

LOCAL BREVITIES

J. S. Sticha, Geo. Gibbons, Jack Waltemeyer, Dr. Sanderson and A. E. Edwards motored over to Albany on Thursday afternoon of last week.

For Sale:—A Harley - Davidson motorcycle, in good condition, ready for use, cheap. Inquire at The Tribune office.

Of course Merl Cyrus, of Portland could not resist the temptation to make the eagle scream at his old home. The attraction in Scio is too great.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Hiram Parker and family, who lives across the river from Albany in Marion county, celebrated the Fourth with their many friends in Scio.

Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Gill, of Lebanon, spent Thursday night of last week at the home of the Doctor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gill, of this city.

Not an accident occurred to mar the pleasure of the Fourth. A splendid day, an orderly crowd and no drunkenness. Scio's fourth was a big success.

Albany will convert the old Central school building into a city hall. An ordinance authorizing the improvement was vetoed by Mayor Curl, but the council, by unanimous vote annulled the veto.

Fred T. Bilyeu is in receipt of information from Miss Mamie Jackson, of Monmouth, telling of the death and burial of her mother. Miss Jackson was one of the grade teachers of our public schools last year.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hibler, of Seattle, came over from Albany Sunday evening for a few days visit with Mrs. Hibler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Gill of this city. Mrs. F. M. Arnold, of Albany and another daughter, came over with them.

The proposition to establish a normal school at Pendleton, which will be submitted to the electorate in November, should and will be snowed under deeply. Not but what Pendleton should have such a school but because the state is now overloaded with higher institutions of learning. The burden is now too heavy on the taxpayer.

The Tribune was honored by a most pleasant call by Hon. W. P. Elmore Tuesday. Mr. Elmore feels that he has an even show for election next fall and that E. C. Peery will win out if he will make anything like a thorough campaign. Mr. Elmore returned to Brownsville on the evening train.

Oregon now has 28,000 automobiles, counting Fords. Of these 925 are in Linn county, an increase of 71.7 per cent in a year, the biggest in the state, with one exception Lake. Only five counties have more machines, Multnomah, Marion, Jackson and Lane. Clackamas has the same number as Linn.

The Tribune will have to acknowledge the corn. We made a mistake in last week's issue in stating that Candidate for Recorder Ralph Thom was baldheaded. Accompanied by Dennis O'Brien he called at our office Tuesday morning and Mr. O'Brien proved that we were mistaken by lifting Mr. Thom's hat. He is not bald like Riley Shelton. His hair is just growing thin. All the same we will not take back a single word we said about Miss Davis in the same item.

The Scio Tribune $1.25 a year

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe, the Lebanon undertakers, were in town yesterday.

E. M. Kimball, the Jordan miller, was transacting business in town yesterday.

John Turner, of Eastern Oregon, arrived in town last week on a visit to relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stam came down from Mill City Monday afternoon to spend the Fourth.

Miss Blanch Kopecky came down from Portland Tuesday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Henry Stepanek.

When in need of anything in the way of job work, call and see us. We do first-class work at reasonable prices.

Wayne Stewart, who belongs in Scio for, at least, a part of the year but who spends the remainder of the time on the road selling goods, was in town yesterday.

The consensus of opinion, without a dissenting voice, gives Hon. M. A. Miller credit for delivering the most sensible and practical address Tuesday ever given in this section of the county.

W. K. Price, of Albany and son of Seattle, drove over from Albany on the Fourth. Mr. Price has resided in the vicinity of Medford for many years and but recently returned. He had not visited the Scio country for thirty years.

When the National guard commence to arrive on the border, Carranza suddenly concluded that he had not lost any war with the United States. General Pershing's occupation of a part of a post in Mexico, was not such a grave matter after all.

Al Munkers, who returned from a trip to Eastern Oregon last week, states that he heard a number of republicans say, while he was there, "Wilson is good enough for me." Even some of the sheep men who thought the Underwood tariff would ruin their business are now talking Wilson.

M. E. Roth, of Tallman and his father of Montana, who is on a health seeking tour and a neighbor of Mr. Roth, paid The Tribune office a call Wednesday morning. Mr. Roth reports crops in good condition though some of the clover crop is not filling with seed as is desirable. Wheat and oats are looking fine.

Albany is now talking of having a round up. Better wait till she gets the Linn county fair moved over there and combine the whole outfit with her industrial fair. Albany is ideally located for a big exhibition such as this would make. The old fair grounds south of town affords a lot of room and when in condition has the fastest mile track in the state. Better have one big time than a half dozen dinkey little ones.—Jefferson Review.

Henry Leffler Now a Citizen

Henry Leffler of just northeast of town thought he was a citizen of the United States and of Oregon. At least he has been voting in Oregon elections for more than fifty years. When the Oregon constitution was amended requiring final citizenship papers, Mr. Leffler suddenly found that he was not entitled to vote though his four or five boys born and raised in Oregon could do so.

But as Mr. Leffler takes a lively interest in political matters, nevertheless he is 84, he wanted to vote next fall as usual. So he and two sons, John and Clarence, went over to Albany and had the matter fixed up, so that he is now an American citizen as well as his boys.

SANTIAM MINES NOTES

Chas. Erickson has completed his work above Gold Creek and returned home. Charles has been working for the Forestry department blasting out a roadway along Rocky point.

Roy and Rex Peery and Claud Compton left for Scio to celebrate the glorious Fourth. The heavy rains of the past few days hastened their departure.

Oscar Ingram and Clarion Compton give nightly exhibitions of rock drilling at the Crown mines. Oscar is suffering from a badly bruised chest caused by "clay," losing control of his hammer while Clarion is poulticing his eye to draw the fragments of rock out.

Frank Holmes, who has been working at Black Eagle, left this week for Salem.

A peculiar accident happened at the Gold Creek mine last week. It was by the merest chance that the day crew was not blown to atoms. A round of 17 holes had been drilled in the face of the drift which is now in nearly 2800 feet from the surface. The men had worked from noon until late in the evening putting in the round and after loading the holes they attached the electric fuse and connected them with the wires leading to the power house, located up the gulch. Two minutes after they left the face of the drift, on their way out, the full 17 holes exploded with a fearful concussion, knocking them down and badly bruising them. On making their way out through the darkness and stifling powder fumes, they were surprised to find a heavy thunder storm in progress. A splintered tree near the power lines told the story. Lightning had struck this tree and jumped onto the power lines with force enough to explode the charges loaded in the face of the drift some 3500 feet away. It was near this point that the Zimmerman Brothers were nearly killed a few weeks ago.

M. M. Peery, of Springfield, is at the Crown this week.
