School Notes

Alvin Gilkey started to school Monday morning.

The Senior class was organized the other day with ten members, the largest class that has been known since the four year course has been given. The following officers were elected: Eunice Shimaneck, president; Orville Gilkey, vice president; Bertha Smith, secretary; Ethel Carson, treasurer; Sylvia Gooch, editor; Ledmela Kukacka, Loreen White, Inez Hiron, Emma Kotan and Alvin Gilkey, assistant editors.

Erol Howell was a high school visitor Monday morning.

Winnie Vaughn paid a visit to the school Tuesday.

Orville Gilkey's knowledge of English was shown the other day in German class when he translated "Der lehrer lehrt das kind." The teacher teaches the "kid."

Great preparations are being made by the school children to send exhibits to the Albany fair. We girls in domestic science don't like the idea of sending all the cakes to the fair because we don't even find out how they taste after we make them unless the cakes are no good.

Miss Shannon reports that we should give her pupils the credit for the clean school yard.

Miss Shannon also has new maps and globes for her room.

—Senior Editor.

Farmers Union Ball

Farmers Union Ball at the Bohemian Hall, come old and young, come short and tall, everybody come; we welcome you all Saturday, October 30, Halloween eve. Don't forget the date, keep it fresh as a dream; you will have the best time you ever have seen. There will be lots of hot coffee, pies, cakes and cream. Come a foot or in autos, or with wagons and team, and enjoy the fun on this Halloween Eve.
