Mother of Eighteen Children
"I am the mother of eighteen chilwork than any young woman in my town," writes Mrs C J Martin, Boone Mill, Va. "I suffered for five years with stomach trouble and could not eat as much as a biscuit without suffering.

I have taken three bottles of Chamberlain's tablets and am now a well woman and weigh 168 lbs. I can eat anything I want to and as much as I want, and feel better than I have at any time in ten years. I refer to any one in Boone Mill or vicinity and they will

She Raised All Her Fresh Vegetables.
"My wife raises all her fresh vegetables," remarked the professional funny man as he helped his guest to string beans and tiny young beets. As the apartment was on the top floor of a high building, the guest had visions of bottled and greenhouses on the roof.
No window boxes producing fresh vegetables were in evidence, and the matter of fact food was spoonfeeding as to the agricultural methods of the funny man's wife when the buzz of the dumbwaiter called her from the table.
"More fresh vegetables?" queried the funny man as she resumed her seat at the table.
"Yes," she responded wearily. "You see," she explained, "we're up so high that the market boy never sends the dumbwaiter high enough. It stops about two-thirds of the way. If I don't raise all we eat, the people on the fifth floor'd get it, I'm afraid. That's John's 'raising my own vegetables' joke, but it really isn't much of a joke, after all!"—New York Times

The Sea Greyhound.
The waters about Iceland abound with fish. Of one of these inhabitants of the water, called the dog-fish, a writer on the subject has this to say: "He is a long, cruel looking fellow and is the one fish the fishermen dread. He is the sea greyhound without legs, and no hyena is more crafty. His two eyes shine like light emeralds. In the center of his back is a bony protuberance, sharp as a razor and shaped like a reaper's sickle, and his mouth, like his cousin's, the shark, is beneath his body."

He Was No Flatterer.
The roll of "things that might have been said differently" has been swelled, according to Rev. E. J.
Hardy's "How to Be Happy Though Civil," by a curate in England who, on the occasion of his marriage, received a handsome present from his parishioners.

He began a speech of thanks in this way: "I will not call you ladies and gentlemen, for I know you too well for that."
