Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

"I never hesitate to recommend Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy," writes Fol Williams, merchant, Jesse, Tenn. "I sell more of it than of any other preparation of like character. I have used it myself and found it gave me more relief than anything else I have ever tried for the same purpose." Obtainable everywhere.

Many Improvements

It is doubtful whether any other town in the Valley of any way near its size can boast of the activity that Scio can this summer. Main street alone is a very busy place to say nothing of the new residences that are going up in various parts of town.

From the bridge north for two blocks on Main street many improvements are under way. The hotel is being almost entirely rebuilt, Chas Wesely's new concrete garage is nearing completion, and most of the board walks have been torn out this week and graded for concrete. This work is being rushed as rapidly as possible, and will be completed before Fair week.

Mr and Roy Gill and Dr and Mrs Smith of Spokane, Wash, have been visiting here this week at the home of Mr Gill's parents, Mr and Mrs M C Gill. They made the trip by auto and started on the return journey Wednesday afternoon. Mr Gill in company with Albert Cole founded the Santiam News. He is now engaged in the hardware business in Spokane.

VAGARIES OF MEMORY.

Curious Case of an Ignorant Girl Who Could Recite Latin.

The psychologists have given much study to the vagaries of memory, which are among the most interesting of mysteries. Why do we forget certain things and remember others? This question, together with many others of a like nature, seems as yet to be unanswered.

William James in the course of a paper on the subject says something which we have tried in vain to recall will afterward, when we have given over the attempt, "saunter into the mind" as innocently as if it had never been summoned. Then, too, curiously enough, bygone experiences will revive after years of oblivion, often as the result of some cerebral disease or accident. Such a case was that of the young woman in Germany, who could neither read nor write, but who was held to be possessed of a devil, since, in a fever, she was heard raving in Latin, Greek, and in an obscure rabbinical dialect of Hebrew. Pages and pages of her talk were written down, and they were found to consist of sentences intelligible in themselves, but not having the slightest connection with one another.

Finally the mystery was cleared up by a physician, who traced the girl's history to the age of nine. Then, he learned, she had been taken to the house of an old pastor, a great Hebrew scholar. She remained in this house until the pastor's death. It had been for years the old scholar's custom to walk up and down a passage near the kitchen and read to himself in a loud voice. His books were examined, and among them many of the passages taken down at the girl's bedside were identified. The theory of demoniacal possession was of course then abandoned.—Washington Star.

The Clerk Guaranteed It

"A customer came into my store the other day and said to one of my clerks, 'have you anything that will cure diarrhoea?' and my clerk went and got him a bottle of Chamberlain's colic, cholera and diarrhoea remedy and said to him, 'if this does not cure you, I will not charge you a cent for it.' So he took it home and came back in a day or two and said he was cured," writes J H Berry & Co, Salt Creek, Va. Obtainable everywhere.
