Possibly About You

Miss Almeda Smith was visiting friends in Salem over Sunday.

Supt. Carlton was in Scio Monday to see about standardizing the schools.

If you want to place an ad where it will be read, use the columns of the Santiam News.

J. S. Warwick returned Saturday evening from a few days' business trip to Portland and Oregon City.

Best quality butter wrappers, neatly printed to conform with the law, 60c per hundred at the News office.

Late sales of Ford cars made by Fred T. Bilyeu are touring cars to Geo. Rodgers and Chas. Vsetke and a roadster to Wm. Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hodge of Philomath motored over Sunday and spent the day at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. C. A. Parker. Miss Myrtle Knauf returned home with them for a few days' visit.

Herb Wahn and Mrs. Cramer came in from Junction City Wednesday morning and went out to H. E. Burmester's for a visit of a few days.

A lady came in to the News office Saturday just at closing time and ordered a job of printing, which was delivered to her within an hour. Such promptness is very pleasing to our patrons.

Mrs. L. W. Charles has been confined to her bed for several days with the mumps, and as her absence from the News office leaves the force short-handed, any irregularities, errors, or omissions this week will be pardoned by our readers, it is hoped.

F. J. Denney, a prominent farmer, who lives between Scio and Jefferson, has joined the army of Ford owners. It is reported that Mr. Denney stated just before buying the car that he had no notion of buying an automobile, he was just going to get a Ford.

Merchants and others, in placing advertising, will do well to consider the fact that the Santiam News goes into most of the farm homes between the forks of the Santiam, and is the best advertising medium in this part of the country.

One of the best clubbing offers that we have been able to offer for some time is the Portland Daily Telegram and the Santiam News, both one year for $3.50, which is less than the regular price of the Telegram alone. See display ad elsewhere for further particulars.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION EXPIRES on the date stamped in the space below. To those who pay promptly in advance the subscription price is $1.25 per year. The price is $1.50 if paid at end of year. The paper is not sent to subscribers who are more than one year in arrears.

Five Hundred Party

Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Prill entertained last evening with a 500 party. Thirteen tables were prepared, but as some were unavoidably absent from sickness and other causes, a little less than this number were filled.

As Dr. and Mrs. Prill are royal entertainers, it goes without saying that an enjoyable time was had by the guests. A dainty luncheon and prizes for the best player and the booby were diversions of the evening aside from the game of 500.

The Farmers Union

The writer paid a visit last Sunday afternoon to Richardson Gap local of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, and we wish to state right here that anyone who has the idea that the 'novelty' will wear off in a little while and the Union die, had better get that notion out of their heads right away.

This Local is composed of about seventy-five of the best and most substantial farmers between the Forks of the Santiam, and they are in dead earnest. They conduct the affairs of the Union in much the same way that a progressive merchant does, meeting with drummers for various lines of goods and buying where they can do the best, quality considered.

About the best and only sensible way for the local merchants to buck the Farmers' Union, is to meet the members half way, shave off exorbitant profits, and make such inducements for their trade that they will have no excuse to send away for their supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson of Corvallis came over last Friday for a short visit with the latter's father, N. Young, and sister, Mrs. C. A. Warner, and brother Wm. Young. They returned home Saturday evening.

Drs. Lowe & Turner the eye specialists will be in Scio every six weeks. Wait for them.

N I Morrison's store at Scio, Oregon is headquarters for "Clean-up and Paint-up week," May 4th to 11th. Every one help Brighten-up and Clean-up during that week! Thousands are visiting this section this year. Let us show the East that Oregon is the cleanest and brightest place on earth by using a little paint, brush and elbow grease. Come in and I will help you pick out your colors.—N I Morrison.

Darby-Compton

Miss Lora Compton and Liston A. Darby were united in marriage Wednesday, May 5, at high noon at the home of the bride's uncle, W. E. Arnold.

Both are well and favorably known here, having been raised in this neighborhood. The best wishes of a host of friends follow the happy couple for a long and prosperous life of wedded bliss.

An unusual wedding ceremony was performed this morning, says Monday's Democrat, when Martin Gisler, of Scio, and recently of Switzerland, and Elza Eggerschwiler, also a native of Switzerland, were married at St. Mary's church, Father Lane officiating. The marriage service was conducted in German and the sermon and singing also in their native tongue, which brought back vividly to their minds memories and scenes of their native land. They were attended by John Schilling of Scio, and Anna Renland of this city. They will make their home at Scio.

