THOMAS CREEK JOYNTINGS

Mrs Geo Cree and children came up from Black Rock Saturday for a few weeks stay at the home of her father, James Burton. Mrs Cree is sick.

Mrs James Burton returned home Thursday from Frank Linderhans of Jordan where she has been nursing the past three weeks.

Mrs Roy Wirth spent Tuesday with Mrs Westenhouse.

C C Burmester and wife were Jordan visitors Monday.

John Grimes had the misfortune to lose one of his horses last week. It seemed perfectly well and in a few minutes was dead. The cause is not known.

Despite the snow quite a good sized crowd gathered at the school house of district 24 where Miss Lola Westenhouse and her pupils entertained them with a long interesting program mostly of Washington. They prepared it for Washington's Birthday but owing to the snow being so deep were compelled to postpone it. The ladies were kind enough to bring pies which the men and boys bought very liberally. $6.60 was the amount of the proceeds.

Mr and Mrs J N Neal and Miss Leta Eckelson of Jordan, Mr and Mrs Clyde Rodgers, Mrs Stellmacher, Walter Williams and Glenn Clark were visitors at the Westenhouse home Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Delbert Shelton spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs Harvey Shelton also his sister Mrs Clyde Sherman of Salem who is visiting her mother.

Hay Fever Germs' Giants.

A scientist makes the statement that hay fever is not caused by germs in the blood, but by germs so large that they cannot get into the body at all. He says they are much larger than the blood cells. But they do gather in the air passages, where under favorable conditions they multiply until they block the passage. Nature revolts against their presence, so the victim falls to sneezing, and they are thereby expelled. The doctor says that if they were not got rid of by sneezing and coughing they would choke the hay fever victim to death in time.

Milk and Buttermilk.

The nutritive value of milk as compared with buttermilk is not nearly so great as some appear to think. It is about as twenty to eighteen. You get about as many energy units out of a pint and a quarter of buttermilk as you do out of one pint of sweet milk. Besides, the bacteria of typhoid tend to die out in buttermilk because of its acidity.

Never a Letup.

"Poor pa's just working himself to death."

"Why, I thought he had a political job."

"He has, but it seems as if he no sooner gets reappointed than it is necessary for him to get out and work again so that somebody else won't get it next time."—Chicago Herald.

Cautious Elimination.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is a freebooter?"

"I don't know exactly, my son. But I will say that with leather costing what it does, you want to get your mind away from any idea that a freebooter is a man who sells shoes for nothing."—Washington Star.

Singing Contests in Norway.

Some of the songs of Norway consist of hundreds of four line verses, which must surely be a hard test to the memory of the singers. Sometimes two singers will have a duet in such a song, singing verse after verse alternately. He whose memory or, in default of memory, invention fails him first is loser.—From "Norway," by Nico Jungman.

They Liked Silence.

Carlyle, as every one knows, was a great smoker. The story is familiar—it may be true—that one evening he and Tennyson sat in solemn silence smoking for hours, one on each side of the fireplace, and that when the visitor rose to go Carlyle, as he bade him good night, said, "Man, Alfred, I have had a grand night; come again soon."

Worse Still.

Raggsy—Hey! You won't get nothin' worth eatin' in dat place. Dey's vegetarians.
Hungry Higgins—Is dat right?
Raggsy—Yeh, an' dey got er dog avot ain't.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Sure Sign.

"Who was the woman I saw you with on the street yesterday?"
"That was my wife."
"Your wife nothing. What do you think I am—a boob? She was looking at a hat in the window and you were not trying to pull her away."—Florida Times-Union.
