SKYSCRAPER FOR ALBANY

S. E. Young & Son Will Build Three Stories,
First National Five Stories and First
Savings Three Stories

(An Albany special dispatch to the Oregon Journal says:) A most important realty transaction in business property was concluded today when the First National bank purchased the lot 48x100 feet at the southwest corner of First and Broadalbin streets, which has been for many years occupied by the general merchandise store of Samuel E. Young & Son.

The deal assures the construction of three modern business structures in the downtown district, two of which it is expected will be completed this year. S. E. Young & Son will at once begin erection of a three-story structure at the corner of Second and Broadalbin streets, now occupied by wooden structures, which will be moved. Upon its completion the present Young store will be torn down and the First National bank will build a thoroughly modern five-story block on the property just purchased by them. The First National people also own a lot 67x69 feet on the northwest corner of Second and Broadalbin streets, on which a three-story building will be erected for the First Savings bank, which is controlled by stockholders of the First National.

Obituary

Mrs. Rosa Boyanovsky, who died in this city on Friday, April 14, 1911, was born in Iowa and was aged at the time of her death, 30 years, 6 months and 17 days.

She was married to Joseph Boyanovsky on March 17, 1899. To this union have been born three children, two of whom are living and together with the husband and father, mourn the loss of the wife and mother. In addition, two sisters, four brothers and an aged mother survive her.

The Boyanovskys came to Oregon in 1899 and bought a farm near Crabtree, where they continued to live until last fall, when the ill health of the wife admonished Mr. Boyanovsky that a change of climate might be beneficial to his wife, whose health appeared to be rapidly failing. A visit to the old home in Lwa was planned and the entire family departed for that locality last fall. The change, however, failed to be of benefit and the family returned to this city early this spring. But tuberculosis had secured too firm a hold and, assisted with another ailment, the final summons came as above stated.

The funeral and burial occurred at the Franklin Butte cemetery on the following Sunday afternoon.

Card of Thanks

I desire to tender my most sincere thanks to my relatives and friends for their kindness, sympathy and help, during the sickness, death and burial of my beloved wife.

Business Change

Last week Henry Stam purchased the confectionery and cigar business lately owned by C. G. Gough and is now in possession of same. The W. F. & Co's. express business was placed in the hands of C. C. Wade, who is an old railway express messenger. The office will be next door to A. W. Hagey's jewelry store.

Mr. Gough expects to secure a position as telegraph operator on the Hill railway lines.

The Lamson Frosting gasoline engines are the best and simplest. Better see one before buying that wood saw or pumping outfit. Sold by Fred T. Bilyeu.

As W. A. Ewing Sees it

T. L. Dugger, Editor Santiam News: Realizing that censure is forthcoming for an opposite view, from the promoters and defenders of an action, and that sometimes one is apt to be misunderstood and criticised too severely for being in opposition, I am caused to beg space in your valuable paper to set forth my honest convictions upon some of the principle features contained in the proposed new city charter for Scio, to be voted on the first day of May, 1911, that the basis, for any criticism tendered, may be beyond dispute.

I am opposed to an arbitrary extension of the boundaries of the city limits for the reason that I consider the residents and property owners of the added district, capable of deciding for themselves in the matter, and whenever they signify a desire to be governed and taxed by the city, then I am willing that they be given the privilege of a voice in the management of its affairs, and the protection thereof. I am not in favor of causing this new territory to help us pay our debts, that we contracted for our own convenience, without a hearing or at least a pretence of fairness. Such proceedings demonstrate a selfishness that would not hesitate to compel tribute from all of its contributing territory if within its power to do so, and for my part I do not wish to be made a party to such an action without my protest against it. If a small part of the energies displayed in this movement could be used in the improvement and upbuilding of the territory now within the city limits, we would accomplish a great deal more than by the acquisition of property and the increase of an uncalled-for expense.

The question arises: Why do we want a new charter? It is argued by some that a few of the clauses in the old charter are obsolete, but we are not told the cause; but if so, then let us amend these clauses if absolutely necessary. Why do we want to extend the boundary lines of the city? It is argued that the city makes the values of the outlying territory, and that the people living outside get the conveniences of our sidewalks and electric lights, if the first reasoning is correct, then our city is making values to the summit of the cascade mountains and all of this affected and recipient property should be caused to pay for this influence, if we want to make people pay for walking on our sidewalks and gazing at our electric lights, without comment, it seems to me that we have a very peculiar disposition. It appears to me that the country makes our town and that we ought to be as friendly to its citizens as possible that we can exchange commodities with them, and I am of the opinion that we can sustain our reputation of setting as much as we give. Some argue that we need more land for sale within the city limits, (ie) we should have a one-mile square for 295 people, men, women and children. It seems to be that it may be as hard to make one sell his property after we get him in as it will be to get him in peaceably under our system of taking him in.

If we work in harmony with the country we can accomplish better results, for "in union there is strength, in harmony peace and in peace the greatest progression," it takes a strong will to be friendly to the driver with the lash; but courteousness and fairness appeals to honest opposition.

It is necessary that we be a resident of the city 30 days preceding an election before we can vote. These people, who we are taking in under the new charter, are not even entitled to vote upon the question that so materially affects them, because they are not residents of the city at the present time, and as they have not petitioned us for citizenship, by what moral right can we compel them to help us fight our fights, and bear our burdens? Such procedure may seem right to some, but not to me.

Any alteration in the base of a contract will endanger it, and may prove fatal, without the consent of all parties concerned, so then if we make a change

WILL SCIO SOON HAVE MILLIONAIRES?

The Crown Mining & Milling Company Here
Uncovered a Mountain of Ore
Carrying Good Values

Most any small town feels honored if it happens to be the home of millionaires. If, what seems to be a surety up at the Crown mines proves true, Scio will soon have that honor thrust upon her.

