Possibly About You

Tom Large was down from Crabtree Sunday visiting with friends and looking after business interests.

Roe Shelton and family are expected home from Arlington this week, as he failed to receive the benefit in health from the change which he hoped for.

Local news is a scarce article this week as everyone who is not too busy to get away is out of town on some kind of a vacation.

Mrs O S Pomeroy and son Teddy of Kimberly, Idaho, came Saturday for a visit at the L W Pomeroy home, this being their first visit here in several years.

Good mare for sale cheap; weight 1450 lbs; will work any place. Enquire at this office. 51tf

Chas Wesely left Friday for a few days visit to the mines in which he is interested in the Elkhorn district. He is very enthusiastic over the outlook in that region.

I want to buy a few weaned calves.—E C Smith, Thomas, Oregon. 52 tf

I buy fat hogs, stock hogs, cattle, sheep, etc. Phone or call on W E Brown at Scio and let me know what you have to sell.—Tom Large.

By a special arrangement we offer the Santiam News and the Twice-A-Week Albany Herald both papers one year for $1.75. To those who wish the Daily Herald we will furnish this paper and the Santiam News for $2.50; less than the price of the Herald alone.

"Services at Christian church next Sunday. The morning subject will be, "A Contract for Eternity," from a chart; evening subject, "Why I am a Member of the Church of Christ." Don't miss this one. V K Allison, Minister.

A social dance will be given at the Fair Grounds Saturday evening, August 1. Everybody cordially invited to attend. Music will be furnished by Forest Woodmansee's orchestra. A good time is guaranteed to every one. 1-2

Mr and Mrs L W Pomeroy had quite a round up last Sunday with sons, daughters, sons-in-law, daughters-in-law and grand children, numbering 30 in all, in honor of Mrs O S Pomeroy who lives in Idaho. A bountiful dinner was served and a jolly good time was had by all present.

G W Adams of Marion, agent for the Horticultural Fire Relief Insurance Company of Salem, who was in town Saturday, handed the writer a check from the company for $6.00, this being a return dividend of 25 per cent of the board rate paid the company for a policy the past year. Mr Adams stated that contrary to the understanding of some, the policy holders cannot be assessed any amount in case of fire losses, but on the other hand a handsome dividend is usually declared at the end of the year, and that in any case the company cannot charge any more than the board rate which is stated at the time of the issuance of policy.

AIDED HER RIVAL

Romance of a London Society Leader and a Diamond Necklace.

Romance often lurks in a jewelry store, and the jewelers of Bond street could if they liked tell many an amazing story. There is no need to dilate on the fascination which scintillating gems exercise upon the feminine mind. That fascination is a fact and may serve to explain a mortal enmity which existed recently and probably still exists between two well known London society leaders.

To one of these ladies a highly respected admirer mentioned his intention to purchase a diamond necklace. Knowing that the lady possessed more than a superficial knowledge of the value of stones, he begged her to select for him what he required. The price he was prepared to give was £1,500.

The lady jumped to the conclusion that such a request could have but one meaning—viz, that she herself was to be the eventual recipient of the gift. She thereupon visited the jeweler's shop and inspected his stock, but at the price she was empowered to give saw nothing that particularly took her fancy.

A fascinating piece of workmanship, however, did attract her, the price of which was 3,000 guineas. The desire to possess it became irresistible. She arranged with the jeweler to send the necklace to the gentleman for whom she was acting and invoice it to him at the agreed upon price, while she gave her own check on the spot for the balance. Then she went home and awaited the arrival of the gift.

Some days passed, but there was no appearance of the necklace. A horrible doubt which assailed her became a certainty a day or two later when she saw the identical necklace she had helped to pay for sparkling on the neck of a younger and more beautiful rival.—London Tatler.

Pepsin, Saliva and Gastric Juice.

Pepsin, the principal agent in the digestion of food, is a powerful solvent stored up in the walls of the stomach and only poured forth when its assistance is needed. When pure this fluid is perfectly neutral, neither acid nor alkaline, and appears to be unable to exert any action without the presence of an acid. Such acid is supplied in the gastric juice, secreted by the gastric follicles covering the coating of the stomach. The saliva is merely for the purpose of moistening the food, thus preparing it for the action of the pepsin and gastric fluids.

Significant.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the famous arctic explorer, has told many good stories of the way in which the Eskimos grasp the literal meaning of anything they hear.

An instance of this followed on a sermon preached to the Eskimos from the text, "Do not follow in the footsteps of the wicked."

"What some of the Eskimos thought of me," Mr. Stefansson remarks, "can be seen from the fact that one day I noticed that some Eskimos who were traveling behind me were being careful not to follow in my trail!"
