A few thoroughbred Buff Plymouth Rock pullets and cockerels for sale.—R. M. Cain.

A dastardly attempt was made on the life of Colonel Roosevelt in Milwaukee last Monday evening, but at last reports the chances are in his favor for recovery.

The following taken from the Stayton Mail comes so near fitting the case of the News that we give it: Readers of the Mail may well be puzzled as to the political attitude of our paper. We haven't any. In the beginning of the presidential campaign we signed up for plate from each of the three great parties, Republican, Democratic and Progressive. The matter, which comes ready set up for printing, has been arriving rather steadily by jerks of late and we insert it as it comes. So you may see the rather strange and unique proposition of praise for Col. Roosevelt in one column and similar words of commendation for President Taft in another, while another page may describe Mr. Wilson as the only person who can save our country from the eternal bow-wows. You may believe all of it if you like, or you can take it as we do, with a large dose of salts. At any rate we are supplying you with a variety, and some old gink has said that "variety is the spice of human existence."

Public Employees in Austria.

The fact that strikes are not resorted to by public employees in Austria is largely due to the fact that after some years of service all government employees are entitled to pensions, which are so graduated as to attain to the maximum at the approximate age of retirement, entitling an employee to retire after thirty-five years of service on full pension. This makes it to the interest of state employees in what-over line to avoid such conduct as might lead to dismissal before the pension in view has reached a satisfactory figure.—New York Post.

Quaker Old Laws.
France in 1814 passed laws regulating the size of the cloak and robe, the breadth of the trimming and the number of suits possessed by each person; also the diet, including the hour of meals and the number of dishes.

Good Business.
Mabel—Was your bazaar a success?
Gladys—Yes, indeed. The minister will have cause to be very grateful.
"How much were the profits?"
"Nothing. The expenses were more than the receipts. But ten of us got engaged, and the minister is in for a good thing in wedding fees."

Travelers Favor Colonel.
Travelers from The Dalles to Portland upon an O.W. R. & N. train were polled for an expression of political preference on October 7, and the balloting showed a good lead for Colonel Roosevelt. The vote stood: Roosevelt 74, Wilson 21, Taft 20 and Deba 4. Just before the train left The Dalles a poll was taken in one of the leading hotels, and showed the three leading candidates about evenly favored, the figures being 21, 20 and 19.

Roosevelt Is Favored.
Employees of the commercial department of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company are more than two to one in favor of Roosevelt for President, according to a straw vote taken recently.

If you want to spend an enjoyable evening, don't forget to attend the moving picture show next Sunday night.

For example look around Scio and vicinity and you will see that the best looking coats and suits are the La Vogue and they were all bought in Scio by people that know a good garment when they see it. The coats and suits that are the center of attraction today are the La Vogue. Each coat has an individuality of its own and capable of carrying all the style that its designer planned for it, nothing overdone or gaudy like you see in other makes that are made in some sweat shop where its designers and makers have butchered it up trying to pattern after the La Vogue styles.

If you are in need of a coat or suit this Fall, get the La Vogue and you will always be satisfied. If you don't want to buy it at home, you will find the La Vogue in Lebanon, Albany, Salem and Portland. It costs no more to wear a La Vogue than it does to wear some other make that is made under unsanitary conditions.

It is some satisfaction and pleasure to know that you are wearing a clean garment. The La Vogue is manufactured under the best of sanitary conditions and each employee has to pass under the examination of an M. D. before entering the plant.
