Possibly About You

DR. BANCROFT
Watch for next Scio date.

C H Wain of Junction City is in town on business this week.

A full line of school supplies for sale at Everett's drug store.

Mrs E H Hobson is visiting Salem relatives and attending the fair this week.

The Pythian Sisters of Albany came over Thursday evening of last week and spent an enjoyable evening with the Scio lodge members.

No bids were received by the city for the proposed paving of Main and North streets. The city may go ahead and hire this work done by contract.

If you are in need of a time piece, don't buy one until you have seen the complete line of Ingersoll watches on display at Everett's drug store.

Ed and Chas Wesely left last Saturday afternoon for a deer hunt in southern Oregon. They left the railroad at Riddles Sunday morning where they hit for the tall timber with a guide.

Do you know that a free dress pattern is included with the club of four magazines that we are giving in combination with the Santiam News for only 25 cents extra. Send your order by mail or call at this office.

Ed Chrz had his right leg broken above the ankle recently in scuffling with Deb Long while they were working with a threshing crew. He is on the rapid road to recovery, however, and will soon be as good as new.

N Young came in Monday after spending the summer at Tygn Valley with his son, A M Young. He visited at Portland and Corvallis on his way home, and has every appearance of being well treated while he was away.

Geo Kalk and family left the first of the week for Aberdeen, Wash, where they will make their future home. They tried farm life on the Frances Wesely farm east of town for a few years, but decided to return to their old work, that of lumbering.

Mrs Wm Dobrkovsky, who was operated on last week, developed pneumonia and in spite of all that medical skill could do for her, died Thursday night. Mrs Dobrkovsky was a young woman of rare personal charm, her friends being numbered by her acquaintances, and her death came as a severe shock. She is survived by her husband and one sister, with whom she came to this country from Austria a few years ago. The funeral, which was largely attended, was conducted at Franklin Butte cemetery Sunday afternoon by G L Sutherland.

Africanders Coming

Those amusement lovers who are fond of good singing, dancing, music and comedy, will miss something great along these lines if they fail to see the Reese Bros. Africander Company at the People's Theatre on Wednesday, October 4. These people have the reputation in the Oregon press as being the best colored entertainers on the road. The event of the season. Two hours of solid fun. Don't miss it. Not a dull moment. It is not a moving picture show, but a minstrel musical comedy and jubilee singers. Nothing but fun. Watch for the band parade at noon.

School supplies of all kinds at Everett's drug store.

When renewing your subscription to the News, don't forget to remind us of the big magazine offer.

Miss Dorothy Smail had a toe amputated for the removal of a growth last Monday at the Parker hospital.

T Wolford and Messrs Robbins and Sandoz, who were old Silverton neighbors of Mrs C A Parker, were her guests at dinner Tuesday, while passing through in a machine.

Mrs C C Saylor of Portland is here on an extended visit with her friend, Miss Berryman at the R Shelton home. Mr Saylor motored up from Portland Saturday and visited with her until Sunday afternoon.

There is nothing that will give any more pleasure for so long a time for so little money as the four monthly magazines we send our subscribers. Are you getting these magazines? If not, write or call at this office.

Mr and Mrs Henry Bilyeu arrived here Monday by auto, four days from Tekon, Wash, stopping off one day at the Pendleton Roundup. They have not fully decided as yet whether they will locate in Scio or Albany.

Miss Elsie Thayer and Forest D Werst of Pendleton were married at Albany last Thursday by County Judge McKnight. After spending a few days here with the bride's parents, Mr and Mrs F T Thayer, the happy couple left for Pendleton, where they will make their future home. This is the culmination of a romance that began a few years ago when Mrs Werst was teaching in the Pendleton schools. The best wishes of a host of friends here go with them for a life of happiness and prosperity.

Scio Has Fire

Sunday morning at 2:30 fire of incendiary origin was discovered in the house owned by Ed Wesely and occupied by A E Edwards, foreman of the Scio Tribune, just north of the Federated church. Saturday evening Mr Edwards took his two children and went to Salem for a short visit with relatives. The firemen did heroic work and confined the fire to the upper story. Practically all of the household goods were saved. Mr Edwards carried $600 insurance on his furniture. The building was uninsured.

A firetrap set in a closet in a room downstairs, which consisted of clothes, kindling wood and cotton saturated with coal oil, and a candle lighted and placed in the center of it, was found.

A similar affair had been lighted in an upstairs room, which burned faster and set the house on fire, leaving the lower one easily to be discovered.

Sheriff Bodine came over from Albany Monday afternoon and arrested Mr Edwards on a warrant charging him with the crime. He was taken to Albany where he waived examination at preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury under $2,000 bonds, which were furnished Tuesday afternoon by P H MacDonald and J S Warwick.

Frank Mikulka completed the sale of his farm on Hungry Hill the first of the week to Charles Van Brunt, who arrived from Nebraska with his family last week, the consideration being $11,000 cash. Mr Van Brunt took charge at once, taking over with the place all stock, household goods, implements, etc. This is a fine farm, and as Mr Van Brunt's, who are old Nebraska neighbors of the Scotts come well recommended, they will no doubt be a valuable addition to the community. Mr and Mrs Mikulka will be missed here, but as they have wanted to sell out for a long time, their friends rejoice with them. They will leave in a few days for an extended visit, going first to Portland, then to Tacoma, Wash, and afterwards to southern California, Iowa and Wisconsin. After this it will be no surprise to their friends to see them return to Scio and buy a home.

"Well, I reckon he will find out next November!"
