We do a great deal of advertising in various ways, but we believe that our most favorable publicity which we receive is through the medium of a "satisfied customer." A feeling of security is always shown by our customers, because they have learned to rely on the quality of our goods, the superiority of our service and the fairness of our prices.

The extent and quality of our trade and the obvious confidence reposed in us by the public is pretty convincing evidence that we have always given superior service.

SCHOOL NOTES

The grades, faculty and students of the high school enjoyed a very interesting talk Monday morning from Prof Kent of Albany College. His subject was "Abe Lincoln." Some of his thoughts he left with us were: Washington was remembered for what he did; Lincoln was remembered for what he was; Lincoln as a man was simple in habit and taste, honest, faithful and a lover of all mankind. He was himself of the common people and to the common people he gave the best of his thought and care. He was a great reader and still greater thinker.

The basket ball game between Belfountain and Scio last Friday was very exciting.

Those taking part in the operetta are practicing every night. They expect to give a very interesting entertainment. Don't miss it.

Glenn Clark has been unable to attend school on account of a broken collar bone which he sustained practicing basket ball. Hurry back Glenn, we miss you in school.

Severe Cold Quickly Cured.

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of the grip as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, Weatherby, Mo. "I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was only a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold." Obtainable everywhere.

Something Good.

Those who hate nasty medicine should try Chamberlain's tablets for constipation. They are pleasant to take and their effect is so agreeable and so natural that you will not realize that it has been produced by a medicine. Obtainable everywhere.

wind to the shorn lamb" is to be found in the Bible. You would search the Bible pretty thoroughly before you would find that sentence in it. Where you would find it would be in Sterne's "Sentimental Journey." Sterne gets a good deal of praise for the origination of this sentence, but it was originated, as a matter of fact, before he was born. In a collection of French proverbs published in 1594 we find, "Dieu mesure le vent a la brebis toquée."

Tripolitan Proverbs.

"You cannot," says a Tripolitan proverb, "escape your fate, even on a horse." "Whoever," says another, "has maize will soon find one who will lend him flour." "If a dog is to be beaten," says a third, "there is no lack of sticks." A fourth proverb points out that "whoever is seeking pearls must go to the depths of the ocean."

FLYING DUST.

It Changes the Face of the Land and the Courses of Rivers.

A correspondent of the Geographical Journal describes the remarkable alterations in the surface of the earth produced by flying dust. The power of the wind to transport even moderately coarse rock, he writes, is almost incredible. Many of the broad valleys between the eastern and the western slopes of the great Cordillera are filled with such deposits to a depth of hundreds of feet.

"The wind has nothing to do but to blow and the sand nothing to do but fly," is the way an old prospector put it. In some places the formation of a dune many acres in extent and several feet high is a work done in a period of time that is measured by days rather than by months. In many comparatively small areas blinding dust storms blow nearly half the time.

The old southern mail stagecoach line had a station in Arizona that was almost uninhabitable on account of the flying dust. The men employed there rarely remained any considerable length of time; occasionally all of them would leave in a body. In northern Mexico flying dust and dust deposits are on an even greater scale, and the boundaries of the belts of scoured out and built up land are less definite than in the dry region of the United States. At times the finer dust is blown across lowlands of the coast far out into the gulf.

Many of the smaller streams of the west and the southwest are heavily overlaid with sediment that is, or was, wind blown dust. Years ago a driver thus described the Platte: "You won't know when you're gettin' 'cross it, son, for it's a mile wide and an inch deep, and the bottom's on top." The larger rivers, such as the Mississippi, the Missouri and the Arkansas, are overlaid, but to a less degree. As they cannot carry the sediment delivered to them, they drop it and flow around it.

In past years the lower Mississippi unquestionably flowed in every part of its wide flood plain, turning Arkansas into Mississippi and Mississippi into Arkansas, building its bed and banks higher than the flood plain level and then abandoning them to make a new channel at a lower level.

Swiss Funeral Customs.

The funeral customs of the Swiss are very peculiar. At the death of a person the family inserts a formal black edged announcement in the papers, asking for sympathy and stating that the "mourning urn" will be exhibited during certain hours on a special day. In front of the house where the person died there is placed a little black table covered with a black cloth, on which stands a black jar. Into this the friends of the family drop little black margined visiting cards, sometimes with a few words of sympathy on them. The urn is put on the table on the day of the funeral. Only men ever go to the churchyard, and they generally follow the hearse on foot.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running nose or imperfect hearing, and when it is chronic deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be lost forever; otherwise you are doomed to become a deaf-mute. Deafness is caused by Catarrh of the Eustachian Tube. It is not a disease, but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh of the Eustachian Tube, if you cannot be cured by Halls Catarrh Cure, sent for absolute free.

The Habit of Taking Cold.

With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed, not too cold, but a temperature of about 90 degrees F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. Obtainable everywhere.
