

BUTTER WRAPPERS

The state law requires that all dairy butter offered for sale at a dealers, must be enclosed in a paper wrapper on which is printed the number of ounces of butter, full weight and by whom made.

We are equipped to print these wrappers to comply with the state law and at prices you cannot afford to ignore, and when used they make a very neat and attractive package.

Possibly About You

Mr and Mrs J M Brown were passengers to Portland Thursday morning.

Mrs L M Davis was a passenger to Lebanon Friday.

A L Geddes, county surveyor, was a Scio visitor last Friday.

F B Dill of Cosmopolis, Wash. was a business visitor in Scio Monday.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding rings—F M French & Son, Jewelers and Engravers, Albany.

I have taken over R L DeVaney's grain buying at this place and am in the market for oats of all kinds. See me before selling. R T Smith.

Another great virtue is claimed for the Ford, says the Albany Democrat. Frank Smith of Corvallis who recently went to San Francisco in his Ford, writes back that it swam some of the streams with ease.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid of Her Stomach Trouble.

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain of the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.

Hit Both Ways.

Mr Bullion—I wish that older son of mine would get married and settle down. But, confound it, the young fellows of today don't seem to have any regard for the marriage relation at all.

Friend—That's right. By the way, how is the younger son doing?

Mr Bullion—Rotten! It just cost me $50,000 to have his marriage annulled, and I had the toughest job of my life doing it.—Puck.

Twisted.

A foreigner meeting an American friend said to him, "How are you?" The latter replied, "Out of sight!"

The man considered this very clever and decided to use the expression on the next occasion. Shortly after he was met by a friend who asked, "How are you?" With visible pride he answered, "You don't see me."—Chicago News.

UPPER SANTIAM EVENTS

GATES

Mr Foster is in Portland. His leg that was injured by a stump puller cable is mending too slowly.

Contractors are shipping several car loads of logs to the Woodburn mill daily.

Miss Grey has been rehired to teach at Gates.

A gentleman from West Virginia will teach at Minto.

Miss McClary is the new postmaster. She has moved the office to Reine's store.

Our merchants have gone to the cash basis of doing business. They like it better.

John Schroeder received a death benefit from the "2500" of Albany. His wife was insured in that lodge.

The State is running a fish hatchery at the Breitenbush. They send the minnows to Clackamas as soon as eyes appear.

MILL CITY

The baseball boys have built an eight foot wall around their ball ground. They have also built a covered grand stand and a band stand.

Committees are at work preparing for a two days Fourth of July celebration.

Archie Sullivan is employed to guard the mill dam to keep fishermen from catching salmon with the gaff hook. They want them to go up to the hatchery.

Dr Ransom is building a hospital.

Prof. Sherman, dean of the theological school at Salem, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon before the high school next Sunday.

The Hammond Co have two donkey engines and several men at work clearing several acres of land for a garden. This upper country does not furnish near all the truck they need.

The finest social event that ever was held in Mill City took place at the I O O F hall last Saturday evening. It was organized in honor of the new members who have entered since the big fire. The dominating feature was music. An orchestra consisting of Jordan Holmes, violinist; Charles Barrett, piano; C Lee, cornet and Roy Cole trombone, played during the banquet and at intervals until two o'clock in the morning. For the first time in the history of Mill City a male quartette appeared. Budd Weddle, Lee Berry, R A Mason and Mr Dudd sang "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," and several more songs. They sang in perfect harmony and time. Mr Berry and Mr Weddle formerly belonged to the "Big Six," a musical organization that sang at social and public functions in Stayton a few years back. Mr Weddle on a bass solo is immense. Mr Holmes and Mr Barrett executed several instrumental solos. Encores were plentiful. Among the outsiders present were Frank Thomas and Miss Kerns of Stayton.

If Teddy wants to go to war let him go over and get appointed colonel of a regiment and go it.

J R GEDDES.

The Pimpernel.

The common pimpernel, "poor man's weather glass," has the disadvantage of being a native plant and has been almost completely expelled from our flower gardens in favor of exotics which are rarer, but lack much of being as pretty. The pimpernel is a charming little flower which opens about 8 in the morning and closes late in the afternoon, but has the remarkable peculiarity of indicating a coming shower by shutting up its petals.

Short and to the Point.

One of the shortest speeches recorded in forensic annals is that of Taunton, afterward a judge. Charles Phillips, an Irish orator, had made a flowery speech in an assault case. Taunton, who was for the defendant, said in reply, "My friend's eloquent complaint amounts, in plain English, to this—that his client has received a good, sound horsewhipping—and my defense is as short—that he richly deserved it."

Crude Logic.

It is told of an East Indian law student that he once threw his examiners into confusion by declaring matrimony to be an illegal state. "How so? How so?" he was asked by the perturbed examiners, many of them married men. The student smiled beatifically. "Marriage," quoth he, "is a lottery, and lotteries are forbidden by law."
