Regularly you hear of expensive lawsuits over disputed titles—titles, which if the buyer had abstracts of, they would have been avoided.

Why, therefore, take such long chances in buying real estate by investing without abstracts of the properties' titles?

Our abstracts are dependable, full and complete—one should accompany every real estate exchange.

Gold Filled.

A gold filled tooth and your gold filled watch case may be sold to be inversely analogous—that is to say, your gold filled tooth has more or less of the tooth structure of enamel on the outside with gold on a core filling the center. Your gold filled watch case consists of two sheets of gold, having between each sheet some lower metal to which the gold is soldered. As to the gold in the case, it may be of any fineness and any thickness commensurate with the term "gold filled." A jeweler will tell you that 10 carat gold is not gold, having too great an admixture of base metals. Many persons have the idea that the gold filled case is an amalgam of the kind instead of a "sandwich" of gold treated in the inside with the base metals.

Our Queer Language.

Isn't it a queer language? A New York policeman saw a woman in the street with a carpet and a stick.

"Beat it," he harshly commanded. Whereupon the woman struck the carpet with the stick and the policeman arrested her for violating a street ordinance.

The judge heard the woman's story and smiled.

"Beat it," he said to her, and this time she understood and hurried away. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Yes," remarked the sad looking stranger; "I have seen the inst of many a good man."

"Doctor or undertaker?" queried the man behind the white apron.

"Neither," replied he of the sad looks. "I'm a shoe-maker."

PORTLAND NEWS LETTER

Head of Hill Lines Expresses Faith in Central Oregon—Big Annual Apple Show May be Held at Portland

Portland, Ore., Dec. 26 (Special.)—Central Oregon's opportunity is shown in a recent address of Pres. Carl E. Gray, of the Hill Lines in this territory, who pointed to that section as the coming granary of the Pacific Northwest. He said five counties in the interior have four times the area of Maryland, with one-thirtieth its population and more than one-half that of Iowa with one-sixtieth its population.

From this great area in future he believes, will come large quantities of wheat. The United States crop is decreasing and here is the chance for Central Oregon to supply this much needed commodity. Wheat exports have been cut more than one-half in two years, showing the American surplus to rapidly diminishing. In Pres. Gray's opinion, Central Oregon's future is brightest as a great wheat growing district.

The new railroad from Vail westward, an extension of the Oregon Shortline, will soon be an accomplished fact, as all arrangements have been made to start construction. It is expected work will be continued throughout the winter months.

A deep sea fishing industry may soon be added to Oregon's activities. Owners of the estate of the late R. D. Hume are likely to carry forward the plans left by Mr. Hume for placing in service a fleet of fishing craft on the banks off the Southern Oregon coast for taking halibut and other valuable food fish.

Dates for Portland's next annual Rose Festival have been fixed for the week of June 10-15. Plans for the event have been taken up and the management will prepare a fiesta on a bigger scale than ever before. Next year's Festival will be advertised very widely.

Native black marble in great quantities has been discovered in Wallawa county. This promises to be a valuable asset of that section of the state. Present supplies of black marble come from Belgium and Alaska and the new find will undoubtedly supplant the product of these two places, since freight is such a big item in the handling of this heavy stone.

A gigantic water system to supply Willamette valley cities from Clear Lake in the Cascade Mountains, has been outlined to the state board of health. If the scheme is adopted, the water will be brought from the lake, almost at the summit of the Cascades, and distributed to the valley towns from Springfield to Salem. A committee will investigate the proposition.

Note the money saving prices quoted by Wesely & Cain in their big Annual Clearance Sale ad in this issue.

A CHRISTMAS DINNER

On Christmas day a bounteous dinner was partaken of at the home of W. A. White by a number of friends and relatives. After dinner the company was entertained by music, card playing and an unlimited supply of candy and nuts.

Those present were, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. W. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. White, and Charles, Elmer, Loreen, Morris and Seth White.

COROT SAVED THE TILE.

He Turned a High Hat Tragedy Into a Work of Art.

