Possibly About You

DR. BANCROFT
Watch for next Scio date.

Fresh bolognas, made in a clean kitchen at the Sanitary Market.

Francis Arnold and family of Albany are here visiting relatives this week.

For sale for $500.—Good four room house, small barn, north of flour mill; belongs to Clara Griffin. Enquire of E C Shelton.

Lost—Between the Arnold school house and Scio, open face gold watch, size 12 Elgin, also fob. Leave at Scio postoffice and get reward.

C W Wallace, a cousin of J M Lindley was here for a short visit Wednesday. Mr Wallace, who is on his annual vacation, is time clerk in the navy yards at Bremerton, Wash.

A small son of Joe Rorer was playing last Tuesday with a small bottle containing about an ounce of gunpowder. He stuffed paper in the neck of the bottle and touched a match to it, intending to drop it, but the powder was too quick for him, and the result was a badly laterated hand.

Leonard Gilkey's team ran away with him Wednesday afternoon, throwing him out of the wagon. He struck on his head cutting and bruising it considerably, and was unconscious for several hours. This, Thursday, morning he was thought to be getting along all right.

Roe Shelton and family and Bill Miller and wife returned Tuesday evening from their outing trip. They went from here to Cascadia and then on to Clear Lake, where they spent most of the time. Although fishing was not very good, they succeeded in catching all they wanted to eat and brought home a few.

Mr and Mrs N I Morrison went to Dallas and Salem Monday to consult with specialists in regard to a growth which Mrs Morrison had. Newt returned home this, Thursday, morning and stated that Mrs Morrison underwent an operation at the Salem hospital Wednesday. She was getting along fine when he left and expects to return home within a week or two.

It is reported that a resident of this vicinity, whose hirsute adornment has been conspicuous by its absence, was away from home on business last week, and bought a wig and shaved his mustache off before returning. The dance at Richardson Gap was in full swing when he reached there Saturday evening, and a friend introduced him to his wife under an assumed name. She danced two sets with him before discovering his identity. Curtain.

YOUR SUBSCRIPTION EXPIRES on the date stamped in the space below. To those who pay promptly in advance the subscription price is $1.25 per year. The price is $1.50 if paid at end of year. The paper is not sent to subscribers who are more than one year in arrears.

Born—August 18, to the wife of F C Bryant of Shelburn, a ten pound boy.

Mrs Fred Ohlemeier returned from Portland the first of the week after selecting her fall line of millinery.

C C Wade and Mrs J D Densmore motored to Salem Wednesday afternoon and met Mr Densmore, who has just returned from a business trip to Kalispell and other points in Montana.

The service of Herbert A Munter, an aviator of Tacoma, has been secured for the fair. He has put up a guarantee to make five flights during the three days of the fair, one flight to be made each forenoon.

A brother of the writer, who lives in Central Oregon, had both bones in his right arm broken one day last week while cranking his car. We are afraid it will be some time before we break our arm that way. Poverty has its advantages, after all.

Forest Woodmansee returned home the middle of last week after a two months absence. He will visit at home the next few weeks, prior to leaving the last of September for Portland, where he will enter on his senior year in the North Pacific Dental College.

"The Presidency of the United States"—a 48 page, vest pocket size booklet containing historic facts, dates, incidents, statistics, etc, about all past and present elections. Very valuable. Very interesting. Call at this office for a copy today. Given free with each new subscription or renewal to the Santiam News; or for sale at ten cents per copy.

O S Hutchinson went to Portland last week to hear the next president of the United States speak, and was away so long that his friends here feared that he had gone on to California with the Hughes party to restore harmony in the republican ranks there. Matters were cleared up, however, when he returned home Monday evening, explaining that he merely stayed over in Portland a few days to talk politics.

The work of putting crushed rock on south Main street will be completed this week, when it will be rolled, thus putting the street in the best condition in the history of the city. On north Main street, the work of hauling and placing the rock will not be commenced until after the Fair. The street has been graded and is in fairly good condition as it is, barring heavy rains, which are not expected.
