ELECTRIC LIGHTED MINES.

Where Modern Methods Have Driven Out the Safety Lamp.

In some of the more progressive and larger mines, the miner's lamp has become a thing of the past. In its stead the dark passages and work chambers are illuminated by electricity. The mines are wired and lighted with all the luxurious effectiveness of the modern home. Besides making their underground employment less oppressive to the miners, the illuminated mine offers considerable advantage in the way of better work and less exposure to danger.

With motor operated coal cars, a telephone system and instruments for the detection of gas danger, the up to date mine is decidedly a more pleasurable place to work in than of old. In order to make the lighting more thorough the walls of the permanent passages, of the offices, of the entries and, where mules are used of the mule stables, are frequently whitewashed. Only tungsten filament lamps are used. Weather proof enameled reflectors are employed for the distribution of light.

The problem of lighting the mines, however, is difficult, presenting all the conditions which the illuminating engineer looks upon with disfavor—low black ceilings, black walls, dust, smoke and dampness. —Chicago News.

Baseball Slang Beaten.

Baseball fans are slangy in their baseball talk. Their slang is picturesque and finely descriptive, but for real unadulterated slang you must give the trapshooters the palm. Listen to this from a well known gunner.

"Yes, sir, I toed the firing line, put the iron to my shoulder, drew a humdinger from the box and killed it. The second saucer was a lazy boy, flying straight away, but I went to sleep and the piceon nested in the grass. The next mud pie sailed to left quarter, but the old pea shooter simply knocked the fuzz off. The fourth dicky bird was smothered as soon as it was hatched. Then a cripple fluttered out and died. Next came a right wheeling streaker, and I pulverized it."

Fair Warning.

A farmer engaged Pat to mow a small field of hay, and on giving him a new scythe told him it was such a good one that he need only put the point of it in the hay and it would cut by itself. Pat set off to his work, and about mid-day, when the farmer came to see how Pat was getting on, he found him sitting in a corner of the field with one end of the scythe in the hay. This so enraged the farmer that he went for Pat, who, on seeing him, immediately shouted:

"Keep back, keep back! Ye don't know the minute she's going to start!" —Exchange.

United States Laws.

An act when passed by both houses of congress and signed by the president becomes a law. If at any time thereafter questions of its constitutionality arise the matter is settled by the supreme court. The court has more than once declared acts of congress unconstitutional, as, for instance, the "civil rights" bill.—New York American.

After the Assay.

"I understand you got several hundred wedding gifts." "We did. At first I thought I'd have to hire a safe deposit vault, but after going over the stuff we simply stored 'em in a barrel in the cellar." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Only Chance.

"Hurry, George, or we will be late to the picture show." "Oh, we don't want to get there before it starts." "Yes, we do, too—if we don't I can't see what the other women are wearing." —Exchange.

Pa's Definition.

L'enfant—Father, what is a "sepulchral" tone of voice? La Pere—That means to speak gravely.—Dartmouth Jack-o'-Lantern.

A hopeless man is deserted by himself, and he who deserts himself is soon deserted by his friends.

Tantalizing Ownership.

In a French village a citizen had upon his land a part of an old building containing two very beautiful windows. He was in debt and embarrassed and eagerly closed with the offer of a rich archaeologist, who bought them. Thereupon the government inspector, hearing of the bargain, arrived just in time to stop the masons from dislodging the windows. "You cannot," he said to the villager, "sell antiquities, my man." "But, excellency, I have used the money and paid my creditors." The villager was in despair, but the official was untouched. "That's all right," he said. "The money is safe. The windows are no longer yours. But the buyer can't move a stone of them. He can, however, come with a camp stool and sit down and look at his property as much as he likes."
