

LOCAL BREVITIES

The Scio Tribune $1.50 a year
One thing we can say, this has been a very short fly season.
Mrs. M. C. Gill is visiting in Albany this week, taking in the round up.

Bert H. Dyer, a Canby newspaper man, spent last Saturday night at the Scio hotel.

Andrew Crabtree, of Maupin, Ore., is visiting relatives in this vicinity and Jordan.

N. I. Morrison has his new bungalow inclosed and workmen are now doing the inside finishing.

J. J. Barnes, son Jimmie and daughter Miss Nellie drove up in their auto from Salem Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bilyeu, daughter Miss Nita and Mrs. N. J. Weddle motored over to Albany Monday.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Monday morning Wm. Brenner commenced building a stretch of cement sidewalk some 350 feet long in front of his property on the south side.

Mrs. D. C. Thoms is attending the state convention of the Oregon Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association at The Dalles this week.

For Sale—Close in acreage to Lebanon, acre tracts, highly developed. Easy terms, interest 6 per cent. Write Helen V. Crawford, Lebanon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Carpenter left Tuesday for a two-weeks visit at Medford. Mrs. Carpenter has a sister there whom she has not seen for twenty years.

Choice meats only; absolutely no bulls or slaughter house hogs in our market. Beef cuts from 9 to 15 cents per pound, pork to 16¢ cents. Fish on Fridays. Sanitary Market.

Arthur Kelly, mechanic at the Chas. Wesely Garage, left last Friday for Prineville, called there by the fatal illness of his brother. He arrived home with the body Tuesday evening.

F. E. Parker, a cattle buyer of Oregon City, was up last week buying stock cattle. He is shipping to Kansas. He picked up several bunches of nice looking cattle in this locality.

The Tribune is indebted to Secretary of State Ben Olcott for an abstract of the ticket to be voted upon next month. It is complete as far as national, state, judicial and legislative officials, but not for local county officers.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cyrus, Mrs. May Jones and son, Freddie Laird and Merl Cyrus, autoed up from Portland Saturday evening. All returned Sunday save Cob. He could not resist old time associations and allurements, so will visit here for two or three weeks.

Last week a strange little lady arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Moses, of northwest of Scio. The visit of this little lady has, probably, been hoped for for a number of years and now that she has arrived, let us hope the visit will be prolonged indefinitely. The Tribune extends congratulations.

For Sale—120 acres of land two miles southwest of Scio, good new and modern 8 room house, bath, pantry, fair large barn, family orchard, berries, etc. Will sell either the whole or subdivide into 40 and 80 acre tracts. Title good. Will sell for cash or take other land for part payment, if suited. Very reasonable price. B. F. Titus. tf

The parent-teachers meeting at the public school auditorium last Friday night, was highly successful. County School Superintendent W. L. Jackson was present and delivered an interesting address. Other speakers added to the interest and a parent-teachers association was organized.

Are your children backward in school? If so, it may be due to eye trouble of some kind. An education obtained at the expense of eye sight is of slight value. It is better to obtain both by seeing that the children's eyes are right. Children cannot tell whether their eyes are right or wrong. Bring them to Dr. Turner, the well known eye specialist and let him give their eyes a most thorough and searching and scientific examination, and they will tell you whether they are right or wrong. Is not such information almost beyond price? If they do not need glasses, Dr. Turner will positively not recommend them. One charge covers the entire cost of examination, frames and lenses. Consult him at Hotel Scio, Monday, October 23.

Mark Weatherford Will Speak

Mark Weatherford, 'democratic candidate for congress, will deliver an address at the Federated church in this city next Sunday evening. As Mr. Weatherford is not a preacher, the address will not be a sermon. Nor will it be a political campaign speech. It will be on moral grounds and as Mr. Weatherford is a talented speaker, his hearers are sure to be entertained upon social uplift matter. All are cordially invited to hear him.

Street Improvement to Commence

It has been definitely decided by the city council to improve the business center of Main street with a crushed gravel surface and drainage as was first planned. It will be remembered that the first plan was defeated by a remonstrance. Then paving was agreed upon by property owners, but no bids were submitted because contractors could not move their paving plants here for the small quantity of paving and the price allowed by the ordinance. Now that all property owners have signed up, but two or three, for the crushed rock, the work has been ordered under the supervision of R. Shelton. The property owners, who refuse to sign up, will simply be left in the mud.

Three coatings of crushed rock will be applied, each coating rolled with the last coat the finest. After which the whole will be oiled. This is the plan and, while not quite as desirable as paving, is sufficient for a country town and the cost is one-half less.

until recent years, that he did not attend as an official or spectator. For a time he served as a government official in Alaska.

Mr. Waggoner introduced the commercial growing of loganberries in the Lebanon country, organizing a company which planted some 40 or 50 acres of the same. He, also, platted what is known as "Sunrise" addition to Lebanon.

Mr. Waggoner was most entertaining and companionable. His profound knowledge of matters pertaining to the northwest and his most excellent memory, made his society most enjoyable.

As a friend he was faithful and as a husband and father, kind and affectionate. His numerous friends will drop a silent tear as they follow his remains to its final resting place in the Keeney cemetery, south of Brownsville on Tuesday.

