Possibly About You

Joe Boyanovsky motored over to Albany last Friday on business.

Miss Myrtle Knauf is now a hello girl at the Home Telephone office.

Editor Dugger of the Tribune visited Albany the last of the week.

Mrs J N Weddle visited with her daughter, Mrs Fred Ohlmeier, at Gervais from Friday until Sunday.

Best quality butter wrappers, neatly printed to conform with the law, 60c per hundred at the News office.

Mrs A J Johnson of Corvallis came over the last of the week for a visit with her sister, Mrs C A Werner and other relatives.

Mrs C A Parker and son, Eldon, returned home Monday after a few days visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs John Hodge at Philomath.

Mrs Frances Wesely and daughters, Rose and Lucy, and son Ed, left Monday morning for a three months visit with her son James at Wilson, Kansas.

G W Adams and Frank Libby of Marion were transacting business in Scio last Saturday, making the trip in the former's auto.

Mrs Frank Butcher of North Yakima, Wash, left for her home last Friday after spending several weeks here at the bedside of her father, John Gill, who is still in very poor health.

The mohair pool which was sold here last Friday brought 33.10 cents per pound, and was bought by Albert Sternberg of Albany. This is the highest price paid for mohair at any place in the valley, but this is not surprising in view of the fact that the Scio pool always commands more than the market price and has the reputation of being the best wool in Western Oregon. The pool was delivered at West Scio yesterday.

May the 12th, at the M E church, Miss Pauline Liska will give a benefit concert, assisted by Mrs Lena Palmer, accompanist, and Mrs Annette Stoddard, who will render a number of organ solos. Among the number of selections sung by Miss Liska will be a group of Bohemian Folk Songs in her native tongue and costume. Miss Liska possesses a voice of unusual promise and all who have heard her sing predict a great future for her. A charge of 25c will be made and as the funds of this concert will be used to further her musical education it is hoped that there will be a large number present on this occasion. — Albany Herald.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION EXPIRES on the date stamped in the space below. To those who pay promptly in advance the subscription price is $1.25 per year. The price is $1.50 if paid at end of year. The paper is not sent to subscribers who are more than one year in arrears.

Teachers Re-elected

At a meeting of the school directors last Friday evening the entire corps of teachers was re-elected for next year. It is not known whether all will accept or not, but it is to be hoped that they will all stay, as all departments are in a flourishing condition and one of the most successful years in the history of the Scio school is the record of the one just closing.

Surprise Party

About fifty of the young people, mostly from the High School, gave a surprise party at the school house Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Gladys Jones, who leaves this week to make her home with her grandmother at Medford, after a short visit with her father at Stayton. Games were played during the evening, and ice cream and wafers were served. Miss Jones has many friends in Scio who are sorry to see her leave, but join in wishing her happiness in her new home.

Calves For Sale

E C Smith,
Thomas

C A Ruff, Internal Revenue Inspector, spent several days in Scio last week.

Mr and Mrs G H Smith of Gilkey Station were transacting business in town Monday. Mr Smith expects to leave in a few days for Alaska where he will spend the summer.

C C Wade received a letter a few days ago from C R Graham, general superintendent of the Wells, Fargo Express Co., commending him for the excellent way in which he does his work to the satisfaction of the patrons of the company, of which mis-sive C C is justly proud.

N I Morrison's store at Scio, Oregon is headquarters for "Clean-up and Paint-up week," May 4th to 11th. Every one help Brighten-up and Clean-up during that week! Thousands are visiting this section this year. Let us show the East what Oregon is the cleanest and brightest place on earth by using a little paint, brush and elbow grease. Come in and I will help you pick out your colors. — N I Morrison.

HOGWALLOW NEWS

DUNK BOTTS, Regular Correspondent

A stranger was here this week. He was peddling territory for a patent chicken roost, and sold Fletcher Henstep one-half of the United States for five dollars. Fletcher bought the half west of the Mississippi river, so that he could get the Rocky Mountains in the deal.

Miss Fruzile Alsop sang another song at the Dog Hill church last second Sunday. While there is not much of a demand during the present financial depression over the United States for vocal music, nearly everybody in the auditorium applauded except those residing in hollering distance of her home.

Washington Hicks is thinking about moving from Hogwallow to the Calf Ribs neighborhood. The people in that section, he says, are much better than those around here as he has been living here a long time, and knows them and does not know anybody very well up there.

Raz Barlow says pigs feet are good, but in eating them you have to cover a lot of territory to get any results.

The Mail Carrier got in today very tired, as he had several long letters to bring.

The deacons of the Dog Hill church have appointed Ellick Hellwanger and Sidney Hicks a committee to go up close to the yellow jackets' nest at the church.

Poke Eazley has been making improvements around his place this week, principally in the improvement of his martin box on the tall pole out by the horse-lot fence. In order to properly repair his martin box on the inside he had to rebuild it large enough for him to get inside.

Poke Eazley sees no need of a moon since he got his new lantern.

The old well that is used in all the plays that come to Tickville opera house has been moved outside while the building is being put back in order after a wild west drama.

A deaf and dumb man has bought an interest in the store at Bounding Billows. He will be a silent partner in the business.

Miss Flutie Belcher will go to Tickville tomorrow for a visit of a few days. Later—She has decided not to go.

A man living in the Calf Ribs neighborhood subscribed for the Tickville Tidings last Saturday. He has been acting strangely for some time, but nothing much was thought of it.

A storm party was to take place at the Hog Ford preacher's home last Tuesday night, but had to be postponed on account of the pretty weather.

Fletcher Henstep has decided to give up trying to farm this year, a doubt having come up in his mind as to how it should be done since reading several pieces of literature on farming.

Clab Hancock says a jaybird cannot sing like a mockingbird, neither has it the plumage nor the pride of a peacock; still the jaybird seems to get along as well as any of the rest.

When a person changes his mind it indicates that he is capable of having more than one thought—if not more than two.

A sleight of hand show was the attraction at the Wild Onion school house Saturday night. The man doing the tricks was very shrewd, and the Deputy Constable, who shadowed him all through the performance, threatened to arrest him for deceiving the public.

Cricket Hicks, who some time ago was mentioned in this column as having given up his job of asking people to come in when they came to the postoffice, has invaded musical circles, and has accepted a position ringing the bell at the Hog Ford church and holding music for the bass fiddler of the Excelsior Fiddling Band. In the latter task he gets no salary, there being plenty of glory in it, as everybody will see him every time the band plays.
