

LOCAL BREVITIES

Peery's for post cards. A select-ed appropriate assortment.

If the inquiry for hay is a criterion, the crop in this vicinity is short.

Even if we should get rain now the late spring grain will make but a light crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Stover and two children, of Salem, are visiting at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rays.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Coffey, of McMinnville, are visiting relatives and friends in this city.

General Manager Daggett, of the Scio and Newberg condenseries, came up from Newberg Saturday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. T. K. Sanderson and children autoed to Portland, Sunday, returning on the following morning.

"A wise man regardeth the life of his beast." "Woodlark" fly spray drives flies from cows.

Peery's Drug Store.

And still there is no movement towards grading Mill street in order to do away with the usual loblolly of mud in the winter.

Auto Robes, any price, from $4.00 up to $20.00. Before you send or go away to get a robe, call and see what we have. N. I. Morrison.

Property owners along the first street west of Main, are grading the same and will, later, place a 16-foot surface of crushed rock.

J. M. Meleklzohn and Ed Balsch-weid commenced placing a new foundation under the flour house for the Scio Milling Co., Wednesday morning.

Dr. T. K. Sanderson and family expect to leave for an auto trip up in the Eastern Oregon country. They will leave about August 1 and be gone for a month.

The warm weather and the drying of pasture grass, has materially reduced the milk flow of our dairy cows, consequently the milk supply at the condensery is not so large.

Mrs. G. H. Jett and son, Lowell, of Portland, are visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. D. C. Thoma. Lieut. G. H. Jett, who is on the U. S. ship South Dakota, is some place at sea, having been away for three months.

The ice cream lawn social held on the city park block, last Friday evening, is said to be have been highly successful. A most enjoyable time was had and $12 to $13 was added to the fund for which the affair was given.

Lloyd Carson left Tuesday to join his company at Albany. The company is now to be kept at the armory there until ordered to mobilize at Fort Stevens at the mouth of the Columbia, where the boys will be drilled in the handling of heavy guns.

The front window of The Tribune office has been quite an attractive place lately. 'Cause why? It contains the precinct names of those subject to draft and their serial numbers. We hope to have the official list of those drawn for the draft in next week's issue. No Linn county men will be called for the first draft as her quota has been filled with volunteers.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Gibbons, of Shelburn and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laird, drove down to Portland, Sunday, to take a ride on the Columbia highway. They were greatly pleased with the trip, but say Sunday is not a good day for the country auto to tackle such a trip on the highway as autos are a little to thick for comfort and safety. They returned Monday morning.

Picnic lunch sets at Peery's 10c and 25c.

New line of 25c bathing caps at Peery's.

E. M. Kimball, of the Jordan mills, now drives a handsome new 1½ ton truck.

North street is now being graded preparatory to surfacing with crushed rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris C. Bilyeu, went up Crabtree to Clarks mill, for a few days outing yesterday.

Mrs. J. S. Morris and daughter, Miss Bessie, were over to Newport, last week, on a short vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Thoma motored to Portland last Saturday morning returning Sunday evening.

If you want an extra good inner tube, see Peery's. Extra heavy—extra tough—extra everything but price.

S. C. Jackson and R. J. Logan, of Seattle, and chief owners of our condensery, were here looking after business this week.

E. C. Peery, P. H. MacDonald and E. D. Myers appraised the estate of the late Chas. Wesely, Tuesday, placing its value at about $23,000.

Several of the boys here, who will be called by the draft, are talking of volunteering. By doing so they can choose the branch of the service which they prefer.

John Miller reports that the Shelburn ferry was placed in commission yesterday. It is hoped the guy cable is of sufficient size to stand the strain in the future.

The Cooper Clan has held a big family reunion in Stayton, at the home of John Gildow. About fifty relatives of Oregon, Washington and California were present.

A very slight sprinkle, this morning with a fairly good breeze from the south, caused a smile to spread on the faces of Scioans. Prospects for a shower are in evidence.

A good many of these I. W. W. agitators and German sympathizers, who fomented many strikes, are now pounding rock at various places and earning an honest appetite.

The Albany Herald is authority for the statement that from 30 to 40 automobiles loaded with tourists, pass through the "Hub" city, daily, most of them going north. Very few if any of them stop long enough in Albany to say howdy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rodgers invited in about twenty of their neighbors Tuesday eve. Cards and music were the features of entertainment. Dainty refreshments were served and at a late hour the guests departed, having spent a most delightful eve.

The Tribune is not on the war path, though it is hunting for a German. It has received a letter written in German. We do not know if the letter is commendatory or condemnatory. We simply know that it is German and only a German can translate it.

The Tribune posted the draft number list in a front window, last week, which has attracted a little attention. It gives the personal draft number of each individual subject to draft in North Scio, South Scio, Shelburn, Providence, Jordan and Santiam precincts. If you do not know your number, you can learn what it is by calling at The Tribune office.

Pay Up Notice

All persons knowing themselves indebted to the estate of the late Charles Wesley, please call and settle the same or make satisfactory arrangements for settlement without fail on or before August 15, 1917. I desire to settle up the estate as soon as possible, so please respond to this notice.

Joseph F. Wesely, Executor.

Albany Has Home Guards

The Home Defense League of Linn County was permanently organized in Albany Monday night. W. G. Ballack was elected captain, Dan Johnson, first lieutenant and E. S. Hawker, second lieutenant. The services of the organization were tendered to Sheriff D. H. Bodine.

This action was taken in consequence of advice from Governor Withycombe that the protection of life and property in this county was in the hands of Sheriff Bodine. Eighty men, representing the substantial citizenship of the city and county, have joined the Home Defense League and other communities have expressed a desire to co-operate.
