up the neighborhood free of worth $1.50 each. Scott must have a strong stomach.

Old Uncle Jobe Crabtree, 84 very much grieved to see his favorite brother so badly affected.

M C Gaines has been making some improvements on his farm in the way of putting up 90 rods of wire fence. He has also recovered from his attack of sore throat.

Our nice spell of open weather without rain or snow has been highly appreciated, as it has reminded some farmers it was time to get busy, so some are scratching around like pulling a hen backwards by the tail.

Mr Lock with some of his neighbors are hauling and piling up several hundred yards of stone ready for the crusher to Scio around the foot hill where the road is almost impassible.
They are the kind of neighbors we need.

John Compton and his son were up among us visiting relatives and old time friends. Mr Compton used to be one among us Years ago, but now lives at Independence.

A short history of M C Gaines: Born in 1863, lived with his parents until 1886 when he married Miss Francis Poindexter, moved on a small stock ranch at the head of Racoon Hollow. Lived there till 1890 when he purchased 100 acres off the old Elliott farm where he farmed and raised stock. He has bought small tracts off the same farm until now he has the whole place, so he now owns 1147 acres of land.
He has 20 head of fine horses, 120 head of cattle, 250 head of sheep, 120 goats and 80 head of fine hogs. He has 500 acres of farm land and 647 of pasture; has nine barns ranging in size from 40 x 60 to 60 x 90 feet with 20 ft posts. He is feeding 100 head of cattle twice each day with 500 lbs hay and 12 dozen bundles sheaf oats, and is keeping 13 head of horses in barns and 50 head of hogs. His chores are a good days work for any man but his hard work has made it all. He has no children.
