The Tribune takes subscriptions for all the Portland dailies—Oregonian, Journal Telegram, News.

Henry Bilyeu and family returned from his Washington home Thursday. He reports the harvest up there below the average but increased acreage has given a larger aggregate yield.

Our boys have gone to war but our girls are still here to keep the home fires burning and they are doing it, too, almost as well as if the boys were at home.

Magnetic treatment wholly without drugs, every evening after six o'clock. Consultation free.—Dr. J. Murphy, Scio, Oregon. 48tf

John Kelly, the Gervais druggist, came up Saturday for a short stay among relatives and friends.

Mrs. Isabel Yarbrough, of Ashland, Oregon, is visiting relatives in this city. Her son Clifford has just arrived in France.

We make a specialty of Friendship, Engagement and Wedding Rings. F. M. French & Son, Albany, Oregon.

Charles Warner has brought his mother, Mrs. Dorn, and household goods from Silvertown and are living in the Pomeroy cottage, opposite the hospital.

So much wheat arrived at the Scio mills last Saturday that several loads had to be taken in without cleaning because of lack of power (water) to operate the cleaner.

KEEP OUT!—I have been annoyed with people running in and out of my pasture, knocking down fences, etc. So I hereby warn all persons not authorized by me to keep out. 1 John F. Kukaeka.

Clifford Compton, who has been working at Silvertown, spent Sunday at home.

The condensery is gaining in milk supply nevertheless the dry weather continues.

If you want a trailer for your auto truck or bus, see Jesse Rodgers about it. He can supply you quickly and at moderate prices. 15t

John W. Moore, manager of the Gates Mill Co., was down Saturday evening. He states the mill will be in operation in a week and has orders for lumber which will keep the mill busy for months ahead.

Fine Gravenstein apples for sale at $1 per bushel. C. U. Sandoz, Scio, Oregon. 2 2t

Guy McKnight came near having a disastrous fire at his slaughter house Sunday. The fire was started he thinks, from sparks from his cooking vat furnace. With help which was near at hand the blaze was put out without material damage.

Frank Titus, who had the livery and feed barn leased for some months, surrendered the lease and barn Saturday night. Walter Bilyeu, who is proprietor of the motor bus mail line, assumed possession of the barn as lessee Sunday morning and the barn will hereafter be headquarters for the bus line as well as jitneys for hire.

According to those who went from Scio, the farewell dance at Jordan was a successful and enjoyable affair. Much to his regret, owing to a slight indisposition, the printer was unable to attend and has felt bad about it ever since.

Dr. Prill is again looking after his practice. His several weeks' vacation seem to have given him a valuable and much needed rest.

For sale—Gray winter seed oats. V. M. Piip, R. F. D. 3, Scio. Place 4 1/2 miles east of Crabtree.

President Wilson expects to tour the country, parts of it at least, in the interests of the fourth liberty loan. It is thought his itinerary may bring him to the Pacific coast.

I. Hoaglund came up from Camas Saturday where he has been for several months. He is now located at Vancouver, Wash.

Dr. C. S. Kelsey, the husband of Erma Sutherland, is dead. The information was contained in a letter to Mrs. Kelsey's relatives in Scio.

Uncle Sam Gaines has a field of corn now ripening which he thinks cannot be surpassed this side of old Missouri. He says he will make George Griffin "go some" at the fair.

The Scio country has many good teams which fact can be seen if one will notice the teams hauling grain to the Scio mills. These good horses are due to the taste for good animals generated at our Linn County fair.

Dr. Prill captured a small octopus or devil fish at Newport and brought it home. It's an ugly looking beast and measures five feet across.

The Holecheck brothers, Jerry and Walter, who have been conducting the Scio Meat Market successfully for the past two or three years, have closed out their business and both brothers will go to war. Jerry has already been called and Walter expects to be in the next draft.

It might be a good idea for the city council to have some idle man hammer down the protruding nails in the bridge walks and many of the wooden sidewalks in town. The nails stick up enough to trip one unless very cautious in walking.

Let everybody make special effort to make our twelfth annual Linn county fair a success. This is a crucial year because of the war and dry weather, and unless we all make special endeavor both in exhibits and in attendance the fair may fall behind. Let us not starve the fair to death as was done when it was held at Albany years ago.

Joe Wesely came near having a disastrous fire Sunday. Desiring to burn the trash in a fence row he had handled the fire very nicely.

When as he thought the fire was about all extinguished he was called to the house to talk with a schoolmarm. Being somewhat uneasy he soon returned to look after the fire and found his orchard ablaze with the barn threatened. By brisk work the blaze was subdued without any damage other than scorching the leaves on his fruit trees. Moral: Don't talk to schoolmams.

COME ON With your livestock. Am shipping every week. Next loads out Tuesday and Saturday of next week. Will be shipping fat hogs, stock hogs, lambs, goats, or anything in the cattle line. Can use a few good fresh or springer cows. J. D. DENSMORE.

Bargaining.

If some of the professional men now in the army could hear their captains talk about their "actual worth" to "the outfit," their estimates of their own importance would change.

Two battery commanders had an argument recently, overhearing part of which the regimental adjutant undertook to adjust their differences. "What the difficulty?" he asked.

"He's trying to get a man away from my outfit," said No. 1.

"Well, I offered him a fair exchange," said No. 2.

"Who's the nan?" asked the adjutant.

"A rube skinner," said No. 1.

"What are you going to give him?"

"A banker, two salesmen and a lawyer," said No. 2.