Since development work was undertaken, this spring, an extremely large body of high value ore has been uncovered. Samples of ore, of which assays have been made were taken from near the surface, and which have been found to be surprisingly rich—so rich that when the large body of ore in sight is considered, the wealth stored away by nature in this particular spot, can be estimated only in millions.

A mine of this character and extent, will be of very great value to the Willamette valley and especially to Linn county. The Crown, with numerous other mines in that district, will give employment to hundreds, if not thousands of men, who will be sure to draw the bulk of their supplies from this section of the valley.

The company will offer for sale but a few shares of stock, just enough to install machinery, aerial tramway, etc. It is expected that the installation of machinery will be commenced, just as soon as proper preparation can be made.

Three assays have been made by Assayer Colpitts, of Gates, who is a mining engineer of national repute, and the result of which is as follows:

No. 1, silver $5.46; gold $5.17. Total $10.63.

No. 2, silver $17.63; gold $13.02; copper $3.12. Total $33.17.

No. 3, silver $3.22; gold $5.57; copper $5.04. Total $13.83.

The NEWS congratulates our fellow townsmen upon the, most probable, splendid result of the money they have expended in prospecting.

Alsike Clover

Clover seed (alsike) 10, 12 and 14 cents per pound. F. Herrling, grower, Stayton, Oregon.

Some democrats condemn Governor West for appointing Mr. Olcott, a republican, to the office of secretary of state. Well, let's see. The people elected a republican to that office in the person of the late Secretary Benson. If the Governor desired to conform to the wishes of the people, we can not see how he could do otherwise than appoint a republican, especially when he selected one so eminently fitted for the place.

Let Us Utilize the Park

Editor News:—The city park is now nicely cleaned, is being fenced, and hence may be kept in good condition. We also have an attractive band stand and a splendid band. Why not make good use of them? Would it not be worth while to arrange for regular band concerts during the warm weather?

If the citizens of Scio will just show the proper interest and appreciation by coming out, the band would no doubt be willing to furnish open air concerts from time to time. A very pleasant hour might be spent visiting with friends and neighbors and listening to the music.

In some places band concert evening is the best of the week, nearly everyone coming out and people of the surrounding country driving in from quite a distance.

A social hour of this kind helps us all to free our minds of the petty cares of life and we return to duty with renewed energy.

We have the band, a nice clean, grassy park and comfortable seats. The only thing lacking is the people. If they can "catch the proper spirit", come out with their best smiles and be neighborly, the hour could not be better spent.

Lets hear from others on the subject.

Milking

The way in which a cow is milked has a great deal to do with keeping up the milk production for a definite length of time. If by thorough and proper milking a cow can be made to give more milk during the period of lactation than if the work is done less carefully it will certainly pay not to slight this part of the work. The extra milk secured will represent a clear profit aside from the little extra work involved, and a very small quantity of milk left in the udder at each milking will soon total up to a value of several dollars. So the milking should have the same important place as any other farm work.

At first sight milking appears to be a very simple matter, but the truth is a fine art. Many seem to think that almost anybody can milk, which is far from true, or at least it is not always advisable to have anybody and everybody do the milking. There is all the difference in the world in milkers. One who understands the work and enjoys it can, when in practice, milk a cow in far less time and do more thorough work than those who perform the work mechanically and with no object beyond getting it done. The difference in the amount of milk obtained from the same cow in the hands of different milkers has been noted by many. A milker who is gentle in his movements is pretty certain to get all the milk, while a milker whose movements are rough is quite likely to lessen materially the milk flow.

A frequent change of milkers is a mistake, even in instances where two or more members of a family do the milking and each person understands the work to about the same degree. A cow gets used to a certain milker and if a change is made she probably will not give down her milk so well nor can the new milker milk her so easily or thoroughly as the milker to whom the cow is accustomed.

A cow should always be milked in the same manner, at the same speed and at the same time of day. Changes in these matters will tend to irritate and excite her. When a cow becomes accustomed to being milked at a certain time of day, she knows when that time arrives and expects and wants to be milked then. If disappointed, she will probably give less and poorer milk than if milked at her regular milking period. —Wm. Purdue, in Successful Farming.

STAYTON DEFEATED

Scio Ball Team Crossed Bats With the Stayton
Team Sunday on Scio Diamond.
Defeat Was a Slaughter

The Stayton ball boys attempted to play a match game of ball with our Scio sluggers, last Sunday. It was not a match, but a veritable slaughter of the innocents. The visitors were outclassed from the beginning of the first inning and would, probably, went home scoreless, had not McDonald, the Scio pitcher, been wild in the first two innings. Nevertheless the visitors secured a tally in each of the first two innings because of this wildness, the string of goose eggs thereafter was of clock-like regularity. This was Stayton's second game of the season and first for Scio.

The batting order of the teams was as follows:

Stayton	Scio
SS Goodman	2b Morris
3b Thoman	1b Gooch
1b Beecham	3b Harper
P Keiber	SS J Wesely
2b Wright	Rf Kalina
C Olsen	Lf Bennett
Cf Ludington	Cf Powell
Lf Althouse	P McDonald
Rf Bailey	P Ed Wesely
	C Simms

The day was most too cool for a large crowd to gather, yet the gate receipts were about $25. While it was quite evident that the Stayton boys were outclassed, they submitted to defeat gracefully and all acted the gentleman throughout. We hope our neighbor will strengthen her team, so that future games between the teams will be closer contests.

Next Sunday the Scio boys will cross bats with Silverton at Silverton. It is reported that Silverton has a good bunch of players and the Scio boys will have to go some if they come back with the scalp of the Marion county bunch.
