

LOCAL BREVITIES

The Scio Tribune, $1.50 the year.

Oh yes, Guy McKnight will buy sitting hens.

A. E. Edwards, foreman of The Tribune office, went to Albany last Saturday.

What was left of the John Wesely stock of goods was packed up and shipped to Portland this week.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Hogs were sold at Denver, Colo., this week for $13.05 per hundred, the highest price for live hogs ever paid at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther W. Muzzy, of south Scio were made happy by the arrival of a 10 pound boy, on Washington's birthday.

Our R.F.D. men had a rather tough time last week. They would have liked to have Washington's birthday cover the entire week.

For Sale—10 tons of cheat hay and 10 tons of alsike clover hay, baled and in good condition. Inquire at The Tribune office.

John Miller, of just across the river in Marion county and who has charge of a milk route for the condensery, covered his route with a bob sled last Sunday.

Last year John T. Brock, of southeast of town, planted 1000 prune trees to which he has just added 500 more, making an orchard of 1500 trees, which will be in bearing in four or five years.

The elegant supper at Hotel Scio on Tuesday night of last week given by the Knights of Pythias of this city on the occasion of the anniversary of Pythianism, was said to be an elegant affair. The item was overlooked in our issue of last week.

The men who bought the John Wesely stock of goods, had an extremely bad week for their much advertised sale. Every day was so stormy that but few people came to town, consequently their sales were small, nevertheless the slaughter in prices.

Last week was easily the worst week of the winter. It was severe on the R. F. D. carriers, the milk route haulers, young lambs and poor cows. The rural route carriers and the milk haulers will survive. Many of the lambs and poor cows have passed to the Great Beyond.

Frank Thayer says he is still a grasswidower, as Mrs. Thayer is in Lebanon caring for her father, Uncle Ben Irvine. Mr. Irvine is now past his 88th year and, while his health is fairly good for his age, every bad cold or ailment of any kind, is a source of anxiety to his children.

Recently the Harrisburg papers, the Bulletin and the Commonwealth, were consolidated. Last week the Stayton Mail and the Standard, of that city, were united, Mr. Olmsted, former editor of the Mail, retiring. No doubt the high cost of newspaper production was the cause in each instance.

The Tribune received a very nice stamped envelope the stamp canceled of course, from C. C. Chapman of the Oregon Voter last Saturday, without anything being inclosed. We suspect Chap wanted to favor us with one of his excellent editorials, but after more mature thought concluded that it was too good to send to a county news paper and sent into his composing room instead.

For Sale—Close in acreage to Lebanon, acre tracts, highly developed. Easy terms, interest 6 per cent. Write Helen V. Crawford, Lebanon.

The State Board of Control has sold a car load (1500 bushels) to Montana buyers at $2 per bushel, of state owned flax fiber seed. This is the first car of this seed ever shipped from the state.

The main trouble with our legislators is, far too many of them are but small tax payers and view taxation as but a trifling matter. They know that a heavy tax burden will rest but lightly upon themselves individually and "let her go Ghalager" is the feeling. None but men of financial responsibility should be elected to that office.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Jefferson High school glee club will be at Scio March 2. They will give an entertainment in the High school auditorium.

Lovina Bauman and Ethel Ingram returned from Salem Monday evening, where they had been attending an Endeavor convention.

Kenneth White has returned to school this week after being sick with lagrippe.

The seniors are selecting a play, which they will give at the end of the school year.

A basket ball game will be played between the S. H. S. team and the Richardson Gap boys Thursday night.

The domestic science class have started sewing on their summer dresses.

Miss Forbes' room and the High school met in the assembly hall and spent about half an hour singing Wednesday morning.

A program in honor of Washington's birthday was given in the assembly room Thursday morning by the Freshman class. Dr. Gesselbrach, of Albany, gave a splendid address on Washington. After this the school was dismissed for the remainder of the day.

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

Just in the worst of our winter, as we have had some ten days of snow and which was rather unexpected. But as winter has to come it will be here if it takes till June. Stock is fairing rough, feed is getting scarce and March has just come which gets the poor stock. March is always the hardest month on stock.

The Pie Eater has been having quite a sick spell, the past week and still feels like the faded rose of summer looks, hardly able to go.

G. A. Griffin is having a time with the sore eyes. I am not sure whether it is the botts or pink eye.

Miss Ella Smith returned home Thursday from Mill City, where she has been waiter at the company's hotel. She expects to return Tuesday as a domestic girl.

Miss Nina Small returned home Monday after a weeks visit in Portland with her aunt. As it was a stormy week, the scenery was not what she expected to see.

Uncle Tom Small lost his finest cow Monday as she was passing out of the feed barn. She caught her hind foot in a crack in the doorway and pitched forward, falling with her head and nose in a mud hole and drowned in a few minutes. She was worth $100. His son Lyman came up from Portland Sunday, returning Monday, taking his sister, Nina to Portland to visit her aunt, Elva, and take in the sights of the city. She had never been there before.

Chas. Walker, of Buzzard Roost, visited with his old friend, Geo. A. Griffin the latter part of last week.

Banquet For Mr. Hornbrook

plies from a number of out of town members of the party indicating that they will be present at the banquet, but it is desired that all local democrats shall be present. The idea has prevailed in some quarters that admission is upon invitation. This is erroneous, every democrat will be welcome and expected to be present.

"Among those who will probably address the meeting will be: Oswald West, Judge S. White, S. M. Garland, Arthur Clarke, Frank Myers, H. M. Esterly, and Hon. Milton A. Miller.—Albany Democrat.

A NEW DEAL

On November 1, I purchased the Densmore-Wade Produce business and have been in charge of the same since that date.

I am in the market for your Eggs, Chickens, Geese, Ducks, Turkeys, Dressed Hogs, Veal etc., for which I will pay the highest market price. My weights are right and I will treat you fairly. I want your Cream as well. Bring it to me in good condition, you will be satisfied with the tests and the price. I am at my place of business from 5 a. m. until business closes in the evening, so that you will always find me on hand. Give me a trial and if I don't treat you right, go elsewhere
