A very interesting game of ball was played at the Fair grounds, last Sunday, between Silverton and Scio. Until the seventh inning neither side was able to secure a run. When the game was ended, Silverton had 4 and Scio had 1 runs. Scio will play Mill City at Mill City, next Sunday, when the ball season will close for Scio.

Corvallis has almost too much Johnson. There are five or six Johnsons, all of whom, so far as we know, are excellent citizens and two of whom formerly resided in Scio. Then there is "Bob," a retired newspaper man, now dealing in prunes. Of course, he is a first-class citizen, for a retired newspaperman could hardly be anything else. (The NEWS man expects to soon be on the retired list.) However, any town which has citizens of as much energy and public spirit as the Corvallis Johnsons seem to have, let their names be Smith, Jones or of any other nomenclature, it has reason to congratulate itself.

Corvallis Knights of Pythias dedicated a new temple in that city, last Monday night.

A 4th of July celebration is to occur at Albany, this year, without the customary oration. It has been evident for years, that our national day celebrations have been degenerating into a day of mere sports and commercialism, but Albany is the first to take off the lid entirely. Some other day would be just as appropriate for sports and races and, perhaps, the remnant of remembrance for the birthday of our nation, which may yet linger in the hearts of some of our old people, would not be quite obliterated. A 4th of July celebration without an orator is somewhat like the play of Hamlet without the ghost.

DISCARDING THE LABELS.

Woodrow Wilson Comments on the Breaking Down of Party Lines.

"The country is awakening to a degree of civic consciousness known before only in the period when the country was born," said Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey in a recent address. "We are scrutinizing the men who are conducting the government. We know we are living in an age of complicated conditions. From all our cities man after man tells me that never before have the citizens been so awakened to public questions—to the question of public degeneration.

"The interesting thing of our politics now is that men are not labeled. You cannot tell from the way a man voted last time how he will vote the next time. Men are beginning to find out that the safe line is the right line.

"The mere moral impulse in me is of no force unless it can be translated into action. It is immoral to propose for the United States something that is not of benefit to the whole United States. It is immoral to promote legislation for your business unless it is also for the interest of the rest of the country. Our government is not a paternal institution."

Did it Ever Occur to You

That perhaps you are making a mistake by not getting our prices before buying lumber, sash, doors, lime, cement, plaster, etc., somewhere else? You are old enough to know that there's a lot of difference in the quality of every one of these articles, just the same as there is in tea and coffee. And that there's always more or less difference in the prices, too.

Then, as you can always get the most and best here, at the lowest prices, why aren't you making a mistake by not buying here. From where we sit, it looks like you were passing up a good thing.
