H. S. Johnston met with a painful accident Wednesday afternoon by being caught in the shafting at his shop. He was bruised up considerably, but as no bones were broken it is hoped he will be out again soon. The only wonder was that he was not killed outright as his coat caught in the big drive wheel and whirled him around several times. Fortunately the engine was a small one and his body caught in such a manner that it was stopped, but it took two men to pull him out.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION FOR 1913

The Youth's Companion appeals to every interest of family life, from house-keeping to athletics. It begins with stories of youthful vim and vigor, with articles which disclose the secrets of successful play in the great games, with charming tales of life at the girls' colleges. But the Companion does not surrender these readers when they have entered the more serious paths of life. Mothers will welcome the page for little children and the weekly doctor's article. Fathers will find the important news of the day as it is and not as it is rumored to be. The entire household will appreciate the sketches which touch gently on common foibles or caricature eccentricity. In short, for less than four cents a week the Companion brings into the home clean entertainment, pure inspiration, fine ideals, increase of knowledge.

Names rarely seen in tables of contents will be found in the Companion's Announcement for 1913, which will be sent upon request—with samples of the paper, to those not familiar with it.

Every new subscriber for 1913 will receive free all the issues for the remaining weeks of 1912; also free, The Companion Window Transparency and Calendar for 1913, in rich, translucent colors—the most beautiful of all Companion souvenirs.

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass. New subscriptions received at the Santiam News office.

I have some obligations which I must meet on December 1, so if you have any cash you can exchange it with me for goods at a great saving to you on anything in my line. Yours for business and cash.—N. I. Morrison.

PORTLAND NEWS LETTER

Land and Dairy Shows Draw Big Crowds at Portland This Week

Portland, Ore., Nov. 19. (Special)—Land and dairy shows have the center of the stage this week in Portland, and many visitors are in attendance. Fine dairy stock and dairy products may be seen at North Portland and the varied wealth of Pacific Northwest soil is collected at East Morrison and East First streets where splendid fruits, vegetables, grains, grasses, etc. are displayed. Both shows are well attended and the exhibits are of a very high class.

The Willamette valley wants the tolls taken off the locks at Oregon City, as provided for in an agreement reached some time ago by the war department and the Portland Ry. L. & P. Co. where by the locks will be purchased for $375,000. The abstract of title is said out to be complete and much delay has already been caused. Commercial bodies of the valley have taken steps to hasten the transfer.

Through the efforts of J. N. Teal, the government will be asked to subscribe one-half of $100,000 from the reclamation fund for a thorough survey of the Deschutes river to determine its power and irrigation possibilities. The state will, it is proposed, raise the remainder of the fund.

A "Made-in-Oregon" dinner held by the Oregon Manufacturers Association in Portland this week called attention to the importance of home industries and boosted state-made products. The value of such a movement is apparent but the necessity remains of sufficiently impressing it upon Oregon people.

Plans have been set on foot for making the 1913 Rose Festival the biggest thing in the history of the city. It is expected to spend more money on the coming festival than ever before and to provide lavish entertainment for the thousand of visitors.

A correspondent is wanted from each neighborhood in the vicinity of Scio. What has become of all our old friends who furnished items last winter?

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Radio telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good change for advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Oregon, operates under supervision of R. R. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.

Don't forget to attend the moving picture show at Wesely-Cain hall Sunday night.

Each age of our lives has its joys. Old people should be happy and they will be if Chamberlain's tablets are taken to strengthen the digestion and keep the bowels regular. These tablets are mild and gentle in their action and especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by all dealers.
