There is no room for doubt but that Scio with the united efforts of its enterprising citizens can greatly increase its business and enhance the value of property. Let us all give strangers and prospective settlers words of encouragement and hearty welcome to this goodly land of peace and abundance. Encourage those who are worthy whether they have capital or not. Labor is worth money. Those who have money will buy lots, build houses or remodel old ones. Let us work and stimulate every legitimate enterprise by giving it all the friendly encouragement we can, and unite our industry, intelligence and capital in a common cause for the good of our town. Let us cultivate a public spirit and talk less and work more. Nature has showered upon us her richest blessings, and with perfect unity and effort for the good of our common cause, great will be the result.

The purpose of store advertising is not merely to sell goods, but to sell more goods—to make friends, build up a patronage that will not only stick but grow. Newspapers reach the greatest number of people in the immediate vicinity in the most natural way, at the least expense, and they are therefore the best of all mediums for stores. In a newspaper you follow the lines of least resistance—you follow with the stream—you talk to an audience already assembled, to the people who want to read—their mental cosmos is right—they are on your wire, and they won't ring off if you hold their interest. Attraction is the basis of all advertising—the store is the sun, the customers the planets that revolve around it.

Organized labor never has endorsed violence nor shielded criminals. Believing the McNamara fiends innocent it demanded justice. Now that they have confessed the union labor forces still demand justice. The kind of justice all who resort to murder and violence should receive; all the law allows.

If you will notice none of the leading lawyers of Oregon are antagonizing the single tax. It is nearly always a land speculator or grabber of some kind who rushes in to prove that a cow increases in value in proportion to the number of people within a mile of her.

COUNTRY
CORRESPONDENTS

Santiam Farm Topics

Thanksgiving passed off very quietly in this neighborhood. Mrs. Freeman gave a nice, fat turkey dinner to a number of her neighbors and they report a fine dinner and a time of their lives.

Mrs. Newton Crabtree also treated some of her neighbors in a most hospitable manner with a fine turkey dinner, and all returned home delighted with the occasion.

The Pie Eater enjoyed Thanksgiving by sitting by the fire nursing a severe cold, together with a bad case of bronchitis, which hangs on equal to a bull terrier to a pig's ear.

John Griffin of east of Scio called over Saturday last to visit with his mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Gaines.

Dean Turner returned home Saturday from Detroit where he has been working in the logging camps.

Cala Gaines took a load of fat hogs to Lebanon Tuesday and two loads Wednesday, about 30 in all, for which he received 6c on foot.

Mr. Payne, the one-armed agent for notions, passed through here Tuesday on his way to Lacombe.

School Notes

Nearly everyone showed the effects of being at the dance Thursday night by their sleepy looks Friday. We do not believe a sleeper body of students ever assembled.

Bernice McDonald paid the High School a short visit Friday afternoon.

We are sorry to announce that Minnie Meritt has quit school. She was one of the leading scholars in the Sophomore class.

The Sophs had a quarter holiday last Friday. It came just at the right time as this was when it was needed most. Soph.

Watch Not Using.
Cholly—What's the time, old chap? I've an invitation to dinner at 7, and my watch isn't going.
Guselo—Why, wasn't your watch invited, too, dear boy?—Boston Transcript.

For a Starter.
"Mr. Titewadd, can't I get you interested in settlement work?"
"Why, you might. What do you want me to do?"
"Settle this little bill you owe Sheers, the tailor."—Washington Herald.

Not What She Expected.
Clara (fishing for a compliment)—This is your fourth dance with me. Why don't you dance with some of the other girls?
Charlie—Well, the fact is I dance so badly I hate to ask them.

Sure to See It.
"Who was it who saw the handwriting on the wall, Freddie?" asked the Sunday school teacher.
"The landlord, ma'am," quickly replied the little boy who lives in a flat. —Yonkers Statesman.

A Financial Tip.
"If I should put $1,000 in a bank that paid compound interest at the rate of 3 per cent, how long would it take for the principal to double?"
"It never would double. The bank would bust."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Diplomatic Decision.
Two ladies contending for precedence at the court of Charles V. appealed to the monarch, who decided that the elder should go first. Disputes of that character never occurred thereafter.

Regularly you hear of expensive lawsuits over disputed titles—titles, which if the buyer had abstracts of, they would have been avoided.

Why, therefore, take such long chances in buying real estate by investing without abstracts of the properties' titles?

Our abstracts are dependable, full and complete—one should accompany every real estate exchange.
