We wish to call your attention to the fact that most infectious diseases such as whooping cough, diphtheria and scarlet fever are contracted when the child has a cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will quickly cure a cold and greatly lessen the danger of contracting these diseases. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given to a child with implicit confidence. Sold by all dealers.

Santiam Farm Topics

Hello Mr Editor Santiam News: I see you still solicit items from the country, so now the Pie Eater is blown up equal to a bull frog, and since returning home from the Breitenbush Hot Spring in October, I am as frisky as a mule colt and would not trade shirts with my wife for less than a quarter to boot.

This is a new year and we must all spread ourselves to furnish news for the Editor of the Santiam News so it will be the most interesting little paper in the county. The editor is doing his best to help us, so let us help him all we can and we will all be benefited.

The Santiam Farm is moving on like a leaf on the stream with good health and prosperity on all sides, with plenty to eat and don't care a cuss for expenses.
The proprietor has both eyes knocked into one and has a soft spot on the top of his head, but wears his hat to keep people from seeing it.

Cattle and hog buyers are prowling around through this section as thick as jack rabbits in eastern Oregon. Cattle and hogs must be getting scarce as the price still tends upward.

The bachelor Crabtree brothers 84 and 79 years of age, are holding up equal to a couple of brown bears, with plenty to eat and the best of health.

Our new neighbor, Mr Kalina, is proud of his new farm which he bought of Mr Haley.

The neighbors along the road from Crabtree to the Lebanon—Scio road are volunteering to fix the road along the Santiam Farm by grading off the sand rock, using Tom Small for blasting powder, making the road wider and doing a first class job. We hope the supervisor will give each man credit for work done on the road.

The four smallpox patients at Dave Horsburg's, his wife and three children, are getting along fine with a new nurse who will soon pull them through all right.

Clifford Griffin has on his big and lucky and is out looking for a companion. He is winking and blinking like a blind mule in a hornets nest and is trying to slip up on the blind side of some sweet sixteen.

Mrs Jennie Lovejoy who has been visiting her mother Mrs SW Gaines, the past month, returned to Portland Thursday.

The proprietor of the Santiam Farm has been making some repairs in the way of a new wire fence called the Excelsior. I believe it is superior to any fence on the coast, I consider it a humdinger. Steve Philippi of Scio is the agent for this county, and I still intend putting in another hundred rods soon.

Scott Turner went over to Albany Saturday to have six teeth replaced. He slipped up behind a poor old gentle pony, slapped it on the rump and its heels flew up and extracted six of his teeth at one jerk, and without any cocaine or forceps. Scott picked himself up some ten feet away, wondering to himself if such an experience would teach him to say whoa before slapping another horse.

Mrs SW Gaines has at last made a success in getting her baron hens to lay, as they have all been taking a holiday the past two months. She has been reading all the poultry journals and articles on poultry and feeding them on ground bone, oyster

To Our Many Customers:

We want to heartily thank you for the liberal patronage you have given us during the past year.

It has been the greatest and most pleasant year's business we have ever enjoyed.

Wishing you a prosperous New Year, we are,

Sincerely yours,

shells, wheat and oats, all to no avail. She was disgusted as eggs were high so she made up her mind to treat one at a time and keep them away from the flock on a new process, which I assure you is a success every time as they lay every day. She treats from three to five each week but keeps it all a profound secret from the neighbors unless they pay her 25c each, but I will tell you if you will not let her know who told you. She has some hundred fine hens so she fixed up a fine pot of porridge of wheat, oats and bread, seasons it up fine, goes down, calls them all up, looks carefully over the flock, picks out a nice fat hen with a red comb, throws out her porridge and then slips carefully up behind the chosen hen, grabs her by both hind legs, jerks them off the ground with her right hand, seizes her around the neck with the left hand and shakes her till she is as limber as a string to prevent her from making an outcry so as not to frighten the balance of the flock.
Then she slips to a chopping block near by where she has a sharp hatchet and with one fearful blow off comes the head, so she lays her on the ground and says, "Now I guess you'll lay." She then brings her to the house and soon has her peeled and jerks out the running gears and there is a full nest of small eggs in sight. She soon treats the old man to a fine dish of fat hen dumplings and gravy, which he enjoys as a fattening hog would a bushel of roasting ears. Now please do not let the good wife know I told you or she would be in my whiskers equal to a swarm of bees, and I would have a time such as you read about in the Bible where Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden were caught eating the forbidden fruit.

The Santiam Farm proprietor and good wife went over Sunday to visit Uncle George Bilyeu and wife. We found Uncle George feeling quite rocky with a severe cold. Mrs Lock was also a visitor and we had a fine time and a bountiful dinner which we all enjoyed.

G A Griffin is having bad luck with his goats as 30 have died the past month and he is not able to account for it. Can anyone give him any light on the subject? It would be highly appreciated. Address to Thomas, Ore, or phone.