Mrs. E. D. Myers and Mrs. W. F. Gill left for Portland Monday where they will visit friends for two weeks.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding rings—F M French & Son, Jewelers and Engravers, Albany.

Fine rugs, lacing leathers, lap robes, etc. for sale or made to order. Special: Bear, horse and calf leathers make dainty furniture covers. Prices right. Half mile south of the Bohemian hall, Crabtree Tannery, Frank Fiala, prop.

Miss Smith left Friday night to attend the May Day exercises at Monmouth on Saturday.

Miss Severance and Miss Lilla Sims were guests at a house party at Miss Vada Holt's over the week-end. A large "get-together picnic" was arranged by Miss Holt for Saturday and about one hundred and fifty were present. After the picnic dinner, an elaborate program, concluding with a May dance and winding of the May pole, was greatly appreciated and applauded.

HOGWALLOW NEWS

DUNK BOTTS, Regular Correspondent
(Copyrighted, 1915, George Bingham)

Fletcher Henstep declares publicly that he has again severed his connection with the Excelsior Fiddling Band and will not hereafter be responsible for any of the bad music or debts that they may make.

A protracted meeting is fixing to start at Bounding Billows and Columbus Allsop is brushing up his necktie, as he always dresses up when he joins the church every year.

Fit Smith, who has had his front porch stored away all winter, is dusting it off and will put it up next week.

Poke Easley is going to build a new house this spring. He is trying to plan the structure so that all the rooms will be on the north side.

Miss Fruzie Allison attempted to mislead the public as to her age the other day by subscribing for the Youth's Companion.

Atlas Peck came to Hogwallow yesterday wearing two heavy watch chains and it was at first feared that he was in custody.

When the Excelsior Fiddling Band attempted to serenade Washington Hocks last Friday night Mrs. Hocks asked that the bass fiddle of Columbus Allison be omitted as she was afraid it would jar her setting of eggs.

A jug was found in the haystack near Bounding Billows Monday by the Deputy Constable. As nobody has been seen around the haystack lately it is believed that the jug did not contain liquor.

Tobe Moseley, who some time ago caught a deep-seated cold when he went to sleep too near a knot hole at the Dog Hill church last second Sunday, is convalescing.

Miss Rosvola Moseley, who has been singing by request at various social functions, will hereafter not sing so much—by request.

The government evidently is in a thriving condition now, judging from the appearance of the Postmaster, who has a new suit of clothes and another hat.

The Tin Peddler, who comes through Hogwallow every week, got an order from Isaac Hellwanger to put a new glass in one of his pairs of specs. The peddler will have to have the order filled in Tickville as there are no extra window panes in Hogwallow.

One of the most important news items we have been compelled to chronicle in some time is the announcement that Cricket Hicks has decided to roach his hair on the left side this summer. He does this to hide the place where the calf kicked him.

A swarm of bees got after Atlas Peck the other day and chased him almost to the still-house. The bees showed very poor judgment in their selection of a place to settle.

Flin Dillard, who had been driving a young steer to his cart for some time past, has succumbed to the rapid advances of civilization and will hereafter drive a mule.

Tobe Moseley reports that one of his goslings had a fit last week.

Sim Flinders thinks times are going to get better right along from now on, as the fish are biting good and the prospects are good for a big blackberry crop.

Rats entered Poke Easley's corn crib a few nights ago and carried away a lot of corn. Rats look so much alike it will be hard for him to find the guilty ones.

The Old Miser of Musket Ridge, who buried a few dollars in the garden one night last week, went out to count it yesterday and found it gone. Tobe Moseley thinks everything should be planted in the lark of the moon.

A hog grunts around a whole lot but you never hear of one taking patent medicine.

A report has reached us that a house fly lays ten thousand eggs a day, which is no doubt the reason that fly eggs are so much cheaper than hen eggs.

A miscellaneous shower was given by Misses Alta Shannon and Chlora Shelton at the W. E. Arnold home Tuesday evening for Miss Lora Compton, the prospective bride of Liston Darby of Kingston. Miss Compton was the delighted recipient of a number of pretty and useful articles for her new home.

Lafe Compton came over from Albany Wednesday morning to be present at the marriage of his sister, Miss Lora to Liston Darby.

J. M. Brown returned Wednesday from a few days' visit to Portland.

I have taken over R L DeVaney's grain buying at this place and am in the market for oats of all kinds. See me before selling. R T Smith.
