UPPER SANTIAM EVENTS

Co. Surveyor Geddes came to Lyons last week and did surveying for Mr. Applett.

The outcome of the Crier shooting is that Mrs. Grier married Solomon in Portland last week.

Mrs. Bert Gates is to teach the Mint school during the winter term. She is a fine teacher. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raines of Lacombe and the niece of merchant Raines of that place.

The town of Gates is named after Bert Gates father who took up the location of that burg forty years ago. He was the pioneer school teacher in this country.

Mrs. Bennett Robertson of Gates died Friday the 8th inst. of heart failure. She and her husband have lived here since 1883. She has been a life long member of the Baptist church and a consistent Christian. She reared a large family. Four of her children after becoming grown preceded her to the unknown land and she was buried Saturday along side of them in the Kings Prairie cemetery. One of the boys (James) was conductor on a railroad in Washington and was killed in a wreck on his own train.

Two children survive her, Mrs. Mary Goodwin of Gates and Robert of Albany who is an engineer on the C. & E. She and her husband maintained a delightful home full of good cheer and hospitality. The latch string was always out and strangers within the gate made to feel at home. Funeral services were held in the Congregational church, Rev. McKend of Mill City and Rev. Blair of Albany officiated, a very large procession followed to the cemetery.

Mr. Byron Wolfe of Portland and wife are here for a while. Byron is cruising for the Weyerhaeuser Lumber Co. on the ridge between Mill City and the North Fork. She is visiting her mother and three brothers who live on the old home ranch at Mill City. Mr. Horner now dead, inherited the place from his mother who married a Mr. DeFord who homesteaded the land over fifty years ago, old timers no doubt remember him.

The Catholics have built a neat frontage on their church at Mill City with a belfry over head.

The Odd Fellows of M. C. installed officers January 2nd.

Don Mc Knight is helping to run the machinery in the big mill.

A large number of witnesses have gone to Portland to attend court.

A Mr. Giebler has brought suit against the Hammond Lumber Co. for damages for injuries received while logging.

The Odd Fellows of Klamath Falls telegraphed the Odd Fellows of McHama to take charge of the burial of Geo. McLean who died at the former place. The body arrived Saturday, January 2, and was taken to the Fox Valley cemetery and interred the same day. George was born and reared on the old homestead on the ridge between Lyons and Jordan. He was an orderly young man of good character. He is survived by a sister Miss Francis of Portland who is president of the Nurses Association of Oregon, a brother Duncan head sawyer for the Hammond Lumber Co. and a sister Mrs. Prince Goodman of Klamath Falls. Prince is a member of the respected Goodman family that lived many years near the Jordan Grange hall.

If President Wilson is compelled to send a final ultimatum to England, he had better send that navy around to keep the Japs from climbing our tall trees.
