

LOCAL BREVITIES

Save your gasoline tickets.

Ed Flemming is now chambermaid and proprietor of the Scio livery stable.

The Tribune now has a new wood shed and is prepared to receive that load of wood you promised to bring.

Preserve your tickets, they save money when you buy gasoline at Peerys.

Manager Cornwell, of the condensery, was doing business in Albany Tuesday.

Miss Helen Crawford, of Lebanon came over Friday morning for a few days visit with The Tribune family.

City Recorder J. S. Sticha was able to be on the streets Sunday for the first time for two or three weeks.

5 gallons of gasoline at 20 cents per gallon if accompanied with $1 worth of tickets from Peery's cash register.

Peter Bilyeu, of Tigardville, Ore., came over from Albany Saturday afternoon for a visit with his brothers, Jack and Hub.

A. M. Hammer and L. E. Hamilton and ladies, of Albany, were over Monday afternoon in the interest of United States food conservation.

Don't take time to come to town every time you need anything in our line. Just phone or mail your order to Everett, he will send the goods by first mail after its receipt.

Dr. Prill was called professionally to Aumsville Saturday and on his return reported the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, of that place.

The Columbia river will soon be without a line of steamers to San Francisco, now that the Rose City boats have been requisitioned by the government.

The water is again so low in Thomas creek that the aid of steam has become necessary with which to operate the light plant when extra light power is required.

Everett makes a specialty of Toilet preparations and his stock always contains an excellent assortment of what is newest and best. If its worthy, we have it first.

Albany has a small glove factory which will, probably, grow as the managers are business men and will not be content with a small business. They are tanners as well as glove makers, so the dogs had better look out.

Tom Large was successful in rustling for milk over in the Albany prairie Saturday. The $2.50 per hundred pounds proves attractive to farmer milkers. Two or three new routes will soon be in operation over there.

We are in receipt of Vol. 1 No. 1 of the Lone Independent, with L. W. Charles as editor. The Independent has a good advertising patronage and the news columns seem to be well filled. We wish Brother Charles success in his new field.

The milk supply is growing daily at the condensery. One month from now 25,000 to 30,000 pounds of milk will be received daily. With the same line of customers, next spring, when the milk flow is the heaviest, not less than 50,000 pounds will be the daily receipt.

A big road meeting with a chicken dinner was held out south of town Tuesday. The Tribune man acknowledges an invitation but because of the duty of supplying the composing room with copy, we could not go. All the same South Scio is doing a large amount of excellent road work this year.

Gasoline tickets issued on accounts when paid within 30 days.

15 per cent saving on your gasoline with tickets at Peerys.

George Daley was reported to be quite sick yesterday, with symptoms of appendicitis.

Cash for veal and eggs. Daily quotations received. Get our prices. Sanitary Market.

C. O. Metzgar, Pacific coast representative of the Unitype company, was in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Abbott, who retired from the Scio hotel October 1, were moving their household goods to their little farm south of town Wednesday.

The Tribune man, having been wished into the office of justice of the peace, will make a wedding present of a set of kitchen cutlery to the first couple who presents themselves to him for marriage.

John Wesely and family are home again after a two-months visit to relatives and friends in Kansas. John says Kansas is a good country in which to make money, but Oregon is the place in which to live and Scio in particular, is the best place in Oregon.

Thomas Laird, who has had charge of the Peery drug store for the past 20 months, expects to go to Portland about November 1 to remain. Mr. Laird is a very competent pharmacist and an excellent store manager. The Tribune regrets to have Mr. and Mrs. Laird leave our town. They are excellent people and we, especially the younger set, will miss them. The Tribune wishes them success in whatever field they may engage.

Dr. Turner, the well known eye specialist of Portland, will be in Scio again Saturday, Oct. 27 at the hotel parlor. Dr. Turner is a specialist of experience and standing and you will make no mistake in consulting him about your eyes and glasses. Headaches relieved, cross eyes straightened, satisfaction guaranteed. Consult him. Don't forget the date.

Drain Your Farm

We have just received a car load of cement tiling. They are porous and the water goes through them like a sieve and is more durable and superior to tiling that only lets the water in at the joints. We intend to carry a stock on hand all the time. Investigate their merits before purchasing your drainage material.

N. I. Morrison.

Misplaced Confidence

A lone elk wandered down from the mountains a week or two ago and was visiting numerous farmers in the vicinity of Oak creek near Tallman. From thence he turned north but visited the wrong farm where a man named Doughten killed him last week. The fine for killing an elk is $1000 and one year imprisonment. His elkship having confidence in the protection of Oregon game laws, started out on an exploring expedition to see what the broad Willamette valley and cultivated farms looked like. He found out and Farmer Doughten will probably find out that elk shooting is expensive.

Saturday and Monday
