Eye Water Before or After.

"I thought that in the fifteen years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible 'fool' question; but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed medicine—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the office, but returned in a few minutes, poked his head in the doorway, and asked 'Shall I drop this in the eye before meals or after?'—Everybody's Magazine.

Cannot Eliminate Love.

A periodical devoted to the drama pleads for plays based on some emotion other than love. The difficulty in producing such plays is that every play must have a hero, and in making a hero the playwright, as well as his audience, almost inevitably adopts the view expressed two thousand years ago by a scribe on one of the dead walls of Pompeii: "He who has never loved a woman is not a gentleman."

Mountain Stops Wireless Message.

It has been observed repeatedly on board vessels stationed west of Cape Otway (at the southern tip of Australia) that it was impossible to communicate with vessels situated in the port of Melbourne. This has been attributed to the fact that the mountain which forms the cape contains large quantities of metallic minerals which absorb electric waves.

FINE BREAKFAST DISH

MOST APPETIZING WAY OF PREPARING SAUSAGES.

Cooked in Methods Described, Any Lover of These Delectable Morsels May Partake of Them With Enjoyment.

In vain does the cry of Socrates come to us, down the ages—"Beware of foods that persuade you to eat though not hungry, and of liquors that prevail with you to drink though not thirsty."

A breakfast of sausages, wheat cakes and fragrant coffee is all that is needed to make us forget the hen-pecked sage's warning.

Here are ways of cooking sausages so all lovers of the delectable morsels may eat them safely:

Instead of frying sausages, put them to cook in enough boiling water to almost cover. Add no fat. Simmer gently until the water is evaporated. Enough grease will now be rendered from the meat to fry them, and the casing will be unbroken. Lift the links from the frying pan and roll in flour. Fry until the coating is crisp and brown.

The flour prevents the sausages from breaking open and does not allow the rendered grease to be reabsorbed. If a little ground sage be mixed with the flour, the flavor will be improved.

The new method of paper-bag cooking is excellent for cooking sausage cakes. Shape the cakes, place in bags, press out the air, and cook in hot oven fifteen minutes. Open the bottom of the bag and drain out the fat from the pork. Serve on a hot platter.

Broiled sausages with rice give a well-balanced dish for a wintry day's breakfast. Place small link sausages on the broiler with dripping pan beneath, broil slowly, and serve around a mound of creamed rice.

Sausages with baked creamed potatoes—To every pound of bulk sausage meat add an ounce of ground mixed herbs. A good mixture to make and keep on hand for such season as this is two ounces of ground sage, a fourth of an ounce of cayenne pepper, one ounce of thyme, one ounce of marjoram, and one of celery salt. Shape into cakes and fry for five minutes. Fill a baking dish with diced potatoes, cover with cream, lay the sausage cakes on top, and bake in a hot oven fifteen minutes, or until the cream is absorbed and the meat a good color.

Where sausage is liked but cannot be eaten on account of its richness, it may be made at home and mixed with lean beef or veal in the proportion most approved. Two parts lean meat to one part pork will give a mixture in which the pork flavor will still predominate.

Home-made sausage is much in favor, since the commercial product all contains "filler," presumably some cereal or stale bread. The food-chopper now found in every kitchen does the grinding as well as the butcher's and the particular housekeeper has the satisfaction of knowing just what the ingredients of the sausage are.

Tomato Baskets.

These are charming for holding vegetable salad, chicken, shrimps, cold beans, asparagus tips, shredded celery, cucumbers cut in cubes, minced peppers, whatever in fact you may select. Choose fine, smooth tomatoes, not too large, and as nearly one size as possible; dip for half a minute in boiling water, then skin and set in icebox to chill; cut a generous slice from the top of each, scoop out pulp and seeds, dress the cavity with salt, pepper, oil, vinegar, then fill with the salad, seasoned with French dressing or mayonnaise. Handles of water cress may be attached to these ornamental baskets and they may have a setting of lettuce leaves.

Dried Fruit.

Dried fruit tastes just as good when stewed in the oven, and this method has its advantages—the fruit will not dry and burn, it will remain whole, and may be cooked while roasting or baking. Wash the fruit, pour boiling water over it and let it stand in a covered dish until ready to put in the oven. Then add the sugar, cover lightly and let the heat of the oven do the cooking. Prunes are always delicious when stewed in this way.

Removing Lime Deposit from Kettle.

A simple method of removing the incrustation of lime which forms inside a kettle is to place some whiting in it, fill up with water, and boil until the incrustation is loosened, when it may be easily washed out.

To Purify Sinks and Drains.

To one pound of common copperas add one gallon of boiling water and use when dissolved. The copperas is deadly poison and should be carefully labeled. This is one of the best cleansers of pipes and drains.

Paid Proportionate Share. A poor fellow having with difficulty procured an audience of the duke of Newcastle, told his grace he only came to solicit him for something towards a support, and as they were of the same family, both being descended from Adam, hoped he should not be refused. "Surely not," said the duke, "surely not—there is a penny for you, and if all the rest of your relations will give you as much you'll be a richer man than I am."

Unpopular Hygiene. Having received a hygienic education, the new partner in the bakery strongly recommended a paper wrapper for every loaf of bread delivered. The old partner demurred. "No good," he said. "People won't stand for it. We tried that once and the paper got so dirty before the bread was ready for delivery that everybody canceled their orders."
