

Glad Tidings For Christmas Shoppers

Our store has been transformed into an immense Holiday Bazaar—filled to overflowing with gift goods for all.

Our preparations for the Christmas season are complete and we invite your inspection of the abundance of gift goods now bounteously spread before you throughout the store.

Space will not permit of an extended list of gifts, but here you will find many things both practical and pretty from which to choose the one best gift for everyone on your Christmas list.

Shop early—the best is always the first to go.

Our new city council will please observe that the South side of the city is not nearly so well lighted as is the North side. In fact some of the walks are almost invisible when going towards a light. There ought to be about double the number of lights that there are now.

T. M. Holt, of near Thomas, went down to Portland, last Sunday, to attend the big good roads meeting in that city this week. Mr. Holt is one of the best road builders in Linn county, as the roads in the vicinity of Crabtree and Thomas evidence; yet he is willing to go to the trouble and expense to increase his knowledge of road building.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.

A LITTLE TALK ABOUT CHRISTMAS

Perhaps the most perplexing question confronting our people for the next two weeks will be "What shall I buy for Christmas?" The dealer who sells you holiday goods, is more or less responsible for that answer. If he has nothing for you to select from, other than useless trash which simply costs money, yet does not supply a need, then he is in the blame as well as yourself. If, on the other hand, he seeks to protect you by offering for sale only that which, in his judgement, will supply a need and make life more worth living, then he should be allowed credit in proportion for that service.

There are many things now-a-days which, while they are of real necessity, are gotten up in a way to render them very acceptable gifts. Among which are Stationery, Books, handbags, hand mirrors and numerous other things of a like character which will answer this perplexing question, "What shall I buy for Christmas?" and be a source of satisfaction, both to the giver and receiver.

Our book assortment is, in our judgement, the best selection of authors and subjects ever before offered our customers.

You are cordially invited to inspect them and judge for yourself. Trusting that you will not overlook this invitation and, wishing you a merry Christmas. I am yours truly,