Hacks, Surreys and Buggies

We still have some hacks, surreys and buggies; also, two manure spreaders, which we offer on the market at very low prices. We intend to close out these lines regardless of price.

If you are in the market for any of these goods, be sure and see us before you purchase elsewhere, as I am positive that we can save you 15 per cent on your purchase.

Yours for business
Chas. Wesely.

Favors a Fairer Co. Representation

Again, I have lived in the forks of the Santiam since 1883. Harvey Shelton represented "The Forks" then. If my memory serves me correctly, there has been but two men elected from this large portion of the county since that time. Is that fair? Is that justice? If I am mistaken, I stand corrected. These two were Jefferson Myers, of Scio and W. C. Miller, of Shelburn. I believe that the mass of the voters will treat us more fairly, if they understand the situation.

I am told that we pay about one-third of the county taxes. Yet we have no voice in making the tax laws. How are we going to get fair representation in the legislature unless we speak out and let the rest of the voters know the unfairness of it all. I am always working for the betterment of public matters and hope that we will have no cause to complain in the future. What I have written, I have written. It must not be taken as a criticism of our present efficient county court.

X-Ray Machine Here

An X-ray machine of the latest type, the result of 11 years investigation and research, has been installed in the office of Dr. Prill, by Woodward & McLaren, Pacific coast agents for the Campbell Electric Co. of Lynn, Mass.

The Campbell X-ray machine is recognized as the leading machine of the day and is the only one endorsed by the government, for use in military and naval hospitals.

During the recent exodus of the national guards to the Mexican border, 11 X-ray machines of the same type and character as installed in the doctor's office, were shipped by the company for active service in the cause of medical and surgical work.

The machine is not only equipped for X-ray work, but furnishes all of the electrical and therapeutic currents for treatment purposes, recognized by the leading authorities. Among some of the complaints for which the machine has proven itself most successful, is hardening of the arteries, all rheumatic conditions, insomnia, neuralgia, skin diseases and nervous conditions.

The machine operates almost noiselessly and the smallest child or most nervous woman need have no fear of electric shock or inconvenience.

In addition to the machine, an elaborate equipment has been installed for the full operation of the different modes of treatment.

Scio is now in a position to have competent X-ray work done equal to that obtained anywhere.

time of leaving Scio, with Superintendent Jackson as main card distributor.

Returning to Mill City an hour or more was spent at the school fair and at 4 p. m. the start homeward was made. At Weazle Flat school house, we took a road leading over the hills, instead of returning via Jordan. From this time forward, all road admiration ceased. In fact some of the stretches reminded us of the roads of 15 or 20 years ago.

We will say nothing of taking the wrong road at one place and having to turn back, nor of the new method of campaigning introduced by Mr. Peery. Suffice to say we reached home shortly after 7 p. m., after having spent a most pleasant and profitable day. Anyway, if you want just a bit of enjoyable experience, you will get it if you will go out for a day's campaigning with a couple of candidates, especially if one of these is trained in the art.

DAVID LUBIN ADVOCATES RE-ELECTION OF WILSON.

Father of American Rural Credits, Another Leading Republican, to Join President's Standard.

David Lubin, founder of the International Institute of Agriculture and father of the rural credits movement in America, has joined the list of prominent Republicans openly advocating the re-election of President Wilson. Within a fortnight Thomas A. Edison, Luther Burbank and Henry Ford, all Republicans and men of international fame have done the same.

David Lubin is a wealthy California farmer. His interest in securing a square deal for the farmer led him to make research abroad, and out of his efforts grew the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome. This institution does for the staples of agriculture of the world what the American chamber of commerce does for the products of the American manufacturer.

Through his connection with the institute he became interested in the rural credit systems of Europe and led the movement which resulted in the passage of the Rural Credits Act by the Wilson administration.

Just before departing for Italy recently, Mr. Lubin authorized an interview of 4,000 words in which he gave his opinion of these acts of the Wilson administration which directly affect the farmer. This has been furnished without cost to every leading farm paper in the United States. If the farmer does not read it in his farm paper it will probably be because the editor does not care to use his columns for discussion of economic questions and government policies that directly affect the farmer.

Mr. Lubin said: "In the application of business methods of distribution America, until the present administration, was about 150 years behind Germany and several decades behind the rest of Europe. And yet in the very thing in which America is backward she should lead the world. She does not, because a clique of special interests dictated public opinion and controlled legislation through the bones of the Republican party. So cleverly have they worked that the average man is hypnotized, his critical faculties dulled.

"President Wilson is neither fooled nor led by this crowd. He is tireless, patient, far-seeing. He has a historic sense of the past, a sympathetic sense of the present and a prophetically spiritual sense of the future. While his head is above the clouds, his feet are always upon the earth. He is idealistic on the one side, on the other practical. He is a good business man. "He knows that good politics and good economics are the same thing. He is fearless; in all my relations with him, direct or indirect, I fail to find anything or anybody he is afraid of."

Consoling.

"What did you say your age was?" he remarked, between dances.

"Well, I didn't say," smartly returned the girl, "but I've just reached twenty-one."

"Is that so?" he returned consolingly. "What detained you?"—Exchange

All a Question of Interest.
Republican—My party always has taken a big interest in the farmer.
Democrat—Out of him you mean, and at the rate of 8 to 12 per cent a year.
