Local Druggist Make Many Friends

E C Peery, druggist, reports they are making many friends through the QUICK benefit which Scio people receive from the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and it is the most thorough bowel cleanser known, acting on BOTH the lower and upper bowel. JUST ONE DOSE of Adler-i-ka relieves constipation and gas on the stomach almost IMMEDIATELY.

ORIGIN OF WAR TERMS.

Curious Scraps of History Woven About Arms and Munitions.

With the exception of shrapnel, named after its inventor, an English colonel, there are very few war terms now in use which have a British origin.

Sword, musket, grenadier, dragoon are all alien terms. "Grenadier" is generally supposed to come from the French. The word is, however, of German birth and originally was "grenatier," the force owing their name to the hand grenades with which they were armed.

The word "musket" has an Italian derivation, "moschetto," which was really a species of small sparrow hawk. In ancient times and in the middle ages the name musket was used to designate a small mortar which threw arrows.

When gunpowder was invented a small cannon was baptized "musket," and later the rifle of the ordinary infantryman earned the name, while the whole unit was called "musketeers."

Both "dragoon" and "cuirassier" come from the French. The dragoons had a dragon painted on their shields, and the cuirassiers carried a breastplate made of copper —in French "cuivre."

"Hussar" comes from the Hungarian word "huzs," which means "twenty." The force derived its name from the fact that long ago every twentieth recruit in Hungary was placed in one of the mounted regiments.

The uhlans owe their name to the Turks. It comes from the Turkish word "oglan," youth.

"Sword" comes from the Polish word "szabla" and "pistol" from the Italian town Pistola, which was famous in the middle ages for its arms factories.

The bayonet takes its name from the French town Bayonne, where the inventor lived some 125 years ago.

"Howitzer" is derived from the Czech word "houfnice," a wooden apparatus used in ancient times for the purpose of throwing stones. We meet with the word also in the Hus-sian war, in the fifteenth century, where the weapon figures as "haufnitz."

The officer's rank of major was derived originally from the Spanish word "mayor," signifying great or high.

Even "war" itself comes from a foreign source, coming down with the Italian and Spanish "guerra," and the French "guerre" from the old German "werra."—New York American.

How It Grew.

Mrs. A. (to Mrs. B.)—That Mrs.
Newcomer is so fond of children.
The other day when I called she was blowing soap bubbles with them through a common clay pipe.

Mrs. B. (to Mrs. C.)—That Mrs.
Newcomer is so funny. Mrs. A. saw her amusing the children with a common clay pipe.

Mrs. C. (to Mrs. D.)—That Mrs.
Newcomer smokes a common clay pipe.

Mrs. D. (to Mrs. E.)—That Mrs.
Newcomer smokes a horrid pipe. I don't see how any woman in her sober senses could do that.

Mrs. E. (to Mrs. F.)—That Mrs.
Newcomer smokes a pipe and drinks awfully.—London Scraps.

As Walter Saw It.

Walter, aged seven, is a wise son who knows not only his own father, but his own mother likewise.

"Now, Walter," said the teacher, "if your father could do a piece of work in one hour and your mother could also do it in one hour, how long would it take both of them to do it together?"

"Three hours!" replied the scholar without hesitation.

"Wrong!" said the teacher. "How do you make that?"

"Three hours," repeated Walter stolidly, "counting the time they'd be arguing about how it should be done."—London Scraps.

Who Voted?

Benjamin Franklin once discus-ed the property qualification for voting in Pennsylvania. A man owned a donkey of sufficient value to enable him to vote, but before the next election the donkey died, and the man's vote was refused.
"Now," asked Franklin, "who voted at the previous election, the man or the donkey?"

BUTTER WRAPPERS

The state law requires that all dairy butter offered for sale at a dealers, must be enclosed in a paper wrapper on which is printed the number of ounces of butter, full weight and by whom made.

We are equipped to print these wrappers to comply with the state law and at prices you cannot afford to ignore, and when used they make a very neat and attractive package.

THE SANTIAM NEWS

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
Chapman & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.
They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A Great Advantage.

A school principal was lecturing his teachers upon efficiency. "What would be thought," he demanded, "of a glove-maker who, at the close of the season, found 10 per cent of his stock returned because it fell below standard requirements? Why should we require 100 per cent efficiency of the glove-maker and only 90 per cent of a teacher?" "Because," responded a teacher, "he can select his kids!"

What Becomes of the Smoke.

Smoke is composed of gases and of little particles of fuel which are carried up the chimney by suction.
Knowing this, the ultimate end of smoke may be readily explained.
The fuel particles fall to the ground of their own weight when they get beyond the drawing power of the chimney and out of the current of the heated air formed in the chimney flue.

There is a lot of carbonic acid gas in smoke which mixes with the air and eventually becomes food for plants. Some other gases which are not entirely consumed when they come from the chimney are burned by the air still more until they, too, become carbonic acid gas.

The Watch on the Rhine.

In 1849, when Max Schneckenburger, then, it is said, a druggist's assistant in Berne, wrote "Die Wacht am Rhein," Germany was expecting an attack by France. The verses, which appeared in a small volume with others of a similar nature, attracted little notice. The author died in 1849, unknown, and little dreaming that twenty years later, when the war with France did come, his song, set to stirring music by Karl Wilhelm, would become the national anthem.—Youth's Companion.

Broad Brimmed Hats.

Toward the end of the thirteenth century big broad brimmed hats were fashionable in Austria. They were of such huge dimensions that a face under one of them could not be recognized. A poem written by Johannes Hadlath expresses disgust with the style and the hope that the hats might be consigned to the Danube "so that the pretty faces of our women might once more become visible."—Exchange.

He Thought Them High.

"Where is your high school?" asked the stranger in town.
"Which one?" asked the pompous looking citizen addressed.
"Why, have you more than one high school?"
"Oh, yes; we have two schools, each three stories high."—Yonkers Statesman.
