'S LABORATORY

Science Discovers that Paso Robles Hot Springs Are Really the Marvels of Health

Today the great American and foreign authorities assert that the famous Paso Robles springs bring from the interior of the earth waters which make cures that medicine and surgery do not perform.

Such wonderful results have been made upon certain diseases by the Paso Robles Hot Springs that scientists are unable to account wholly for the real reason and to exactly determine what causes the really great chemical virtues of those waters.

The wonderful waters of Paso Robles have performed so many really remarkable cures of late, upon persons from all over the world, to such an extent that medical men and scientists are making an investigation into what really is the cause of such chemical purity of water and its consequent action upon health.

The waters at Paso Robles are both hot and cold when they arrive at the surface of the earth. Here are mineral mud baths, vapor, steam and other modes of water treatment.

The only disease barred at Paso Robles are tuberculosis and unclear maladies.

Cases of chronic stomach trouble, alcoholism, nervous prostration, especially in women, worn out business men, rheumatism, gout, kidney and other troubles too numerous to mention succumb to these waters as though they were but a slight indisposition. One may spend hours in the streets of the town listening to the convalescents tell of their former ill health and their cures. It sounds almost like a romance. Every luxury is here for the rich, while those who desire may bring a tent and camp out in the delightful meadows or along the river banks and be treated and cured at little expense. Boarding houses and private homes are also open to health seekers.

The air at Paso Robles is said to be the purest of any health resort in the world, and many claim as much for it as they do for the waters.

Truly it is interesting to know just what science will determine to be the solution of the question of Paso Robles' great cures and what its waters can really do.

A small book, neatly illustrated, has been recently published by the management telling the story of the Hot Springs in a most interesting manner and giving complete information. Send for it, either to Wm. McMurray, General Passenger Agent of the O. R. & N., Portland, Ore., or Dr. F. W. Sawyer, Manager, Paso Robles, Cal.

Jailed For Killing Deer

George Keeney, the deputy game warden of the Sweet Home country, took a couple of prisoners to Albany yesterday and turned them over to the county authorities. They were arrested for killing deer. Mr. Keeney has made many arrests for violation of the game laws since he has been in office, and has consequently gained the ill will of many persons. He informs the Express that there is a petition being circulated in his neighborhood to have him removed. Mr. Keeney says if the higher powers want to displace him for doing his sworn duty, they are at liberty to do so, but as long as he holds the office, he proposes to enforce the law to the best of his ability.—Lebanon Express, (Jan. 11.)
