KAISER'S ABDICATION NOT YET ESTABLISHED

Actual Surrender of Hohenzollern Throne, it is Said, Has Never Been Officially Confirmed

Washington, Nov. 18.—Has Count William Hohenzollern really and officially abdicated as emperor of Germany? Cabled reports that Mr. or Count Hohenzollern intends to return to Germany served to revive interest in the foregoing question, which has been the subject of unofficial discussion here for some days.

It is recalled here that the abdication of the German kaiser never was officially confirmed. No official reports to that effect ever were received by the American state department, and so far as known there never was any abdication proclamation to the German people.

The news as it reached this country came from the German wireless station at Nauen, and it was subsequently followed by dispatches that Count or Mr. Hohenzollern had arrived in Holland. So far as this government is officially advised there is nothing to show that the kaiser had abdicated in fact and in good faith, but the inclination among officials and diplomats here is to believe that the former German emperor whether by his own act or by the decision of the new German government and the German people, has forfeited his crown.

The belief also is that his return to Germany might be the signal for a revolution in nowise equivocal and which would establish a republic in Germany.

Throne Is Renounced.

Paris, Nov. 19.—In order to end the discussion as to whether William Hohenzollern has really abdicated as German emperor, it is understood

SANTIAM FARM TOPICS

Farming is in full swing with more grain sown than any one year in the ten passed.

Potato digging is about over with a fair yield and prices good.

The sad news of the death of our nearest neighbor, Scott Turner, reached us the 17th from Liverpool, England, where he was last heard from September 25 in the vigor of health, anticipating the war would soon be over and he homeward bound. But alas, he will never return to the home of his childhood to the loving mother and brother and sister, who have long waited his return. Scott was a model young man and his many friends grieve to learn of his death.

Mr. Houston of Knox Butte was a caller Sunday. He took away a bushel of Pie Eater's Golden Beauty seed corn.

Uncle Tom Smail is at Gates falling timber for the Gates mill at $4 per day. His 12-year son Tommy is running the farm, milking, etc.

Uncle Pitt Wallace killed five corn fed hogs from 300 to 400 pounds, getting 20 cents the pound.

Miss Mespelt, our mail carrier, met a fine deer in the road near the Horsburgh house last week.

Our telephone line got out of commission Sunday. G. A. Griffin fixed it up Monday.

Mrs. Phoebe Turner is heart broken over the death of her son Scott. Miss Maggie Brock is bereaved of her best friend, as they parted with future intentions on his return.

Pie Eater ran up against another bad cold which filled his bronchial tubes which set the Old Man a ring or two of a coon's tail, making him feel like the last rose of summer.

Mrs. Della Crabtree was up Monday to console her mother in her sad bereavement.

From outside appearance of a buggy near the Hoffman bridge some one must have had a high old time. The horse must have tangled with a hornet's nest and got his tail over the dashboard and raised hell in general. The boy left the buggy walked home and went to bed, thankful he was alive.

the German government intends to publish his decree of abdication. This consists of an attempt to justify the war on the ground of Germany's isolation.

The abdication decree, according to the correspondent at Zurich of L'Information, concludes with these words:

"To avoid difficulties and to put an end to the mourning and suffering of my people I renounce the throne and leave my faithful subjects free to choose a government which seems to them most compatible with honor and to their interest."

NATION ASKED TO VOICE GRATITUDE

People May Justly Rejoice—Victory in War Brings Promise of New Day.

Washington, Nov. 17.—President Wilson in a proclamation today designated Thursday, November 28, as Thanksgiving day and said this year the American people have special and moving cause to be grateful and rejoice. Complete victory, he said, has brought not only peace but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which "justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations."

The proclamation:

"It has long been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for his many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice. God has in his good pleasure given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right. Complete victory has brought us not peace alone but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations.

"Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by another purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind. God has indeed been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of our national history. A new day shines about us in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

"While we render thanks for these things let us not forget to seek divine guidance in the performance of those duties and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose, and pray that in all that we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among nations.

"Wherefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the 28th day of November next as a day of thanksgiving and prayer and invite the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia this sixteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen and of the independence of the United States of America the 143d.

"WOODROW WILSON,
By the President,
Robert Lansing, Secretary of State"

SCHOOL NOTES.

The Scio schools resumed Monday after a five weeks close on account of Spanish flu.

The high school was glad to have two old students back—George and Mae Stoddart.

The Scio school has a service flag with 32 stars and though some of the boys are on the fighting line, so far there has been no casualty. The stars are for: Virgil Bilyeu, Chas. Balschweid, Mylo Bartu, Jean Bowman, Floyd Carson, Myrie Cyrus, Otto Compton, Lafe Compton, Otis Compton, Lionel Hibler, Lyle Hibler, Gail Jones, Darrel Johnson, Claire McClain, Arden McDonald, Fay McCann, Edwin Olson, Errol Sims, Wm. Sims, Wm. Wallace, Steve Young, J. S. Sticha, Si Phillips, N. Phillips, Russell McDonald, Gerald McDonald, Wm. Kallina, Frank Kruml, Ross Ray, Veral Tyndall, Orvil Gilkey. If there is any others to add, notify Van Bilyeu.

The freshmen number 34, the largest class in the high school.

The boys are planning a first class basket ball team. Last year they played 30 games and lost only 4.

Mooney, convicted of the bomb explosion at the San Francisco preparedness parade nearly two years ago, is under sentence to be hanged Friday, December 13. Pardon by Governor Stevens of California, is the only preventive of the noose on that date, it is said. Every other means, including two requests of President Wilson to commute his sentence, have failed.

Soldiers to Ride Cheaper.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Director-General McAdoo today announced his intention of establishing a reduced passenger rate of 2 cents a mile, instead of the usual 3 cents, for soldiers returning to their homes after discharge from the army.

By law the soldiers are allowed 3½ cents a mile for transportation and meals, and the special fare will enable them, Mr. McAdoo believes, to buy meals and pay for sleeping car reservations out of the allowance,

WILSON TO ATTEND PEACE CONFERENCE

White House Gives News—President Will Leave Right After Congress Opens.

Washington, Nov. 18.—President Wilson will attend the opening sessions of the peace conference. This was announced tonight officially.

He will go immediately after the convening of the regular session of congress on December 2.

The announcement said it was not probable the president would remain throughout the sessions, but that his presence at the beginning of the conference was necessary to obviate the disadvantages of discussion by cable in determining the greater outlines of the final treaty.

Obituary.

On Sunday, November 10, 1918, at his home five miles east of Scio, Ludwig Rahn died at the age of 77 years, 8 months, 6 days. He was born in Germany March 4, 1841.

Besides four grandchildren and other relatives and friends left to mourn his loss, are his widow and the following children: Emma L., Lena M., Grace M., Livena R. and Edwin E. at home; Ernest F. and Mrs. Ida E. Roberts, Scio; Louise M. Burtis, Portland; Minnie A. Jennings, Oregon City. Two sons, Fred C. and Lewis J., and two daughters preceded him to the Great Beyond.

George Sutherland conducted the services.

At The Peoples Theatre

After a seeming age since Scio attended a picture show, Manager Wesely announces that he will present the popular Bill Hart in "The Tiger Man." This news will please as the patrons of the theatre were on the verge of becoming "batty" from the lack of somewhere to go for amusement and recreation. The picture will be shown Saturday and Sunday evenings, and the show starts at 8 o'clock.
