

SCHOOL NOTES

The Scio high school will give a 3-act comedy, "Brother Josiah," the first week in April. It is for the benefit of the high school and Junior Red Cross. The school orchestra will furnish music.

The Music Study Club musicale last Friday evening brought out a large crowd. Lack of space prevents publishing the program which was well rendered.

School note in Lebanon Express: "Our basketball girls journeyed to Scio Friday and defeated the girl's team which made a futile attempt to conquer our lassies a few weeks ago on our floor. They were beaten in both games, the score of the latter being ed here. Managers over the county should study the situation seriously before attempting to schedule a game with this team. Hereafter Scio will have to show us the goods before we will notice her existence. As it is, we in the state should try to reduce the size of the word S-C-I-O on his map still smaller."

We admit the girls lost to Lebanon, but a team that can't win by more than one or two points is not in the first class. The Lebanon paper didn't print the last score (12-15) but only said it "ed here," whatever that means. The Lebanon players would put up a good prize fight if called upon. The ref. could not see their rough playing but penalized Scio on least offense. Scio would like to meet Lebanon in track work. The Lebanon high school can't beat the Scio Eagles at basketball.

Whereas, God in his wisdom has seen fit to remove from our membership one of our most esteemed pupils by death in this city March 15, of Cyril Arnold;

Whereas we recognize that in his removal from our midst this school has suffered an irrepairable loss in being deprived of his kindly and courteous companionship; therefore be it

Resolved by the grammar and high school students of Scio public school assembled, that we hereby publicly express our heartfelt sympathy with the family and relatives of our late schoolmate in this their great affliction and the great sorrow of every teacher and pupil of this school and over the loss we severally and collectively sustain.

A Valuable Ram

Over at Bend, in what was formerly Crook County, a banker gave a dinner to the sheep men of that locality. About 150 were present and the dinner was patriotically enthusiastic throughout.

One of the features of the occasion was the sale of a thoroughbred ram at auction, which had been contributed to the Red Cross. The animal was sold over and over at prices ranging from $5 to $1000, the bid of R. N. Stanfield, who wants to be United States Senator. The total of the sales reached $5000. Arrangements were made to have this innocent looking ram visit many points in the state where like auctions will be held.

During the Civil war someone in Nevada contributed a sack of flour to the Sanitary Commission, the Red Cross of those days. On the public square of Virginia City that sack of flour, like the Bend ram, was sold over and over, netting the Commission thousands of dollars. The fever 'took' and this sack of flour was sold in all of the principal cities, north in the United States, increasing the Sanitary Commission many thousands of dollars. Will the Bend sheep result likewise?

SHELburn ITEMS

Henry F. Wyman, a marine stationed at Mare Island, Cal., is home on a 14-day furlough. He is looking well.

Mrs. Charles W. Henzel of Napavine, Wash., returned home Sunday. She had been with her mother, Mrs. Wyman, the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Powell spent last Sunday at Jefferson with home folk. His mother spent last week visiting with son and family.

Mrs. W. Bilyeu of Scio, organized a Red Cross auxiliary at Shelburn last Saturday. The officers chosen are, Mrs. George Miller, president;

Miss Anna Lyons, secretary; Mrs. W. Miller, treasurer; Mrs. J. L. Oglesbee, superintendent of sewing. There are eighteen charter members with more to follow.

Otto Lyons, who has been at Portland the past two weeks, returned Sunday.

Farmers are busy every day with their spring work trying to help solve the U. S. food problem.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Miss Helen Rosser of Crabtree, was operated on last Monday and is doing as well as could be expected.

Charles Kruml, who had a serious operation recently, is improving rapidly.

Mrs. Charles Hodges is at the hospital for a few days' treatment for throat trouble.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bowman was brought to the hospital Friday. X-ray pictures showed both bones of the left forearm broken as the result of a fall from a sidewalk near home. The fracture was adjusted and patient sent home next day.

Miss Russell of Stayton, is undergoing treatment for some very serious burns to the lower limbs, caused by the accidental spilling of a teakettle of boiling water. She is doing as well as could be expected.

The hospital is undergoing extensive improvements this week, being supplied with the latest model of hospital beds and other equipment necessary for first class service.

I. Hoagland moved to Portland last Friday and Guy McKnight has rented his residence.

Swift & Company
Publicity

At a recent hearing of the Federal Trade Commission there was introduced correspondence taken from the private files of Swift & Company, which showed that the Company had been considering for some time an educational advertising campaign.

The need for this publicity has been apparent to us for several years. The gross misrepresentation to which we have recently been subjected has convinced us that we should no longer delay in putting before the public the basic facts of our business, relying on the fair-mindedness of the American people.

The feeling against the American packer is based largely on the belief that the income and well-being of the producer and consumer are adversely affected by the packers' operations, resulting in unreasonably large profits.

Swift & Company's net profit is reasonable, and represents an insignificant factor in the cost of living.

For the fiscal year 1917 the total sales and net profit of Swift & Company were as follows:

Sales $875,000,000.
Profits $34,650,000.

This is equivalent to a $3,465. profit on a business of $87,500.

If Swift & Company had made no profit at all, the cattle raiser would have received only one-eighth of a cent per pound more for his cattle, or the consumer would have saved only one-quarter of a cent per pound on dressed beef.
