The News family took dinner at the Scio Hotel Sunday as the guests of Messrs. Hutchinson & Abbott. The dining service is excellent, in fact the best that the hotel has had since the writer came to Scio. In addition to this the building has been almost entirely rebuilt and refurnished, and everything is as bright and clean as a new pin. The hotel is already enjoying a liberal patronage from the traveling public, and as every guest is bound to be a booster, the News predicts a constantly growing business for this first class hostelry.
