

LOCAL BREVITIES

The Scio Tribune, $1.50 the year

The effort to build a gymnasium for the public schools, seems in a fair way to be successful.

A gift any young lady will appreciate, a handsome box of chocolates. Sticha's Confectionery.

The city government is safe. The new council will not be extravagant but will move ahead with city improvement.

For Sale—Close in acreage to Lebanon, acre tracts, highly developed. Easy terms, interest 6 per cent. Write Helen V. Crawford, Lebanon.

Everybody did their visiting during Thanksgiving week and as a consequence, personal notices are scarce this week.

Mrs. J. A. Bilyeu gave a goose dinner Thanksgiving afternoon. N. Young, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Cyrus and Frank Morris being the invited guests.

When in need of anything in the way of job work, call and see us. We do first-class work at reasonable prices.

Federated church services next Sunday morning and evening. Subject in the evening, "The Young Man." Special music for the evening service.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Services will be held at the Catholic church next Sunday at 9 a. m. Father Henry will officiate and preach. The public is cordially invited.

Jack Waltemeyer says his move to Stayton is not an absolute certainty. At all events, the Scio Dramatic Club is to keep up its organization.

The new city council will not be apt to change the methods of the present council materially. We may expect street improvement to be continued along present lines.

Arctic owls appear to be numerous. From this fact weather sharps are predicting a severe winter. From present indications the weather man seems to be standing in with them.

Forty quarts of whiskey were stolen from the police station in Albany one night recently. Chief Catlin will have to get a burglar proof safe in which to store his contraband goods.

Our city hall, judging from outside appearance, needs a good stout man to lean against. A small amount of money would save the building, otherwise a good heavy wind will muss things up considerably.

Dr. Turner, formerly of Lowe & Turner, the well known eye specialist of Portland, will be in Scio again Thursday, December 14, at Hotel Scio. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened, satisfaction guaranteed. Consult him.

John Wesely has no ad in the paper this week, yet his sale is still on. He says he means business and that the "close out to quit business" is a fact. If his sacrifice in the price of goods is a criterion, we are forced to conclude that he is in earnest.

Read the ads of our business men in this issue. They are invitations to visit their places of business. Be neighborly and give everyone a chance. They may, and probably have, bargains to offer you. Anyway, you should give your home merchant a chance to make good.

Special candies at special prices for Christmas at Sticha's.

Christmas will soon be here judging from the ads coming in this week.

The city election did not attract very great attention. The market for votes was extremely dull.

Would like to store a good piano with responsible family, who will give it good care, or will sell cheap and on terms. For full particulars send your name and address to post-office box 75, Scio, Ore.

La Valliers and neck chains command the attention of all well dressed ladies. Our stock never was so complete for the holiday trade as it is just now. We have solid gold ones from $3 up. F. M. French & Son, Jewelers and Engravers, Albany.

The Thanksgiving dinner at the Scio hotel was simply a feast. The turkey was young, juicy and well cooked. A finer meal could not be found anywhere. The only trouble to most of us who were the diners, we had no use whatever for supper in the evening.

R. J. Noble, of four miles from Albany, had his right hand so mutilated in a feed chopper last Friday that a thumb and finger had to be amputated, drove his car guided with his left hand into Albany, before his injured hand was properly dressed. Plenty of nerve.

Bracelet Watches never were so popular with the ladies as they are at the present. We are showing a large variety of styles and have some attractive bargains. Come and see our wonderful display of Christmas gifts. F. M. French & Son, Jewelers and Engravers, Albany.

A lecture "That Girls Fellow" will be given at the High school auditorium tomorrow evening by George Harrison Feese. The lecture will be well worth hearing. One half the proceeds to be applied on the erection of the school gymnasium.

Scio had her first snow storm Tuesday. After raining all night, the wind whipped about to the north and the rain was converted to snow at about 8:30 a. m. In one and a half hours the ground was white. The flakes were large, giving promise of a heavy fall of the "beautiful."

The year 1916 has been extremely unusual. Nevertheless we have had abundant crops, the general weather conditions throughout the year ordinarily would indicate a short crop. But as crops never fail in the Willamette valley the present year is up to and in some particulars above the average.

A chicken pie supper at the Domestic Science room Friday evening, December 8, from 5:30 to 7:30. It will cost you 25 cents to eat—the proceeds to be divided between the gymnasium and the piano for the Federated church. The women behind the affair, say it will be all right, so you had better attend.

Thomas Smail, a loyal supporter of The Tribune, sends in word that Mrs. Smail gave a splendid dinner—a large fat goose being the central dish—of which a number of friends besides Tom Smail, Mrs. Smail and all of the younger Smails partook. Mrs. L. W. Pomeroy, of this city and mother of Mrs. Smail, was the guest of honor.

Mrs. Sarah Morris accompanied her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Peery to their home in Springfield, last week. If she has returned The Tribune has not heard of it. Mrs. Morris enjoys a visit with her children and we will not hold any grudge against her if she stays another week or so. But Dean and Roll will soon get lonesome and we will not agree to be responsible for them more than another week.

MIDGET

The Watch for Hand-Bags

IT is becoming a national habit among women to carry the Midget in their hand-bags, not only because it tells time truthfully, but because it stands the many little bumps and jars it naturally gets during a day's shopping.

Besides, it is not expensive to replace, if lost. The price is $2.50

F. M. French & Son,
Jewelers and Engravers, Albany

Farmers

We are in the market for your fat hogs at 75 cents per hundred below Portland market. This is a condition the farmers in Scio vicinity have wanted for some time. Heretofore we have been buying on $1 per hundred under Portland market and we now ask the support of the farmers to make it a paying proposition.

For the last two weeks we have been paying 9 cents at West Scio and have got good stuff, which is necessary to maintain this margin. All we ask is for the farmers to finish their hogs and we will do the rest by giving you good square weights and the price.

We want your fat hogs, sheep and cattle and will soon be in the market for some grade Durham cows, coming fresh before March 1 and some two-year-old heifers bred to freshen in the spring.
