The Santiam Pharmacy has a nice line of initial tablets.

Mr. Campbell, of Albany, was in town Tuesday, shaking hands with relatives and friends.

Dr. Hobson reports the birth of a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Powell Wednesday.

"Spee Dee" the gritless hand taste. 27 ounces for 25 cents at Santiam Pharmacy.

The Scio Meat Market will pay the highest cash price for all kinds of hides. No tare deducted.

About 80 per cent of the men listed for draft in Linn county, claim exemption for one cause or another.

John Cyrus, of just across the South Santiam river near the C. & E. bridge, was doing business in Scio Tuesday.

Mrs. J. F. Beard was called to the home of her only living brother of near Lebanon, last Saturday, who is dangerously ill.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Amil Posvar, of near Scio, and Miss Marie Groulik were married January 2. They left for a two-weeks visit to Corvallis and other points.

It is a peculiar fact that all men cannot see alike. Men will differ diametrically about the same matter yet be absolutely honest in their opinions.

Born—On January 2, to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Shelton, of Mt. Pleasant a 12-pound boy. Mrs. Shelton is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Thayer, of this city.

Mrs. Ida Cummings, county school superintendent, was in town Saturday to supervise the election of a new school board and straighten out the school tangle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rodgers spent the holidays in Portland and Washington visiting friends and relatives. While they were absent, Jim Bilyeu served as chore boy for them on the farm.

Floyd Carson, who enlisted last summer in the 5th or Albany company coast artillery, has been transferred to E battery, 65th heavy artillery, and may be sent to France soon.

The annual telephone meeting brought W. Wilson, of near Jefferson, to Scio Saturday. His Scio visits do not occur more than two or three times a year, which are generally on telephone business.

The Tribune is informed the Jordan flouring mill is grinding wheat for farmers at 20 cents per bushel. The farmer gets everything, flour, middlings, shorts and bran yet, it is claimed, the flour costs the farmer but $1.23 per sack. It is intimated that the Jordan mill has all it can do.

The Tribune is informed that some dissatisfaction resulted from last Saturday's school meeting. As The Tribune man was not there nor is a legal sharp, we are not able to pass an opinion, good or bad. Though we have no children to educate, our neighbor has and we feel that our boys and girls should have the best educational advantage we can give them and The Tribune is willing to give its best efforts in that direction. We should do our duty as citizens and taxpayers, even if we do have to dig down in our pockets a little deeper at tax paying time.

Elmer Griffin and Tom Leffler were Albany visitors Tuesday.

See our window and get acquainted with Alphonse antiseptic tablets—non-poisonous. Santiam Pharmacy

Frank Ellsworth, an employe of the Hammond Lumber Co., of Mill City, was drowned in the North Santiam river, Monday morning. Ellsworth was well known in Albany

The state supreme court has rendered a decision on the Hyde school land cases, by which the title to 9130 acres, obtained fraudulently by Hyde, reverts to the state.

President Kerr, of O. A. C. has not attempted, so far as we have learned to substantiate the statement made by him that he was offered $9000 per year to take charge of the Kansas agricultural college. President Kerr may be content to leave the matter as it is and which has netted him $1400 per year, but the people are not. They are not content to have such a stigma attached to the name of the president of their leading college.

The Tribune is working for the welfare and development of Scio and that section of Linn county known as the forks of the Santiam. It is not nor will not be partisan in its political activities, other than it will not favor any man for office, from the highest to the lowest, who is not a loyal supporter of our government in her time of need. If you want to support your local newspaper, which advocates these views at all times, as an old soldier should, we will be glad to place your name on our subscription book

Sold His Farm

On Monday of this week, Don McKnight concluded the sale of his farm of 115 acres to John Shimanek. The purchase price was something over $5000, which included a small amount of personal property.

Mr. McKnight gave possession at once and has moved into town and is occupying the Wann property. Mr. Shimanek is one of our progressive and successful farmers and is a member of the state lime board.

An Open Letter

To the Stayton Basket Ball Boys:
On the spur of the moment at our recent game with you boys, I did something which, after having time to think it over, I regret very much. When I refused to pay the $6 agreed upon for your expenses I put myself in the same class as the man who was referee in the game and I assure you now that I am very sorry.

Before our game was played I thought it would be a good clean game of basket ball and to tell the truth I did not know who would win. I knew your professor would referee and I sure was satisfied that he would be square. I see now that I was very much mistaken in the man because no square man would steal a game of any kind from a team of boys. Especially does it look bad for a man who is the professor of a large high school like yours to go to a neighboring town and try to win a game of basketball by unfair refereeing. Now honestly boys, do you feel as good as you would have if you had beaten us in a fair square game?

Enclosed please find $6 in currency for your expenses that night and if you boys would like to see who has the better team, I am sure we will be glad to arrange another game with a fair referee.

Very truly yours
Edwin J. Holland
Manager "Scio Eagles"
