The Scio Tribune $1.50 a year

Films developed free at Peery's drug store.

Joe Morris, of Lebanon, was over last Sunday.

Albany's Round-up will be held next year on July 2, 3, and 4.

D. C. Thoms made a business trip to Jefferson and Salem Saturday.

Mrs. O. V. White gave a dinner party Tuesday evening for the school faculty.

Born, on November 8, to Mr. and Mrs. Alva Grimes, of Shelburn, a daughter.

Miss Ina Parrish returned home Sunday evening from a week's visit in Portland.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Mrs. Ohlemeyer will close out a line of this fall up-to-date millinery at $2 per hat. Come in and see them.

It is unfortunate that our Main street must remain in an unfinished condition during the winter just at hand.

George Bilyeu, having won a span of buggy horses on the election, he hitched them to a new buggy and drove home Saturday.

When in need of anything in the way of job work, call and see us. We do first-class work at reasonable prices.

It is reported that the old hotel building on the south side is to be torn down and another building suitable for business will be erected in its place.

Scio had her first touch of winter Sunday night. All day Saturday a cold north wind prevailed. Sunday morning thin ice and a crustal ground was in evidence.

For Sale—Close in acreage to Lebanon, acre tracts, highly developed. Easy terms, interest 6 per cent. Write Helen V. Crawford, Lebanon.

Early November has certainly broken the record for frugidity this time. This editor does not remember its equal during a residence of 46 years in the state.

No sooner is election over than talk of a new logging railroad is sprung onto the people in Linn county. Wilson's election is not much of a bugbear after all.

A letter from Frank Shelton, who is mining in Northern California, informs The Tribune that he has changed his postoffice address from Yreka to Lewiston, Calif.

About all of the election wagers made in Scio, were paid Thursday. Dean Morris declared prosperity had arrived and showed about all the 20s he could hold in his hand as an evidence, last Thursday.

Miles Cary was moved from the hospital to the home of his brother, Frank, last Saturday morning. Dr. Prill says he has recovered physically, but the injury to his head is still affecting his mental qualities.

Good printing can be obtained only where the proper types, presses, material and expert workmanship is found. The Tribune office possesses all of these requisites and the prices are right.

Mrs. Frank Gill, Mrs. Ed Myers, O. V. White and the corps of school teachers were entertained Wednesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Thoms. Candy and pop were served.

Riley Shelton was a business visitor in Albany Monday.

Frank Dobrkovsky was bound over to the grand jury for cruelty to his family.

Jack Waltemeyer is making the repairs to the condensery building made necessary by Tuesday's fire.

W. W. Crawford and wife and some Ford automobile men were over from Albany Wednesday evening.

M. E. Roth, of Goltra station and one of Linn county's substantial farmers, was in town yesterday afternoon.

The cold snap has moderated greatly as we go to press. But small damage has resulted, so far as we can learn.

The rock crusher, which has supplied the material for our streets, was moved up to the Geo. Rodgers neighborhood Monday.

Miss Blanche Kopecky arrived Tuesday evening from Portland for a two week's visit with her sister, Mrs. H. A. Stepanek.

Mrs. B. F. Titus was called up to the home of Frank Gooch, of above Lyons last Friday on account of Mrs. Gooch's illness.

Mrs. Margaret Bishop, the eldest daughter of Mrs. J. W. Compton, arrived from California Saturday, on a visit with her mother.

An operation was performed on the person of Mrs. M. F. Cole, of near Scio Monday, by Dr. B. R. Wallace at the Albany hospital. The operation was a success and Mrs. Cole is expected to recover in good shape.

The Marion county parent-teachers association held a convention in Salem Saturday. There were forty delegates present and a great deal of interest manifested. H. C. Seymour, of Corvallis, delivered the principal address. Mrs. D. C. Thoms and Miss Delight Forbes attended from Scio.

Newt Morrison was greatly surprised Tuesday when looking over an invoice of goods purchased. He found one item in which the cost price was reduced below the previous cost price, instead of increased, as is almost invariably the case in all lines of goods. It is safe to say the item was not paper.

County Judge D. B. McKnight and Commissioner J. D. Irvine were over from Albany and Lebanon Wednesday afternoon. F. E. McKnight, of Vale, Ore., brother of the Judge, accompanied the party. F. E. is one of the big sheep men out in his section and has become wealthy in the business, chiefly within the past four years. Though a staunch republican, he has become convinced of the cry "free trade has ruined the sheep industry."

Fire at the Condensery

Just about 1 p. m. Tuesday the fire alarm brought the fire department and the people out instantly. The fire apparatus was soon on its way to the condensery, where the fire was. The roof on the east end of the main building was set afire from sparks from the smokestack of the boiler room, situated some 50 feet from the main building.

The response of the fire department was so prompt, that small damage resulted. The chemical engine was at work within five minutes from the sounding of the alarm, as an auto pulled it to the scene of action at railroad speed. The damage was probably $50.

Manager Peery thinks the damage is about $150, as the chemical engine fluid spoiled a tank of sterilized milk. The milk was not included in the above estimate. The damage is fully covered by insurance.

Hacks, Surreys and Buggies

We still have some hacks, surreys and buggies; also, two manure spreaders, which we offer on the market at very low prices. We intend to close out these lines regardless of price.

If you are in the market for any of these goods, be sure and see us before you purchase elsewhere, as I am positive that we can save you 15 per cent on your purchase.

Yours for business
Chas. Wesely.

A company has been organized in Portland to build an extension of the Oregon Electric up into the timber belt in the Cascadia country. This is cheering news for our Sweet Home friends.
