

Terrible Suffering

EczeMa All Over Baby's Body.
"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema, and at sixteen months of age, his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask or cloth over his face and tie up his hands. Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy boy." Mrs. Inez Lewis, Barling, Maine.
Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system.

Must Have Been Her Lucky Day.

In a lot of old papers and magazines that Mrs. T. G. Payson gave to the Salvation Army of Jersey City the other day was an envelope containing $225 in bills that Mrs. Payson had overlooked. After 20 men had searched for hours in the army's waste paper pile, Mrs. Payson looking on, the money was found and restored to her.

Pit Chest.

The occupation of a bookkeeper tends to bring the head and shoulders forward and cramp the chest. Try to sit more erect and learn to stand tall, and stretch the body to its full height. Many defects of the figure are due to bad postures, but by exercise many defects can be corrected.

Open to Suspicion.

The man who opposes the revival of the knee breeches idea will be subject to suspicion, no matter how impersonal his motives.—Atlanta Journal.

Provoking.

Nothing makes a woman so angry as to see her husband, who diets at home, eating everything that comes along at a banquet.

New Saying.

Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands of dollars.—Life.

Monumental Majority.

If one could get the vote of those who feel worse the day after a holiday than they did the day before, he probably could be elected.—Acheson Globe.

The Best Gift.

The best gift is the one that shows thought—an appreciation of what will be pleasing and useful to the recipient—that is what counts for value, not the price in money.

Uplifting Thoughts.

"A man can only rise, conquer, and achieve by lifting up his thoughts. He can only remain weak, and abject, and miserable by refusing to lift up his thoughts."—Thomas Allen

High Heels and Wit.

If anything could be higher than the Parisienne's hat it is her heels. The low English heel has once or twice enjoyed a brief season's favor in Paris, but at heart the Parisienne dearly loves to add a cubit or so to her stature and she achieves it of course with her beloved Louis XV heel. Perched thus on stilts with the foot at an impossible angle, "le footing" becomes impossible and madame seats herself in a cab every time she starts out for a walk. That is why her boots and shoes are always new.

Some one has discovered that there is a close relation between the heels and the wit. The conversation of the walker in low heels is trite and flat—bromidic, so to speak—but she who trips in high ones will soar to unexpected altitudes of epigram and paradox. We know that great wit and insanity are near neighbors and the Germans putting the principle in practice are treating madness with a bare-foot regime. The contact of the bare flat foot with Mother Earth is expected to bring back wandering minds to an every-day plane and the experiment is naturally interesting.

Cleaning Glass Vases.

Flower vases which have become cloudy and discolored should be cleaned with a mixture of vinegar and salt, poured in and well shaken about. A long piece of stiff wire, upon the end of which is a little pad of soft rag, should be poked into all the corners and crevices, and the vase then rinsed in warm water and dried with a good polishing cloth. Fly marks upon the gilt frames of pictures should be rubbed with half a lemon and then polished with a chamois leather.

An Anti-Loquacity Machine.

"I think I'll have to invent for my own benefit," said the talkative man, "some sort of an anti-loquacity machine. I talk, I am willing to admit, I talk too much; when I get going I don't seem to know when to stop; and this machine that I'm meditating will be something in a small portable form that I can carry handily in my vest pocket and that will wiggle or weave or pop up or do something to remind me when I have talked to a reasonable limit, and I shall make it non-adjustable so that it can't be set to run beyond a certain limit; if it was not made non-adjustable I might be tempted to set it to run too long before it gave the warning."

"My primary purpose was, as I said, to invent this machine for my own benefit only, but now when I come to think it over I may put it on the market; there might be a few, at least a few, other people who would like to buy one."

New York Uses Much Water.

In the whole world there are only about 1,500,000 people. An inch of rain on our watershed normally would give two gallons of water for every man, woman and child on the surface of the earth. Put it another way: If every man, woman and child on the face of the earth should walk up to the lakes, reservoirs, etc., which hold New York city's water supply, and each pour in two gallons of water, it would not be enough to last that city ten days.

That Shining Nose.

At the opera the young man who paid for the seats was engaged for a few tense moments in a study of a stunning woman of middle age who sat in the row in front. Then he turned to the girl at his right, and whispered, "Look at the lady in lavender; what is the matter with her nose?" The girl gave one glance at the shining "neb," then turned to her escort and whispered: "Enameled."

"The coal supply of the earth is limited," said the scientist. "No one can say how long it will last." "Great Scott!" exclaimed a man in the back row; "and here we've gone and wasted more'n a bushel of it heatin' the hall for this lecture."—Washington Star.
