An automobile that won't turn turtle is another crying need.

Kissing is said to be unsanitary, but who kisses for his health an'way?

Gossip has been well defined as putting two and two together and making it five.

A man can forget to change his shirt or get shaved, but he always remembers where he laid a half smoked cigar.

"Dairy Center" is sure some change from "Dairy City." Of course no one is liable to confuse the two(?) names.

"Avoid the fly as you would a viper," says a health authority.
That's all right. What we want to know is how to induce the fly to avoid us.

A funny old bird is the pelican.
His bill can hold more than his belican. He can take in his beak enough food for a week, but we don't understand how the helican.

A man will work all day in the hot sun and not mind it much, but to stand idle in the hot sun for an hour is torture. This should be remembered when we tie our horses to a post while we do our trading in town. Horses have feelings as well as persons.

There are 7,698,325,461 kinds of trouble in this world, and if an eastern exchange is to be believed, the married man who lets a girl sprinkle a few drops of her favorite perfume on his coat lapel is going to meet every blamed one of them.

The parcel post system is of great convenience to the public.
It fills a long felt want that express companies could not or would not meet. As an adjunct to the rural free delivery alone, it is of inexpressible benefit.
That the usefulness of the system will be increased, there is not the shadow of a doubt.

The most useful, the most reliable and the most profitable of all domestic things are the cow and the hen, whose products are always saleable and always usable by the family. You show us a man who takes good care of a dairy or one who gives his poultry intelligent care and we will show you a man who runs no store bills and keeps square with the world.

Scio and Shedd are indulging in a war of words over the use of the slogan, "The Dairy City." Both claim that they discovered it first and want to prohibit the other from using it as a slogan for their town.—Lebanon Criterion. Wake up, brother! You should at least try to be truthful in your comments. Scio has been using this slogan over five years, while Shedd "discovered" it something like thirty days ago.

Dr. J. W. Cole Dies

Word was received this morning, says Wednesday's Herald, of the death of Dr J W Cole of Buxton, the father of Mrs F C Veal of this city. He passed away at his home at Buxton this morning, following a severe attack of paralysis. The funeral will be held at Buxton tomorrow afternoon.

Dr Cole was for many years a prominent citizen of Scio, having left here a little over a year ago with his wife, Dr M T Cole, to make a new home for themselves at Buxton. He leaves a large circle of friends who will mourn his departure.

A D S shaving cream makes shaving easy.

If you need a pair of Dress shoes, the Florsheim has them all backed off the shelves for style and quality. John Wensley.

Mr and Mrs Harry Riblett of Malone, Wash, arrived here the first of the week for a visit at the home of their aunt, Mrs R W Parker.

A fine time and a good crowd is reported at the dance given at the pavilion on the fair grounds last Saturday night.

Remarkable Cure of Dysentery
"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15 and used the doctor's medicine and other remedies with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief," writes B W Hill of Snow Hill, N. C. For sale by all dealers.
