W O Wimmer went to Portland Monday afternoon on a business trip.

Leave your laundry at the Scio Hotel. Basket goes each week, leaves Monday night and returns Saturday morning. 16tf

Mr and Mrs George Garland left for Portland Wednesday morning where they expect to spend the next three months visiting relatives.

Mr Martin, a Sunday School missionary of Portland will give a free stereopticon lecture at the Christian church this, Thursday, evening. The public is cordially invited..

Postmistress Miss Daisy Buckner and Mr and Mrs A E Randall went over to Albany Wednesday afternoon, returning this morning. Miss Elsie Thayer officiated at the postoffice in their absence.

Ed Posvar, accompanied by his sister, Mrs J W Shimanek and baby, left Tuesday afternoon for Red Bluff, California, for a short visit with their parents, Mr and Mrs C A Posvar. J W says he expects to go home and sample some of mother's cooking while they are away.

Sometimes we are really glad that we are in the newspaper business. Yesterday was one of the times, when Wm Young brought the News family a big fat goose for Thanksgiving—truly something to be thankful for, a good friend, and something good to eat to season the sauce of contentment.

T L Rice came up from Portland Saturday evening and his brother, Huber, came Sunday evening. They are here to look after their aged father, David Rice who has been very poorly since the death of his wife two weeks ago. His trouble seems to be mental, but hope is expressed for his recovery.

E C Shelton and W W Miller were out over Rolla Shelton's route Tuesday with a petition, asking that the route be changed and met with good success. The change asked for is that the carrier leave in the opposite direction from that at present taken from the Scio postoffice and return over the road which is now the start of the route. This change is asked for that the carrier may have an easy grade going out and come down the steep hill on the return trip, instead of having to climb it as at present. The route will cover identically the same ground as it does now.

R Borovicka, who was transacting business in town Monday, came in and added his name to the News subscription list.

John Shimanek attended a district convention of the Farmers Union at Corvallis the latter part of last week. A very enthusiastic meeting is reported.

Chas. Young came over from Corvallis for a short visit last week, returning home Friday, accompanied by his sister, Mrs Jennie Warner, who will visit there a few weeks.

Miss Nelda Wendt, who is taking medical treatment in Albany, came home Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr and Mrs E Wendt. She is much improved in health.

Vivid flashes of lightning accompanied by heavy peals of thunder early Tuesday morning was a very unusual phenomena for this time of year. This was followed by some hail and heavy rain which was not so unusual. The chances are that our shortage in the annual rainfall which was reported the first of this month, will be made up in a short time if the heavy rains of the past two weeks continue much longer, as it only lacked 9 inches of being normal at that time.

Boosts Woolen Mills

The following letter from F A Sikes under date of November 4, to John P Wilbur, president of the Stayton Woolen Mills, is self-explanatory:

"Your letter came to hand yesterday, being forwarded from Milton. You will see that I have recently moved to Corvallis. I am very glad to say that I had learned of you and your proposition to do business with the Farmers Union locals some weeks ago, and have been pleased to mention your factory goods in my meetings since, but was not informed as to the extent of your stock.

"I like your offer very much; in fact it is just what we have been working toward for some time. "From Factory to Farm" has been our slogan at all times, but it has not been easy to arrange dealings with factories, but we are making pretty good progress in some lines, such as flour, shoes, dried fruits, cheese, field fencing and some lines of farm machinery. Now your offer in woolen goods is direct in line with our aims, and I assure you that it will be a pleasure for me to place your factory on our directory when I reprint again in January and speak a good word for you."

When in need of printing give the News office a call. First class work and prices right. We make a specialty of letter heads, envelopes, statements, bill heads, sale bills, business cards, ladies calling cards, and in fact commercial printing of all kinds.

Lest you forget—we say it yet—you can get four magazines for one year by renewing your subscription to the News. We want all of our old subscribers to get these magazines. We are selling the News with four magazines all one year for only $1.40.

Cut out the price list in Morrison's aluminum ware ad and paste it in your Montgomery Ward or Sears Roebuck catalogue for reference. Mr Morrison says he will be pleased to send any article by parcel post, the same as the mail order houses do, on approval, and money will be cheerfully refunded if goods are found to be unsatisfactory in any way.

Mylo Bartu of Los Angeles, Calif. writes the News that he and Mrs Bartu have recently returned from San Diego where they spent a very enjoyable time at the Exposition. While there Mr Bartu attended the teachers institute, which has been in session during the past week, and also inspected the flying machines at the U S aviation school at North Island. Before the trip to San Diego they were seriously thinking of purchasing a Dodge car, but since seeing the flying machines, Mr Bartu says nothing but a Wright Bros. bi-plane will do.