An interesting relic of Corot is to be seen in the gallery of a picture dealer in the Champs Elysees. It takes the form of a wooden frame inclosing a gray high hat of a style "now forgotten quite." A card explains that "this landscape in the crown of the hat is guaranteed to be a genuine work of Corot."

One sees in the hat a rapid study of the artist. The artist has utilized the blue silk lining of the hat to improvise a beautiful sky of summer reflected in the peaceful water below. Upon the bank are three trees and a picturesque Saracen tower, while white clouds among the blue complete the scene.

Readers must not jump to the conclusion that this hat landscape is an example of the eccentricity of genius. It is the result of what appeared to be the tragedy of a "white" hat which belonged to a friend of the master. The friend, calling on Corot, happened to place his brand new hat near the easel. In extending the hand Corot's brush fell into the hat, leaving an indelible mark.

A cry of despair followed, not exactly that which a high authority has told us is uttered when husbands or lap dogs breathe their last, but nevertheless it was a despairing cry, "My hat is spoiled!"

"Not at all," said Corot, bursting into a hearty laugh. "I will soon put that all right." The painter brushed away the dab caused by the accident, and in a few minutes the picture was complete, and the owner of the hat left the studio with a much more valuable chattel than that with which he entered.—London Globe.

CORAL REEFS.

They Cannot Form in the Line of a Fresh Water Flow.

Coral reefs surround many of the islands in the Pacific. They protect the lowlands from the washing of the waves, and the still waters inclosed by them are the only harbors of refuge for ships. The reefs themselves furnish the greatest peril to navigation, and if there were no inlet through which a vessel could enter their protected circle they would be a danger and nothing else.

But almost every reef has such an inlet. It is a necessary result of the laws under which the forces of nature work. To understand this we must see how these reefs are formed.

Chemically the reef corals are almost pure carbonate of lime, the substance of ordinary limestone and marble. The reef grows as the shell of the oyster or of any other shellfish grows. It is itself the common and undivided shell of innumerable polypi, or minute insects, which are being reproduced and are dying in successive generations.

These tiny beings get all their living from the waters of the sea. It is from this source also that they derive the salts of lime from which they secrete the bony structure that remains after the animal is dead.

The coral polyp cannot live in fresh water. Their food supply is brought to them by the waves and currents of the sea. As a result, it is found that directly opposite the mouth of a stream from the island the reef does not grow. There will be the inlet to the inclosed waters.—Harper's Weekly.

The Matches We Burn.

It has been estimated that for each minute of time the civilized nations of the world strike 3,000,000 matches. This is said to be the average for every minute of the twenty-four hours of the day. Fifteen hundred billion is the number for the entire year, and those persons who live under the American flag are charged with the consumption of one-half of this amount. Small and insignificant as it is, the match demands as much attention in the choice of woods involved as any other forest product. Only the choicest portions of the best trees are suitable. Sapwood and knotty or cross grained wood will not do. Instead of being a byproduct the little match is turned out in mills where the byproducts are bulky objects like doors, sash, shingles, siding, posts and cordwood. The pines, linden, aspen, white cedar, poplar, birch and willow are the most suitable match timbers.—Chicago News.

Notice For Publication

Department of the Interior

U. S. Land Office at Portland, Ore.

October 14, 1911.

Notice is hereby given that Fred A. Strode, whose postoffice address is 1386 Rodney Ave., Portland, Oregon, did, on the 31st day of May, 1911, file in this office Sworn Statement and Application No. 03087, to purchase the N4 of NE4, Section 24, Township 10 South, Range 2 East, Willamette Meridian, and the timber thereon, under the provisions of the act of June 3, 1878, and acts amendatory, known as the "Timber and Stone Law," at such value as might be fixed by appraisement, and that, pursuant to such application, the land and timber thereon have been appraised, the timber estimated 460,000 board feet at 50 cents per M, and the land nothing; that said applicant will offer final proof in support of his application and sworn statement on the 30th day of December, 1911, before the Register and Receiver of the U. S. Land Office at Portland, Oregon.

Any person is at liberty to protest this purchase before entry, or initiate a contest at any time before patent issues, by filing a corroborated affidavit in this office, alleging facts which would defeat the entry.
