Notes from the Elkhorn Mines

H B Holt is building a wagon bridge across the river at Elkhorn.

It is expected mail will be delivered at Elkhorn twice a week, commencing July 1.

Several men were discharged at one of the mines this week on account of a dispute over unionizing the camp.

Jack Appleyard, a veteran prospector and miner of this district passed from this life at his daughter's home in Salem last week. Jack was well known along the river and held a group of claims at Mineral Harbor. Death was due to paralysis.

Claude Compton left Elkhorn hill Saturday for Lebanon to spend the 4th. Claude has been operating the Georgia Buggy on the night shift at the Crown.

High grade copper carbonate ore has been opened up at the Crown mine this week, also some samples show chrysolized native silver. Bids will be asked for by the company for the erection of a wagon bridge across the North Fork on the road to the portal of the main crosscut, so as to more conveniently transport the heavy machinery to be used in the construction of the tunnel.

Ira Gilchrist who has been manager at the Albany mines in quartzville the past three months, arrived in Gates Saturday, accompanied by his wife, on their way to Albany to spend the 4th. Mr Gilchrist brought out some very fine samples of ore taken from recent workings at the Albany and reports some developments going on in that region; also some important ore discoveries are being made.

Cured of Indigestion

Mrs Sadie P Clawson, Indiana, Pa, was bothered with indigestion. "My stomach pained me night and day," she writes, "I would feel bloated and have headache and belching after eating. I also suffered from constipation. My daughter had used Chamberlains tablets and they did her so much good that she gave me a few doses of them and insisted upon my trying them. They helped me as nothing else has done." For sale by all dealers.
