$30,000 STOCK SACRIFICED

HERE IS A CLOTHING SALE that stands head and shoulders above every other sale ever held in the Willamette valley. A short time ago William Bain, president of the Albany State Bank became associated with this business. Henceforth a new policy is to dominate the business. It is the policy of small profits and large volume as against large profits on each sale. In outlining the future policy of the Tracy Clothing Co. it is absolutely necessary that the present stock be reduced at once. Although this stock is absolutely brand new this fall it must go. Celebrated lines as Hirsch Wickwire and "clothcraft" clothes, Knox hats, Fownes gloves, Superior underwear and other makes that every man knows, have been slaughtered without regard to price or profit. Such savings as these will probably never again be repeated in the history of Oregon! So make the most of your opportunity--come the first thing--be among the throngs of men who appreciate quality merchandise at Re-organization sacrifice prices!

A Night of Terror

Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup, and nothing in the house to relieve it. Many mothers have passed nights of terror in this situation. A little forethought will enable you to avoid all this. Chamberlain's cough remedy is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Keep it at hand. For sale by all dealers.

The program given by the High School Literary Society last Tuesday evening was very entertaining. One of the numbers was a shoe-phone solo by Verel Porter in which the music seemed to issue from several old shoes which were perched on some tables. Another number was a debate on dogs. The girls based their talks on several dogs which they brought with them. The debate was won when Sadie Downing brought her father's dog, Cab, on the stage to prove that dogs were of some value.

Angus Shaw of this city died at the home of his father, John Shaw, in Albany last Friday morning. He leaves a wife, Marguerite Shaw, his father and mother, two brothers, Robert of Astoria and Royal of this city, and a host of friends to mourn his death. A special train from this city carried over a hundred to attend the funeral which was conducted at the Presbyterian church in Albany. He was a member of the local order of Odd Fellows.
