SANTIAM FARM TOPICS.

The old Pie Eater is still alive but too busy to tell his name, as he is trying to ship a few of his berries to the Corvallis cannery, has already near 1000 gallons and will let at least 1000 to 1200 dry up and rot on the vines. He is not able to get pickers enough to keep up with the hot weather which ripens 150 to 200 gallons daily.

Clarence Lorejoy of Corvallis took dinner Sunday with his mother-in-law, Mrs S W Gaines. He is in fine health and is now enjoying life again.

Hay cutting is about wound up and baling is now the order of the day, while the weather is cool and refreshing with the mercury standing at 90° to 100°—just enough to raise a good healthy sweat.

Autos go flying by like a bird on the wing, all trying to get the worth of their money.

The celebration given by our Bohemian neighbor was a grand success, as they did everything in their power to interest everybody. They had a fine table with all the luxuries to be had, which was served in style. There was nothing lacking when a man wished a meal up in G, as they were the finest of cooks.

The Santiam Farm is finding sale for all his berries, fruit and rhubarb, as he shipped the Corvallis cannery 450 lbs of rhubarb, 300 gallons of loganberries, 50 gallons of gooseberries, 50 gallons of currants and still have 1000 gallons of berries to ship. Anyone wishing ripe loganberries now, 10c on the vine, as I can't ship the ripe ones. Plenty of blackcap raspberries, also Himalaya, 20c on the vine.

Geo Bilyeu and wife returned home Monday night from the Breitenbush hot springs where they have been the past month. They report a grand time and the health of each greatly improved. They left quite a crowd there and more going in every day.

James Poindexter and wife who have been down on a honeymoon excursion the past month returned to their home at Condon, but think of moving down to the valley this fall as his wife is so delighted with the fruit and berries of this country.

M C Gaines who got his shoulder cap broken some time ago is slowly on the improve.

Hay cutting is now in full blast with a much better crop than was anticipated before the last three weeks rain which made tons of hay and spoiled tons of berries and cherries.

Mr Lee of Raccoon hollow has his new barn well nigh completed and is ready for his new crop of hay.

M C Gaines still has a badly used up shoulder as he is not able to use his arm but little and has no help and 50 acres of hay to cut. He would give some man a good layout if he would call around.

Harry Freeman who lives on the old Elliott farm went to the Bend country and took up a ranch, so he wishes to sell his crop and move at once. We will miss him as he is a fine man.
