Sixty-seven years ago Monday, 102 citizens of the Oregon country, met at Champoe, in which is now Marion county and voted on the question "Shall the Oregon country be British or American territory." America won by the small majority of two votes. It is easy to see that if modern political methods had been resorted to by the adherents of the British crown, the result would have been different. But as corrupt political procedure was impossible with these sturdy, straightforward early pioneers, a territory larger than three states, was delivered from becoming a mere appendage to the British crown, to become three sovereign American states.

NEOMA

Will Hold Development Meetings

Portland, Ore. May 5—The Portland business men returned from their visit to thirty Oregon points intensely enthused. Aside from the splendid welcome extended to them everywhere, some of the more homely features appealed to them specially—for instance the lucious asparagus, toothsome new potatoes and strawberries which were sent to the excursion dinner by different communities. The aesthetic side was not overlooked, either, and at several points the excursionists found upon returning to their train that it had been converted into a bower of roses or other blossoms.

Business had little attention in Portland Friday and Saturday of last week, for the census was the engrossing subject. Large business interests volunteered their best men as special enumerators to assist in the work without compensation, and every effort was made to get a fair count, the whole to be carefully checked over for accuracy.

Never was the Rose Festival so universally recognized as this year. Various railroads have issued wonderfully attractive booklets and are devoting all their advertising to the event. Roses promise just as heavy a crop as the more substantial products such as fruit and grain.

Development meetings are scheduled this week at Bend and Prineville, the following Monday at Burns. Each meeting will be held by the commercial organization and draw attendance from miles around.

Oregon advertising in metropolitan eastern papers has brought a flood of enquiry which all but swamped the head office of the Oregon Development League. Probably the record-breaking freeze throughout the Middle West and East, which occurred at the time this advertising appeared, had a great effect upon the number of enquiries.

The Pacific Coast Ad Men's League will meet in San Francisco from June 22nd to 24th, and the Portland Ad Club will entertain several delegations of advertising men from Washington cities, enroute to this convention, including a specially large representation from Spokane.
