LETTERS FROM OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

Santiam Farm Topics

Mrs. Bell Alvord returned home Friday after a week's visit to Portland and other points.

The peddler of aluminum ware was around last week delivering his orders sold some time ago.

Matt Craft of Albany took the rest of M. C. Gaines beef steers Thursday, which were a fine lot, averaging some $30 each.

Hay is scarce, and the demand good, so the Santiam Farm is selling vetch straw to fill the place of hay, as it is dirt cheap at $5 per ton.

Wm. Paul recently lost one of his fine imported mares in foaling. He had refused $1000 for the animal which was four years old.

Johnny Crabtree of Scio was out Sunday visiting with his sister Mrs. Horseburg and called at the Santiam Farm.

Farmers are tearing out a bone this fine weather, as every fellow is busy with more than he can do. The continued showers put everybody behind with farming and gardening.

Mrs. Bell Alvord left Tuesday for Portland, where she will resume her old job as a manicurist.

The Santiam Farmer drove his new 3 year old colt single to his old favorite mud buggy Monday to the great city of Scio. The colt is a dandy for his practice.

Mrs. Jane South of Independence and Mrs. Florence Hays and daughter of Lebanon are down on a visit with M. C. Gaines and other relatives and called on the father and wife, as Mrs. Hays is a step-daughter of S. W. Gaines.

Mrs. Jennie Lovejoy left Thursday for Albany where she has a good job as cook for a doctor.

Dr. Prill was called in to see Isaac Crabtree Tuesday as he is feeling quite frail. He also wished to fix up his business and had the notary, Riley Shelton, to get things arranged for the future.
