

Years of Suffering

Catarrh and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure.

Miss Mabel P. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with catarrh and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from catarrh."

The Overamused Children.

Don't make your children blasé by giving them too many treats. Young children do not need amusements; the more simply and quietly they live the more chance is there that they will grow up strong and healthy. Overamused children are never happy; they are always craving for more excitement, and, consequently, are discontented.

A Single Exception.
"Do you think a memory for dates helps a man?" "Sometimes," replied Farmer Cornatassell. "But not when he is selling spring chickens."

Manners of the Boy.
For some reason many mothers do not give the same attention to the manners of their sons as to those of their daughters. Yet the boy's training is even more important than those of the girl. The majority of young men leave their homes shortly after they come of age, and many leave before that period, and they come into contact, into intimate association frequently, with men who have had but little training in the niceties of life, and all too frequently these evil communications corrupt the good manners of the more fortunate class. But the boy who is trained to courtesy from his childhood can be trusted in any environment.

A Modern Problem.
The paragraphers are still keeping in circulation that paragraph about the judge who ruled a man need not support his mother-in-law. What is it, impecuniosity, tight-waddenedness or lust cure madness?

To Cure Poverty.
There is a rational way and a fool way of curing poverty. The rational way is to recognize that the world is full of magnificent supplies and to try to develop in the poor man a better kind of wants—i. e., to change his low thinking into high, to replace his love of mud and its by-products by a love of the spirit and spiritual qualities. The fool way is to heap upon the soul, already oversupplied, a mass of money, houses, drapery, fancy balls, golf balls, and highballs. Such a wretch has not riches—riches have him, and usually choke the life out of him.

Dead as a Door Nail.
The phrase "Dead as a door nail," originated in this way: In early days, when doorknobs were common, the plate upon which the knocker struck was sometimes called a nail. In the course of years it was struck so often that all life was supposed to be knocked out of it, therefore, when it became necessary to refer to anything hopelessly lifeless it was merely an emphatic expression to say that it was as "dead as a door nail."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Do not gripe.

Timeliness.
All measures of reformation are effective in exact proportion to their timeliness; partial decay may be cut away and cleansed; incipient error corrected; but there is a point at which corruption can no more be stayed, nor wandering recalled. It has been the manner of modern philanthropy to remain passive until that prelate period, and to leave the sick to perish, and the foolish to stray, while it spent itself in frantic exertions to raise the dead, and reform the dust.—Ruskin.

Shout Forests of Cuba.
Strophe reigns in the vast forests of Cuba. Says a traveler: "No beast crashes through the undergrowth, no bird sings in the branches, no wind whistles through the mighty tops. The living creatures of that world glance noiselessly through the air or glide stealthily through the heavy, sound-deadening verdure." Cuba has practically no song birds; they are merely gaudy creatures of the ballroom. She is happy also in having no venomous snakes and few pests of any sort.

Trial by Jury.
America and England and her colonies are the only countries in the world which have the jury system in the sense it is understood here. It is true, however, that throughout Europe so-called juries are employed in the trial of certain cases, but their functions are limited and perfunctory in character, their determinations being dictated by the presiding judge of the court. It is their duty merely to hear the evidence and render the verdict prescribed by the court.

Abstinence Necessary.
Did you ever note how a dog, even a puppy, will avoid meals once in a while and then promptly recover appetite? Indian youths, as a part of their training, were compelled to make long journeys through the forests while abstaining from food. In the feudal days of Japan the child had the same ordeal thrust upon him for his health's sake. The Indian and Japanese today furnish us Americans mute types of endurance.

Among Those Present.
An officer, addressing his men, who had just returned from a somewhat fruitless expedition, said: "You were no doubt disappointed because the campaign gave you no opportunity to fight; but if there had been any fighting there would have been many absent faces here today."

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

The "Six" Senses.

In a primary school examination one of the questions was with regard to the five senses. One of the bright pupils handled the subject thus:

"The five senses are: Sneezing, sobbing, crying, yawning and coughing. By the sixth sense is meant an extra one which some folks have. This is snoring."—Woman's Home Companion.
