An Actor's Epitaph.

In the churchyard of Gillingham, England, is the following epitaph on the tombstone of an actor:

"Sacred to the memory of Thomas Jackson, comedian, who was engaged December 21st, to play a comic cast of characters in this Great Theater, the World, for many of which he was prompted by Nature to excel. The season being ended, his benefit over, the charges all paid, and his account closed, he made his exit in the Tragedy of Death on the 17th of March, 1791, in full assurance of being called once more to a rehearsal, where he hopes to find his forfeits all cleared, his cast of parts bettered and his situation made agreeable by Him who paid the great stock debt for the love He bore to Performers in general."

Chance For More Sleep.

A farmer roused his new harvest hand from slumber in the haymow promptly at 3 a. m.

"You can slip down and cut that little patch of oats before break fast," he ordered.

"Are they wild oats?" sleepily inquired the hired man.

"Wild? Why, no; they're tame oats."

"Well, if they're tame maybe I can slip up on them in daylight."—Everybody's Magazine.

A POINTER FOR YOU

Always see what you are buying before buying it. If you wish to know before buying a bit of lumber that you are going to get the very best and the most your money will buy, don't make any mistake, but bring your bill to us. We preach quality because we buy a superior stock for our trade and want everybody to know that they can buy the best from us and that it will not cost any more than ordinary lumber elsewhere.
