As a Critic Saw Browning.

There was marked vulgarity about Browning, particularly in his accent and in the tone of his voice and a certain indescribable savor of sycophancy of a man eager to be of a grade to which he did not belong, but the poet was there—the poet's keen eye, the poet's heart, obvious in his remarks and descriptions.—Memoirs of John Churton Collins.

The Probable Reason.

Among the letters received by the editor of a "heart to heart" column in a certain paper was the following, written by a young man:

"Please can you tell me why a girl always closes her eyes when a fellow kisses her?"

In a moment of fiendish frankness the man of the pen indited the following reply:

"Send me your photograph and perhaps I can tell you."

Tragic Family History.

The following inscriptions are to be seen on a tombstone at Debreczin, Hungary:

"Joseph Moritz, murdered at sixty-two by his son. Isabelle Moritz, wife of above, poisoned at forty-seven by her daughter. Elizabeth Moritz committed suicide at twenty after poisoning her mother. Joseph Moritz, Jr., murderer of his father, died in prison at twenty-seven."—London Standard.

Useful Fireweed.

Fireweed, otherwise known as the "great willow herb," seems to have been created as an antidote for one of the ugliest sights a landscape may offer—burnt over ground. The fireweed is a genuine cosmopolite, for it sends its consoling shaft above the ashes of burnt forests not only throughout America, but in Europe and Asia.

Wheat Trains in Manchuria.

Wheat comes into the mills and to the rivers and railways of Manchuria from almost incredible distances. In the winter, when the rough, ungraded roads are frozen hard and smooth, the natives haul wheat for 200 miles in some cases by means of a heavy two wheeled cart drawn by four to eight mules. Long trains of these carts, traveling together for protection and companionship at night, can be seen on the main highways all winter and are the most picturesque feature of Manchurian life.

Edge of a Windstorm.

A curious example of how sharply the edge of a windstorm may be defined is reported by the captain of a bark. When off Valparaiso, the captain says, a whirlwind came along and passed over the stern of the vessel. A great sea accompanied the wind, and every sail and movable thing on the after part of the ship was carried away. The forward part of the vessel was untouched by the storm, which passed away in the distance, leaving a train of foam in its wake.

Gulf of Mexico Shrimps.

The shrimps from the coast of the gulf of Mexico are of good size, generally fully three inches in length and frequently exceeding this measurement. They are much larger than those caught on the British coast and the north Atlantic coast of the United States. They are in fine condition the year round and may be caught in the lagoons any season of the year.—London Standard.

A Diplomatic Decision.

Two ladies contending for precedence at the court of Charles V. appealed to the monarch, who decided that the elder should go first. Disputes of that character never occurred thereafter.

Why Constipation Injures.

The bowels are the natural sewerage system of the body. When they become obstructed by constipation a part of the poisonous matter which they should carry off is absorbed into the system, making you feel dull and stupid, and interfering with the digestion and assimilation of food. This condition is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Obtainable everywhere.
